

Suspect Quizzed In Kidnaping of Girl in Colorado

Fort Collins, Colo.—The Larimer county sheriff's office early today apprehended an unidentified man as a suspect in the kidnaping of Marjorie Schneider.

The man, in his early thirties, was brought in for questioning on a tip from a citizen here. A deputy said the suspect, second to be questioned in connection with the disappearance of the 18-year-old stenographer early Sunday morning, was a resident of Fort Collins.

Another Released

Sunday afternoon, deputies questioned another unidentified resident of Fort Collins about the girl's disappearance, but released him less than a half hour later.

The girl has not been found. Miss Schneider was abducted by a crew-cut man in his early thirties early Sunday morning while she was sitting in an automobile in a lovers' lane near here with her escort, Ellsworth Eugene Farnik, 21, Estes Park, Colo., and another couple, James Coleman, 23, and Coleman's wife, Janet, 19.

The Colemans and Farnik told Sheerer the man fired eight bullets into the car. They said two bullets crashed through the windshield, two others busted out the front headlights, two pierced the tires, and two other bullets smashed the radiator.

Pockets Emptied

Sheriff Sheerer said the trio told him the man lined them up and forced them to empty their pockets.

Farnik said the gunman thanked them for their money—less than $2—and apologized for "busting up the car."

"He then told us to start walking, all except Margie," Farnik said.

"I want the blonde to come with me," Farnik said the gunman told them.

Nine 4-H'ers And County Man Win At Fair

Nine Jackson county 4-H club members and a Medford man were winners last week at the Oregon State fair which closed Saturday in Salem.

In addition to individual winners, Jackson county received the expert "housekeeping" blue ribbon for the swine area in the barn at the fair.

Herman Kamping, Medford, received the silver trophy for the best potato exhibit. The trophy, donated by the Oregon Potato commission to encourage a greater display of Oregon potatoes, was accepted for Kamping by Glenn Klein, Jackson county 4-H agent. Kamping won with Red Pontiacs.

Joan Dobrot, Central Point, won a trip to 4-H summer school for winning the senior dollar dinner contest at the fair. The dinner served included fried chicken for four persons for an average of 60 cents apiece.

Requires Much Time

Joan spent four hours preparing a menu of pineapple-grapefruit juice, chicken, parleyed potatoes, green beans julienne, tomato salad, herb bread and butter, homemade watermelon pickles, pear crunch and coffee.

Two Medford girls, Penny Sampert, 15, and Marsha Watson, 13, with "recipe for horsemanship" won the demonstration in the livestock division for grooming and saddling of a horse. The girls belong to the West Side Hayburners 4-H Saddle Horse club.

Two Jackson county judging teams received second place honors in the 4-H dairy and livestock contests. Dairy judging honors went to Steve Carroll and Bill Hubbard, both Eagle Point, and Romelle Fosson, Jacksonville. The livestock judging team included Joyce Kerr, Ashland; Marilyn Watson, Medford, and Carol Von der Hellen, Central Point. Marilyn Watson was the third high individual among the 93 judges from throughout Oregon in the contest.

Aumville Logger Dies of Injuries

Stayton — A 21-year-old Aumville logger, Ralph Combs, died Saturday of injuries suffered when he was crushed between two logs Wednesday afternoon.

Combs was working on a logging operation for the Ercil Wilson Logging Co., when a log slipped, crushing him against another log which was nearby.

Trucker Strike Talks Scheduled

San Francisco — A new round of negotiations aimed at ending an 11-state Teamster strike-locksout gets under way here Tuesday.

Negotiations between top industry and union representatives ended Saturday in Washington with no agreement being reached. However, both sides indicated there was some hope of a solution.

"We feel substantial progress has been made toward settlement of the strike and lockout," said a joint statement issued by Robert H. Cutler of El Paso, Tex., representing the employers, and Einar Mohn, president of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

The statement came after negotiators met for 2½ hours at the headquarters of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The strike began four weeks ago today when 2,350 teamsters belonging to Joint Council No. 38 in Central California and Western Nevada went on strike, demanding wage parity with San Francisco Bay area drivers.

Employers then ordered the lockout in the 11 Western states. They claimed the strikers were bound by an agreement covering the West that was reached on May 27.

The dispute has cost trucking companies an estimated $8 million, and has idled 100,000 drivers.
