

Ceremony At Church Weds Pair

Shady Cove—Miss Chloe Dell Willson became the bride of John Ivan Greb in a double-ring ceremony held Sunday, August 10, at Eagle Point Community church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Willson, Caldwell, Ida., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Greb, Eagle Point.

About 160 guests attended the wedding held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Joseph Munshaw of the Eagle Point Community church officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace and satin with lace panels over an illusion skirt. She carried white Fuji chrysanthemums with variegated ivy centered with a lavender orchid.

Miss Sheila Dolenshek, Trail, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Jo Ann Cooper, Shady Cove, and Miss Linda Hertager, Eagle Point. Miss Dolenshek wore a green taffeta and white lace frock with green chiffon cummerbund and carried white Fuji chrysanthemums and lavender gladioli. Miss Cooper's frock was lavender taffeta with white lace worn with lavender chiffon cummerbund and Miss Hertager wore a pink taffeta and white lace frock with pink chiffon cummerbund. Both carried bouquets of gladioli with white chrysanthemums on net hearts.

Deborah Perry, Trail, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Tommie Greb, Eagle Point, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

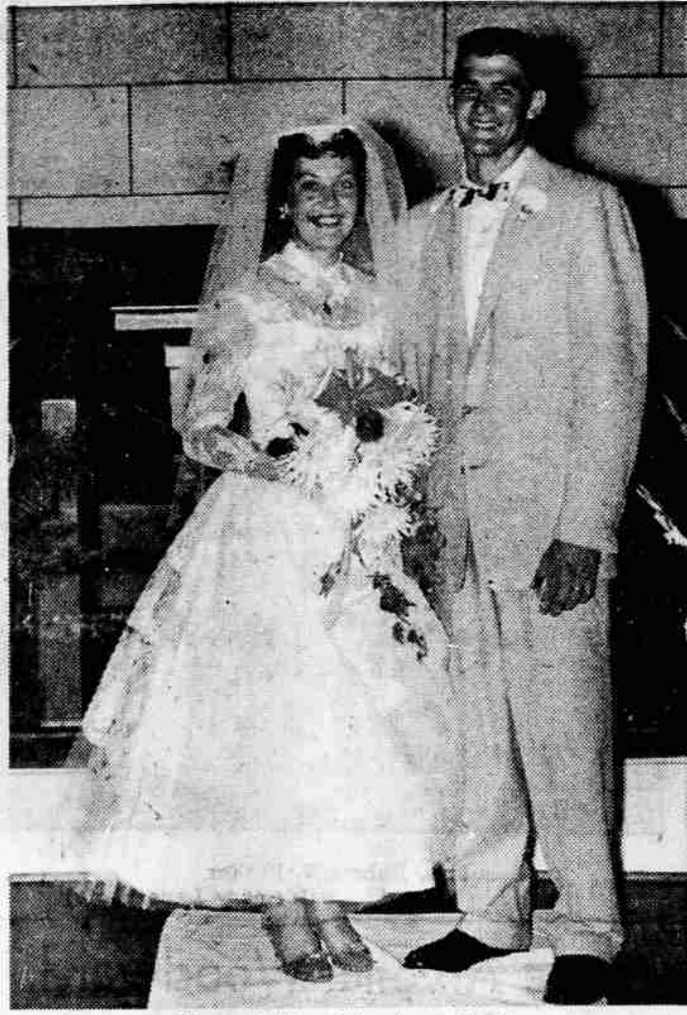

Wayne Christian, Eagle Point, was best man and ushers were Ted and Robert Greb, Eagle Point, brothers of the bridegroom; Gale Friend and Dick Wallace, Shady Cove.

Baskets of white, pink and lavender gladioli and fern with white candles decorated the church.

Miss Georgia Weidman was at the church organ and Miss Carol Scott sang.

The reception was held in the church parlor. The wedding cake was made by Mrs. Albert Cooper, Shady Cove, and served by Mrs. Rodney Perry, Trail. Pouring was Mrs. Harvey Nelson.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Marysville, Calif., and Reno, Nev., and now are at home at Yuba City, Calif., where the bridegroom will attend Yuba City college.

Pahl, Myrtle Point, her great-aunt and uncle; Mrs. John Flecher, Myrtle Point, her grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Crose, North Bend, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Coos Bay, Ore., cousins of the bride.

Harriet Johnson Is Assistant for Rare Operation

Miss Harriet Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, 38 Oak street, Central Point, a registered nurse, recently assisted in the much-publicized heart surgery performed on a 7-year-old Portland girl at the University of Oregon medical school hospital, her parents reported Saturday.

The rare surgery was covered by writers and photographers from both Portland newspapers, and Miss Johnson was among those pictured in the operating room in an Oregonian photograph.

Miss Johnson, a recent graduate of the University school of nursing, served at Rogue Valley hospital here before joining the medical school nursing staff.

To Meet on Monday

Jacksonville—Adaree Past Matrons club will hold the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred J. Fick, 502 North Holly street, Medford, Monday September 8. Assisting Mrs. Fick with dessert luncheon at 12:30 p.m. will be Mrs. E. E. Evans. A short business meeting will be held following the luncheon.

Marriage Rites Held In Ashland

Ashland—Mountain View Chapel, Ashland, was the scene of the wedding August 29 of Miss Marlene Elliott to LeRoy Parris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Parris of Portland. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. Elliott, 343 North Main street.

