

POOR FISH—Commuters between Weehawken, N. J., and New York protest the impending shutdown of ferry service across the Hudson River, scheduled for Sept. 12. The boat is the only way across the river at Weehawken, and if the ferry stops running the commuters will all have to change to fish and swim.

SHADY COVE-TRAIL Meeting Set For Monday

By EVALYN P. WATSON

Shady Cove-Trail — The Rogue Basin Water Resources and Flood Control association will hold a meeting Monday evening, Sept. 8, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Jackson county courthouse, Medford.

Ross Hatch, U.S. Corps of Engineers, will be present to give details of the corps' Rogue Basin proposals. Also present, as a speaker, will be O. M. Browne of the Bureau of Reclamation, Boise, Idaho. All interested persons in the area are urged to be present.

Shady Cove-Trail — The Shady Cove Rotary club entertained their wives and guests at a potluck picnic dinner held at Walch's Lake resort Thursday evening, Aug. 28.

Entertainment was furnished by Judy Stuart and Monte Noble, two girl accordianists who are students of Eve Prentice of Medford. They were guests of the club along with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Golden Noble and sister, Sandra Noble, of Medford.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pfeifer and Dr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson of Shady Cove, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Trimble of Marysville, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Drew of Medford and Duchin Pasic of Belgrade, Yugoslavia. Pasic is a student at Southern Oregon college and is living with Mr. and Mrs. Drew during his stay in the country. His plans are to return to Yugoslavia as a teacher.

He gave a talk on Yugoslavia, touching on such varied topics as agriculture, religion, educational systems as compared to the U.S., social customs and special holidays. Following his talk an informal question period followed.

The lake with the moonlight shining on the water made an ideal setting for the picnic and children roasted marshmallows over the campfire.

Members of the Shady Cove Garden club who spent Friday touring many of the gardens in the Prospect area were Mesdames Ed Strother, Miles Williams, William Shepherd and Floyd Kelley. The gardens seem to be particularly lovely at this time of year in that area as it is much cooler than in the valley and so the flowers do exceptionally well. Gardens visited were those of Everett Shafer, Archie McKillop, Warren Barr Sr., Hazel Ulrich, John Davidson and Willard Huffman.

Residents of the area are warned to be particularly careful around their yards and in fields, since a number of rattlers have been seen and killed this year. Slim Leiders found one lying up next to his house and killed it. The snake had about seven rattles. Bill Shepherd, across the road from the Leiders, found a big one just off their front porch and another in their raspberry bushes which got away. The Scottie and Mignon Patrick at their river home at Lewis creek, have killed two this summer, one measuring 36 inches.

Mrs. L. H. Wolters and daughter, Shirley, of Oakland, Calif., are house guests of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Williams of Shady Cove.
