

SHADY COVE Traffic Count Underway

By EVALYN P. WATSON
Shady Cove — The State Highway department has placed traffic counters in Shady Cove and other nearby places to get an official count of the vehicles using Highway 62 in this area.

The Highway department makes the traffic counts periodically in specified areas in the state in order to keep traffic maps up to date, according to Highway department officials. It does not necessarily mean that road work is being planned for the area, but serves as part of the perpetual record of traffic conditions kept by the state.

Members of the Hawks family of Shady Cove expressed their gratitude to those persons who aided in the search for Mrs. Max Hawks when she became lost in the Huckleberry lake area last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pierrard of Los Angeles were guests recently at the home of Mrs. Pierrard's aunt and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burdette of Shady Cove. Other guests of the Burdette family have been their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walker and sons of Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Green and daughter, Jo, all of Spokane, have been visiting with the Dick Pfeifer and the Kenneth Hammons families of Shady Cove. Mrs. Lake is the aunt of Mrs. Pfeifer and Mr. Hammons and Mrs. Green is their cousin.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Peg Anderton on the death of her husband, Glenn Anderton, on Sunday, Aug. 10. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 12, in Medford with the Rev. George Bolster officiating.

The sympathy of the community is also extended to Frank Briggs of Shady Cove and Galice whose wife, Lydia Briggs, was killed in an auto accident Wednesday evening, August 13. Funeral services were held at Conger Morris funeral parlor in Medford Tuesday, Aug. 19. Mr. Briggs has returned to Galice, Ore., where he will continue to act as caretaker for the Kesterson estate.

Harvey Anderton is leaving the end of the week for his home in Mont Vista, Colo., after being here during his brother's illness and for his funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Crowmover of Montague, Calif., have been visitors at the home of Mrs. Crowmover's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Copeland of Trail.

Miss Edna Wutt of Los Angeles has been a house guest at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Trail.

Monte Axtell of Trail and Dean Tribbetts of Eagle Point are on a two week's vacation trip into Canada and Montana and expected to go through Glacier and Yellowstone national parks. They were planning on doing some fishing in the Madison river in Montana.

Three men and five boys of an Explorer Scout group from Walnut Creek, Calif., beached their canoes on the bank at the Rainbow motel opposite the Pfeifer residence, built a campfire and spent Monday night there. Several of the boys fished and caught some nice ones. They had travelled down river from the Bar GM ranch that day and left early in the morning.

Newcomers to Shady Cove are Dr. and Mrs. David Morgan and children of Kansas City, Mo., who are renting the Leo Tuttle home.

Dr. Morgan has joined Dr. Ferguson as a partner in his medical practice. Although both Dr. Morgan and his wife are native Californians they have been living for the past five years in Kansas City where Dr. Morgan attended the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery, graduating with the class of 1937. He interned at Lakeside hospital in Kansas City. He attended Pacific College at Angwin, Calif. for four years. The Morgans have two children, a little girl 2 years old and a boy who will be in the sixth grade and who will attend Rogue River Academy in Medford. The Morgans had planned to come to Oregon when Dr. Morgan finished his internship and Shady Cove was chosen because of friends here.

Curtis L. (Ray) Lewis of Ashland was transferred on Monday from the Siskiyou General hospital in Yreka to CANOE TRIP—A group of Boy Scouts from Explorer Post 326, Walnut Creek, Calif., and three leaders, found the Rogue river a little too much for their frail canoes when they tried to bring them down-river from a point above McLeod to Grants Pass last week. The group, which also included two small boys, camped out two nights and reached By-bee bridge before noon the third day, where they called a halt to the trip. Everyone had been dunked at least once and all seven canoes suffered broken spars and torn canvas from protruding rocks. The boys themselves built the canoes last winter. Two of the boys, above, are shown bringing their boat to shore while other members of the exhibition look on. In spite of their ordeal, the boys were undaunted and said they may try the trip next year . . . after they've repaired their boats.

HORNBROOK Campers Cover Wide Area

By KATHERINE CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greene and grand-daughter, Linda and Lydia Greene, returned last week from a camping trip which took them to Burney falls, through the Hat creek and Seven lakes area, across Lassen national park and into the Sierra-Nevada mountains as far south as Sierra City.

Upon returning from that trip, they took a shorter one into the Antelope creek area of eastern Siskiyou county. The Greens lived at Bray, in that part of the county, before moving to Hornbrook some 30 years ago.