The Rev. E. E. Crawford officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace gown with fingertip length illusion veil held by a tiara of seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Kathleen Schoover was matron of honor while Wendell Clawson served as best man. Joe Hasler seated the guests.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Women's club house on Winburn Way. Assisting with the reception were Miss Donna Dunksen, Mrs. Jack Coffin, Miss Francis Hoeg, Medford, and Mrs. Gerald Elliott.

The newlywed couple will make their home in Salem where Mr. Parris is affiliated with the Western Electric company, following a wedding trip along the Oregon coast to Seattle, Wash., Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia.

Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Seth Parris, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williams, all Portland; Mrs. Jack Breednower, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Couey, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Clorin Moore, all Medford.

Member Reports On Stamp Shows

Clyde Smith spoke of his recent trip to attend the annual outdoor stamp show, sponsored by the East Bay Stamp club of Oakland, Calif., at the September meeting of the Southern Oregon Stamp club. Mr. Smith is a charter member, and is now an honorary member of the East Bay club. The outdoor stamp exhibition was held in the Oakland Chrysanthemum gardens in August. The public voted for the exhibit they thought was the best and that display was awarded a cup, the only prize given.

Mr. Smith also spoke of his trip in May to Vancouver, B.C., to attend the annual convention and exhibition of the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs, held May 29 through June 1. The local stamp club is a member of the federation, which is now comprised of 29 such clubs, in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. The exhibition was held in the new library in Vancouver, and the host clubs were British Columbia Philatelic society of Vancouver, and the Royal City Stamp club of New Westminster, B.C.

Because it is the centennial year of British Columbia, many special displays were present. Mr. Smith displayed his collection, "World-Wide Air Mails."

Mrs. Edward Leach displayed a frame of stamps at the local club, that was assembled by Mrs. M. S. Brainerd of Brookings, Ore. The stamps picture flowers from around the world; the frame was sent over to be shown to the Camp White Stamp club, of which Mrs. Leach is advisor. Mr. Brainerd writes for several stamp magazines and helps provide stamps for use of the veterans at Camp White.

New Junior Women's Club Plans First Fall Session

A social meeting for prospective members of the new Medford Junior Women's club will be held at the home of Mrs. L. E. McConnell, 1401 South Whitman avenue, on Wednesday, September 10, at 8 p.m.

The club, which has held informal summer sessions, is affiliated with the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs and is dedicated to community service and adult education. Clubwork is delegated into the following departments: American home, communications, community affairs, conservation, education, fine arts, religions, public af-airs and international affairs. Committee chairmen have been named by the president, Mrs. Robert Billingsley, to serve through the following year. They are Mrs. D. E. Chapman, hospitality; Mrs. Gene Chamberlain, ways and means and philanthropy; Mrs. David De Armond, education, and Mrs. Clifford McGinty, publicity.

Purpose of the Wednesday meeting will be to acquaint the prospective members with the aims and purposes of the club.

Dartmouth, across the harbor from the city of Halifax, N. S., was first settled in 1751.

Wearing a white dress which she made about 75 years ago, Mrs. Callie Palm posed Wednesday for her 95th birthday anniversary picture. The dress is of white linen, embroidered by herself, and handmade Irish lace. Born September 3, 1863, in Kenton, Ohio, Mrs. Palm came to Medford with her husband in 1888 and has lived here since that time. The well known Medford woman was honored at a tea at her home, 343 South Holly street.

Mrs. Callie Palm Honored On Ninety-Fifth Birthday

Wearing a white dress which she made about 75 years ago, Mrs. Callie Palm posed Wednesday for her 95th birthday anniversary picture. Born September 3, 1863, in Kenton, Ohio, Mrs. Palm came to Medford with her husband in 1888 and has lived here since that time. The well known woman was honored at a tea at her home, 343 South Holly street.

Mrs. Callie Palm, who has watched Medford grow from a village, celebrated her 95th birthday anniversary September 3. Mrs. Palm was honored at a tea given by her niece, Mrs. E. N. Eldridge, assisted by a second niece, Mrs. Harold Burk, and other relatives.

The tea was held in Mrs. Palm's home, 343 South Holly street, which adjoins the Eldridge home. The tea table was centered with pink dahlias, and a big cake which held 95 candles in such a fashion that each piece cut held a small candle. Other bouquets were of pink dahlias, and of red carnations.

About 55 guests called during the tea. Mrs. William L. Barnum, who came from Portland for the tea, poured.

Mrs. Palm wore a dress of embroidered linen and handmade Irish lace which she made for herself about 75 years ago.

Mrs. Palm and her husband, the late Charles W. Palm, came to Medford in 1888 from Kenton, Ohio, Mrs. Palm's birthplace. They rented a building on South Front street, where they operated a variety store, and later Mr. Palm built a small frame structure on the corner of Main and Fir streets; Mrs. Palm still owns the building on that corner. At the time it was erected, it was the only building west of the Southern Pacific Railway tracks.

When the Palms moved into the building, Mrs. Palm added a millinery stock to the variety store, since she was a trained milliner, and later they disposed of the Variety stock. Mrs. Palm was in business for 19 years.

Later the couple built the home on South Holly street where Mrs. Palm still lives.

A statue in the library park was erected in Mr. Palm's honor. In recent years Mrs. Palm, a devoted Presbyterian, donated the carillon bells which now sound daily from Medford First Presbyterian church. At 10 a.m. on the day of Mrs. Palm's 95th birthday, "Happy Birthday" was played by the chimes.

Mrs. Palm remains active and interested in the affairs of the city, state and nation. Every Sunday morning Mrs. Palm is to be found attending the 11 o'clock service at the church, and the coffee hour which follows. One of her di-
