Wedding Rites Performed By Grandfather of Bride

Shady Cove—Miss Claudia Marie Ash and Wayne Emery Horton were married Saturday, August 23, in a ceremony performed by the bride's grandfather at the Assembly of God church. About 150 guests attended. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Ash, Star route, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Emerson, Glendale, Calif.

The Rev. M. E. LaDieu, pastor of Evdient Christian church, Capitola, Calif., performed the double-ring ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening and Mr. Ash gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was soloist for the ceremony, with Mrs. Ray Chamberlain, Eagle Point, as accompanist.

The bride's gown was of tulle over satin with lace bodice trimmed with sequins. The skirt was appliqued with lace. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of Vogue roses edged with white nylon lace.

Gown of Nylon

Mrs. David Schneider, China Lake, Calif., was honor attendant. She wore a red nylon gown flecked with white and a red cummerbund. Mrs. Jack Carlton, cousin of the bride, was bridesmatron. Her gown was of white nylon flecked with red dots and worn with a red cummerbund; both carried heart-shaped bouquets of rose buds and red nylon lace.

Joyce Sanderson, flower girl, carried an umbrella of white net and red ribbons. Bruce Ash, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

The candlelighters were Jacques Carlton, the bride's cousin and Cheryl Emerson, sister of the bridegroom. Their frocks were of red and white nylon and their wrist bouquets of red and white dianthus. All the attendants wore heart-shaped headresses of matching red.

Wesley Ellis, Central Point, was best man and ushers were David Schneider, China Lake, and Jack Carlton, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held at the Ash home, with 75 guests attending. During the reception the bridegroom sang in honor of his bride.

Reception decorations repeated the red and white heart theme for the bride's table and room flowers. Red and white gladioli and heart-shaped bouquets decorated both the church and the reception room. Mrs. Charles Cushman, aunt of the bride, made all the bouquets and flower arrangements.

Mrs. Robert Sanderson and Mrs. Rufus Trusty, Trail, poured and Mrs. Steven Wilson, White City, cut the wedding cake assisted by Mrs. Cushman. Miss Mabel Atkinson, Ashland, took charge of the guest book and Miss Joyce Collins, Central Point, the gifts.

They will live at 2823 17th street, San Francisco, where both attend Simpson Bible college. The bridegroom is employed by Sears Roebuck and company and the bride by the San Francisco Realty company. This bride, who has lived in this county all her life, is a graduate of Eagle Point High school and the bridegroom of Glendale High school.

Phoenix—Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle D. Medford, Highway 99 south, Phoenix, announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann, to Larry Gene Swem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Swem, 1860 Highway 66, Ashland.

Miss Medford is a 1957 graduate of Phoenix High school, and college girls bought a total of $722,593.572 worth of clothes in that period. This year, spending is expected to total even more, the magazine said.

To save space, the college board advised taking only fall and winter things to school now, then shipping them home in exchange for spring clothes. Also buy a lingerie chest to supplement bureau, drawers, and a drying rack for lingerie.

If possible, visit the school you plan to enter and talk with upperclassmen about campus clothing customs. "There's nothing like seeing the girls, the inside of a dorm, and closet space," the students said.

They recommended this: Five skirts, including two of basic solid colors (navy, black, or charcoal) which can be dressed up for at date-time; a minimum of 10 sweaters, including mohair or shetland for daytime and cashmere or lamb's wool for dates (no fuzzy sweaters trimmed with sequins or embroidery); a trench-coat which serves as a raincoat and casual wrap for classes ("I wear my trenchcoat as a bathrobe and to formal dances, too," said one senior).

Take 1-2 suits; 3-4 blouses, including 2 for dress; 1 basic black wool sheath; 1 pair sneakers; 1 pair loafers; 1 pair dressy flats; dress pumps; 2 cocktail dresses which can double as short formal; 1 long formal gown; pajamas which double as lounging wear; 1 bath robe ankle-length, and knee socks; nylon hosiery; 2 pairs long, tapered slacks (no blue jeans); Bermuda shorts (depending on

Her theme for the year is "New approaches to peace." Reports from all clubs were given by the presidents and chairmen.

Mrs. Peterson assisted by Mrs. Mae Russell and Mrs. Lena A. Foster, Ashland, was hostess to the group for a luncheon which was served at a long table centered with arrangements of red roses. The color scheme was carried out in red and white.

Those attending were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Clay M. Lee, president of Travel Study club, and Mrs. Willis T. Fasel, Medford, secretary of the same club and chairman of international affairs for district one; Mrs. William A. Size of Closet Controls College Girl's Wardrobe

By MARY PRIME
United Press International
New York—UP—The measuring rod for a college girl's wardrobe should be the size of her closet.

"Keep your wardrobe small—your closet will be," say students on the college board at a New York specialty store (Lord and Taylor).

"Girls entering college always think they need more clothes than they really do. You can tell a freshman by her trunk, which usually has to be sent home—no room," said the girls, who represent colleges in the northeast and Utah. They advise high school and college shoppers, sell, and model clothes from mid-July to mid-September.

Last year, 284,000 girls entered college as freshmen, reported a national magazine (Seventeen). They spent $103,588,752 on back-to-school clothes in 60 days. Both high school and college girls bought a total of $722,593,572 worth of clothes in that period. This year, spending is expected to total even more, the magazine said.

Polio Warning Sounded By National Foundation

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
New York—UP—Don't count out paralytic polio—especially if you are under 40 and have not yet had your three vaccine shots.

Surgery General Leroy Burney, head of the U.S. Public Health Service, and Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, director of medical affairs for the National Foundation, have hoisted storm warnings for those who still may be victims.

The experts warn that the polio epidemic of old can flare anew among the unvaccinated.

And forty million persons under 40 have not had even one shot of polio vaccine, said the two.

If you are one of these, says Rivers, you should know that the best insurance against paralytic polio still is a vaccination.

"And it is shocking that at this late date, with another polio season upon us, so many people still have not had their full series of inoculations," he said. "In some areas of the country there have been more paralytic polio cases this year than there was last year. There are enough people unvaccinated to make me feel concerned—especially those of pre-school age and adults from 20 to 40."

"The next four weeks will see polio rise to its peak for 1958. Those who have not yet been vaccinated should be, and those who have begun their series of three injections should make sure to continue them."

If you think polio is "kid stuff," take a look at the latest report from the Public Health Service. During 1957, 691 persons over age 20 were paralyzed.

Most cases are preventable tragedies. One case was that of the young Army officer who wouldn't rest until his wife and three children had three polio shots. But he forgot about himself, only to be struck by total paralysis. Age: 34.

Last year, in 5,894 homes, the word polio led tragedy in its wake.

In most of these homes, the vaccine is a miracle discovered too late.

Don't let it happen this year to you.