On Sunday the Greens had as their guests, their son, Kenneth, and his family and Mr. and Mrs. Tom McHenry and three sons, all of Yreka. Patty Greene, the Kenneth Greene's daughter, remained here to spend the week with her grandparents and cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wyatt and family of Central Point were visitors Sunday in the home of her mother and brother, Mrs. Minnie Bloomingcamp, and son Charles. Stevie Wyatt stayed over to spend several days at his grandmother's house.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Titus and their three children are at Bible camp at Lake of the Woods this week and next. For the past three Sundays, services in the Hornbrook Bible church have been conducted by trainees from the Moody Bible institute at Chicago, while the Rev. Titus has been going to Seiad valley to assist the members of the Student Missionary Council, who are holding summer Bible school there.

Mrs. Frank Cardoza and two children, Jeanie and Frankie, are in San Francisco and the Bay area for a short stay. Mrs. Doris Nowaczyk accompanied them, and will remain in San Francisco to work. Her husband expects to be transferred to the Veteran's hospital in San Francisco shortly.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nowaczyk received critical injuries in a car accident last Christmas eve near Sloux Falls, S. D., and he has been hospitalized ever since. Since her release from the hospital, Mrs. Nowaczyk has been here convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bear of Corvallis, Ore., visited last week end with his parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bear and Leonard and Ermin.

The California Division of Forestry reported a total of 29 fires caused by the storms of the past two evenings in this area. The largest fire, covering 206 acres, occurred on the Double J ranch in the Willow Creek area.

The U. S. Forest Service reported 66 fires caused by lightning during the 48 hour period beginning Tuesday evening. None of the fires were giving the foresters trouble.

Officials of the U. S. Forest Service stated further that at the present time there were more fires going in the Klamath National Forest district than in any other USFS district in California.

Porch Lights Help Illuminate Streets

Charlevoix, Mich. — (UP) — Charlevoix residents who leave their porch lights on all night aren't spendthrifts. They're just taking advantage of the city's offer of free electrical power.

When the city needed more street lights in the past, the council adopted a proposal calling for home wiring plans by which current used for porch lights would not be charged to the homeowner. As a result, the city's more than 3,000 residents leave their lights burning at night to supplement the illumination from the city's street lights.

Bullet Company Moves to Bend

Ashland — The Nosler Partition Bullet company, which has been negotiating for property in Ashland, has made final arrangements to move its factory to Bend, the Ashland city council was notified last week.

Mayor Richard Neill, who called a special council meeting late in the week, informed the council of the company's action, and said the decision to move it to Bend probably resulted from "dilly-dallying around" by the Ashland council.

The company was negotiating with the city to lease a warehouse at First and S sts. The company said it was moving since there was doubt in the city attorney's mind about the legality of a zone change for the property being sought. It also said the fact that it would manufacture live rounds of ammunition might be objectionable.

It added: "The company can establish itself in Bend without outlay of capital investment and without any permanent obligation, and furthermore, the building provided would be new and exactly in accordance with our needs."

Mayor Neill said he believed if the council "had gone ahead as originally proposed and leased the warehouse to the company, I am sure they would not have considered the move to Bend."

Rangers Rescue Youth from Ledge

Cedar Grove, Calif. — (UP) — Kings Canyon National Park rangers disclosed Friday the rescue of a Los Angeles youth from a ledge in Paradise valley 12 miles east of here.

A seven-man party rescued Ed Baye, 16, Thursday night after a perilous ascent and descent. Darkness hampered the return trip.

The rescue team, led by Frank Hirst, assistant chief ranger, reached Baye at 7:45 p.m. The rescuers had the youth off the ledge by 9:30. He was unharmed.

Baye and his rescuers finally arrived here at 2:30 a.m. today.

Rangers said the rescue team had to climb 1,000 feet up a steep mountainside, using three rope relays. It took six relays coming down. Hirst said it was fortunate no one got hurt in the descent.

Baye got stranded Wednesday night with two companions, Charles Gibbons, 15, and John Lynch, 16, also of Los Angeles. They managed to reach the valley floor. Lynch suffered a slightly sprained knee.

The three were on a hiking trip with two other youths, Russell Sunshine, 15, and Baye's brother, Mike. They are all expected to leave for home Saturday.

It was the second ledge incident in the Sierra Nevada this week. Wednesday, a 15-year-old Long Beach boy was rescued after being stranded overnight near Glacier Point in Yosemite National Park.
