

Among the guests at the fall luncheon and fashion show of Medford Junior Service league Friday afternoon were (left to right) Mrs. Galen Sanner, Mrs. Howard Scroggins, Mrs. R. Ren Taylor and Mrs. Richard Alley. The two-day event was held to raise funds for the league's kindergarten for deaf children which opens soon with an enrollment of eight.

Style Show Earns Money For League Kindergarten

Red paper schoolhouses, cutouts of school supplies and clothing and the names of models on a big blackboard set the theme for Junior Service league's fall Back to School style show Thursday and Friday at Rogue Valley Country club. Mrs. Robert C. Taylor and Mrs. Robert M. Turner were co-chairmen.

Funds derived from the show will go to support the league's kindergarten for hard-of-hearing children which opens this month.

Members and their children were models. The show opened on a light-hearted note when Mrs. Gordon Hudson entered wearing a sweater and grey tapered trousers embroidered with black poodles, and carrying a tiny grey poodle. Nagro, short for Noir Argente Poupee, wore a little white collar with a tiny plaid bow and a rakish plaid beret held by a bobby pin. When tired of the hat, Nagro removes it with his paws. He belongs to the Clayton Lewises.

"Three alike" dresses in checked orange-ice with very low belts were modeled by Mrs. Berwick, Sarah and Judy.

The retiring president of the league, Mrs. C. H. Buffington, modeled one of the new bulky turtle-neck sweaters in shades of orange and green with tobacco colored trousers. In a later appearance Mrs. Buffington, wearing an Italian imported melon-colored ensemble, was accompanied by her son, called "Chip" who also was one of the models for the show.

The new walking suits were shown, and one of these in a deep purple woolen material was modeled by Mrs. Carl Wimberly Jr. Later Mrs. Wimberly appeared in a red evening frock intriguing drapery placed low on the skirt.

One of the gowns modeled by Mrs. Arlon Skinner was a black velvet with skirt caught up in tunic effect and decorated with a big red rose placed low on the skirt front. Mrs. Billy Blackstone also modeled a black gown, one with back drapery over a sheer set off by red gloves.

Mrs. James B. Shaw also modeled one of the three-quarter length coats and the hat worn with it was a large beaver. Mrs. Turner modeled furs for the show, one set being a sable cape-stole on which the end fur pieces were removable.

The only trapeze dress in the show was modeled by Mrs. John M. Lynch.

Several of the skirts and suits shown were in rough tweeds with a bulky look, one grey knit was of the new
