CASH GIVEN PUZZLE FANS

In the past 12 years, nearly a Half-Million Dollars in money has been given away by me to several thousand puzzle hobbyists in the United States and Canada. Now I'm ready to pay out another $30,000.00 to 300 more lucky people in a New Fun-Filled Puzzle Contest I am now supervising for the benefit of The Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle.

Here's an honest-to-goodness chance for you to win a top award ranging from $3,500.00 to $12,000.00, in an exciting, enjoyable "battle of wits" different from any puzzle feature you ever saw. Everything needed is supplied. No 25-word essays to write...no big dictionaries to mull over...no strange or tricky rebus pictures to "trip you up."

Over two million puzzle lovers have entered my contests in 33 years. That's why a large Metropolitan Newspaper has nominated me "World's Contest King."

Thousands of puzzlers everywhere—year after year—never miss entering a single Gemeroy-Managed Contest. Mrs. G. J. Young, Long Beach housewife, received $38,000 a few weeks ago from me. Other Gemeroy Winners include Mrs. Constance Johnson, Houston mother of 3 children ($25,000); Earl Hummel, Elmhurst violinist ($21,500); M. S. Hoffman, Abilene, Texas Evangelist ($18,780); Estelle Stewart, Glendale, ($17,000); Wm. J. Nojunas, Harrisburg, war veteran, ($16,000).

SEND NO MONEY. If you want to "give money worries a knock-out blow" and you enjoy puzzling, send a letter or postcard today and full details will be promptly mailed you without obligation. Be prompt and win $2,000.00 extra. Address your card or letter to me.

Handy Catch!

Bill Ross

Here's a game for a lively workout that can be played indoors or out. Find two paper cups and a ping-pong ball and you're ready to go. You and your partner stand a few feet apart and toss the ping-pong ball back and forth, catching it, if you can, in the paper cup. This isn't easy, so if you get discouraged, use an empty cylindrical carton (such as ice cream comes in). If you haven't a ping-pong ball, a tightly wadded ball of silver paper will do.

Toots, the Performing Pup

Bess A. Lee

Straight from the circus comes Toots, the trained terrier. His act is the talk of the tent. He can walk on his front feet, holding his hind feet high. Copy the picture of Toots and the circular foot piece on thin, stiff cardboard. Color his ruffle a bright shade with crayon. Then cut out the pieces you have drawn. Punch small holes with a pin on the dots shown at the lower edge of the ruffle and in the middle of the foot piece. Fasten the foot piece under the ruffle by pushing a small, round-headed letter fastener through the holes and separating the prongs at the back. Stand Toots on the rug or covered table or on any surface that is not too slick. Holding him near the tail, push him along on his front feet. The feet will turn and Toots will go into his act.

TUT TALK

Jane McHenry

Would you like to learn a secret language? You and your special friends or club members can baffle everyone—even your parents—if you try this funny trick in talking.

You know that in English the vowels are a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes y. All of the other letters are called consonants, of course. Now, if you can spell the words you use every day, you're ready to go! In no time you can talk Tut Talk!

You talk by spelling the words in your sentence, but whenever you come to a consonant, you say the letter twice, putting the letter U in between. For example: T is tut, B is bub, L is lul, R is rur, M is mum, etc. The vowels and y, you leave plain—just say them. So, to spell the word boy you'd say, "bub-o-y," girl would be "gug-i-rur-lul," book would be, "bub-o-o-kuk." With practice you can talk quite rapidly and the resulting sounds are pretty puzzling.

If a word has a double consonant, like the two Ls in ball, you say, "bub-a-lul squared." For mitt, you say, "mum-i-tut squared." Bill would be "Bub-i-lul squared." Understand?

The only other irregularity is in the case of the letter C. Sometimes it is pronounced like an s, as in city, and other times it sounds like a k, as in cat. So, to avoid a mixup with s or k, we say all Cs as "cus."

Now after dinner tonight say to your brother or sister, "Pup-lul-a-y bub-a-lul squared?" I hope the answer is "O. Kuk!" And we wish you "Gug-o-o-dud lul-u-cus-kuk!" (Good luck!)
