

CJ Outlaws Sweep RV Loop Playoffs

Cave Junction—The Cave Junction Outlaws made it two in a row over Riddle to nab the playoffs of the Rogue Valley Baseball league here Sunday afternoon.

In the first game of the best-of-three series, played at Myrtle Creek Saturday evening, Cave Junction pounced on two Riddle pitchers for a 21 to five victory. Late innings of the game were hampered by approaching darkness which made it difficult for players to see the ball.

Sunday at Cave Junction, the Outlaws came from behind in the bottom of the first inning to romp to a 24 to 6 victory. Cave Junction made good use of the long ball, including three home runs and three triples, to wrap up the series.

Bud Lindquist started on the mound for Riddle Saturday and was replaced by John Cavanaugh, who was charged with the loss, in the fifth inning. Dan Sianaker was the winning pitcher.

Miller Gets Trophy

In Sunday's game, Layton Dietz was charged with the defeat. He was replaced in the seventh inning by Ray Munyon. Wayne Saffer was the winner.

Immediately after the Sunday game League President Harry Chipman presented trophies. Dietz accepted the league championship trophy for Riddle and Manager Mayburn Campbell accepted the playoff trophy for Cave Junction. Al Birman, business manager of the Camp White team, accepted the league batting championship trophy for Bob Smith of Camp White. The best pitcher trophy was awarded to Duane Miller of Riddle, who had a season record of five wins and one loss.

At a meeting of league directors following the Sunday game, it was indicated that the league will continue in operation next year with the possible addition of two or three teams.

Plans for a basketball league, to operate on the same basis as the baseball circuit, were discussed and Chipman was instructed to seek teams willing to make up such a circuit.

Washington To Petition For Move

Washington — (UPI) — The Washington Senators, looking to beat the Cleveland Indians to the punch, will petition the American league to move to Minneapolis either before or during the World Series, United Press International learned today.

Two Senator officials who were opposed to the move resigned suddenly Friday to ease the way for the franchise shift.

The two men who quit were club secretary and attorney John E. Powell and club treasurer Chris Jacobsen. Jacobsen told UPI he stepped down because he "would never vote for moving the club" and wanted to give club president Cal Griffith and the rest of his family "a free rein to do whatever they think is right."

Powell was understood to share the same views as Jacobsen, who added, "I didn't want to stand in the Griffiths' way and I knew they wanted to go."

Minneapolis is ready, willing and eager for a major league club, preferably the Cleveland Indians, who served blunt notice earlier this week that they will move their franchise in 1959 unless their sagging attendance shows a substantial increase.

The only discouraging note as far as a possible move to Minneapolis is concerned came from Tommy Thomas, general manager of the Minneapolis Millers, who said the American association would be doomed if a major league club moved in.

Thomas said any move to Minneapolis by either the Senators or Indians would force two American association teams—Minneapolis and St. Paul—to move or disband.

Richardson, Olmedo Gain U.S. Net Doubles Title

Chestnut Hill, Mass. — (UPI) — Uncle Sam's Davis Cup tennis stock rose to a new high today, reaching its loftiest peak since American net men last beat the Australians in 1954.

Aussie domination of the U. S. national doubles cham-ionships, which had included six titles in the last eight attempts, was broken by the team of Ham Richardson of New Orleans, La., and Peruvian Alejandro (Alex) Olmedo, a University of Southern California student.

All-United States

Richardson and Olmedo won the crown Sunday in a surprising all-United States final round, beating Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex., 4-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Richardson and Olmedo, untried only four days before the doubles began, swept through their first three matches in straight sets. Then they topped defending champions Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser in the semi-finals and beat MacKay and Giammalva in the finals.

Shrine Grid Clubs Knot

Pendleton — (UPI) — The West rallied with a sharp second-half passing attack to gain a tie in the seventh annual East-West Class "B" all-star game here Saturday night.

Denny Codd from Tillamook Catholic fired a 10-yard pass to Larry Guenther of St. Boniface early in the fourth stanza to produce the first tie in the history of the contest.

A 23-yard pass play on a fourth down situation gave the East a touchdown in the opening seconds of the second period.

Quarterback John Houk of Stanfield pitched out to Royce Parret of Prairie City and Parret in turn arched a pass into the arms of Norm Evans of Stanfield on the five. Evans ambled into the end zone with the only first half tally.

John Houk of Stanfield was named the most valuable player of the contest. Punk Smith of Powers was named the best West back, and Parret was chosen the best East back. Best linemen awards went to Bill Peterson of Powers for the West and Mike Remillard of Umatilla for the East.

East Trips Central 11

Baker — (UPI) — The Eastern Oregon All-Stars swamped the Central Oregon All-Stars 26-7 here Saturday night in the annual Elks eye clinic benefit football game.

Marylin Tyler of Lakeview plunged across from the four to open the scoring for Central, but the Central scoring ended there.

Larry Anderson of Baker drove over from the four for the first Eastern tally. Frank Hawley of Vale ran the extra point over.

Hawley then rambled 12 yards to a score seconds before the half ended.

Anderson connected with Tony Keller of Ontario for a 38-yard scoring pass in the final period. Hawley tallied his second TD with a four-yard plunge late in the fourth stanza.

Anne Quast Am Winner

Darien, Conn. — (UPI) — It's just too bad the boys back at Stanford university won't let cute Anne Quast play on their golf team.

Chances are they'd do a lot better if they forgot the ban on girls and accepted the help of the newly-crowned 20-year-old Women's National Amateur champion from Marysville, Wash.

Game, even-tempered Anne rallied from a three-hole morning round deficit to defeat Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., 3 and 2, in Saturday's 36-hole final at the Wee Burn Country club course.

Miss Quast has no intention of ever turning professional. She'll be back for the Women's National Amateur tournament next year at Washington, D.C., "but I'm not going to play in tournaments more than another year."

Richardson and Olmedo, untried only four days before the doubles began, swept through their first three matches in straight sets. Then they topped defending champions Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser in the semi-finals and beat MacKay and Giammalva in the finals.

Crocker Takes Waterloo Golf

Waterloo, Iowa — (UPI) — Veteran Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, today pocketed first place money of $1,313 following her easy 10-stroke victory in the Waterloo women's golf tournament.

Miss Crocker, at 44 the oldest woman pro on the circuit, gave her younger competitors a lesson in steady shooting Sunday as she fired a 74 despite high winds to finish with a two-under-par 286.

Hanson who shot a 75 to wind up with a 72-hole total of 296.
