Radio Stations Topic at Kiwanis

Community service is perhaps radio's greatest value today, Jim Frost, general manager of the Oregon Association of Broadcasters, declared in a talk at the Medford Kiwanis club noon luncheon yesterday.

The radio medium of communication, he pointed out, meets a good many urgent community needs. Frost spoke of the value of radio in emergency conditions and of its importance in national defense. He termed radio as indispensable and stressed how people of this country depend on it for information and entertainment.

Radio, Frost reported, reaches into close to 89.5 percent of the homes in the United States in a normal seven day week.

Programs on radio today are geared to individual members of families rather than to members of families as a unit. He discussed the abundance of outlets and choice of stations which figure in this aspect.

Frost told Kiwanis of the significant increase in radio stations in the country in the last 10 years, particularly in the past five, despite the advent of television. He mentioned, also, that the average household has three radios.

The luncheon was at Rogue Valley Country club.

Root told officers the victim had been at his home earlier and when leaving had indicated he planned to drive to the Blue Lodge mine.

Giffin had lived with a sister, Mrs. Grace Irene Hunt. Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Chapel mortuary.

Stocks Turn Down On Quemoy Threat

Curtis Publishing continued active. It touched a new high at 11 1/2, up 3/8 point and later dipped from its best level.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars.

This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.
