

Two Attend Girl Scout Conference

Miss Karen Lytle and Miss Ruth Kilbourn, representing the Rogue Valley Girl Scout council, attended a planning conference for Senior Scout events at Lewis and Clark college in Portland September 4-5. Miss Lytle is a member of Senior Troop 2 and Miss Kilbourn is executive director for the local council.

The conference was the first of its kind held in the United States and featured three speakers prominent in Girl Scouting. Miss Frederica Gordon, council advisor for the national staff of Seattle, was chairman for the conference. Speaking on the widening circles of scouting was Miss Gwen Wescott, program advisor on the staff of the Girl Scouts' Big Tree region, national branch, in Palo Alto, Calif.

Miss Margaret Chapman, co-ordinator of special projects for the Girl Scouts, such as the Senior Round-up to be held in Colorado Springs, Colo., next year, gave the group advance details on that international project. Miss Oleda Schrottky, a member of the national field staff of the Girl Scouts spoke on "How to Treat a Public Speaker."

All Medford Girl Scouts, their friends and families, are invited to attend a Scoutarama to be held in Eugene at the South Eugene High school auditorium Friday, September 12 according to the Girl Scout headquarters here.

Miss Oleda Schrottky, a member of the national field staff of the Girl Scouts of the USA will be the featured speaker. Girl Scouts representing three councils will present programs detailing their current activities in scouting.

Golden Wedding Observed At Reception in Ashland

Ashland - Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday, August 31 held in their home, 953 Mary Jane avenue, Ashland. Almost 200 guests attended.

Mrs. Ada Byrd and Mrs. Roy Hill cut the anniversary cake and punch was served by Mrs. Jesse Hill, Cottage Grove, Ore., Mrs. Rudy Conner, Talent and Mrs. Edward Gettling, Ashland. Grandchildren of the couple took charge of the guest book and gifts.

For the celebration Mrs. Hill wore a grey dress with pink accents and a pink carnation corsage, a gift from her grandchildren.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over gold and the flowers were gold colored chrysanthemums. The fireplace mantel was decorated with cards received by the couple. Gold colored candles and wedding bells completed the decor.

Punch was served from an antique bowl loaned by a niece, Mrs. Elmer Byrd.

The Hills were married in Elk City, Okla., August 30, 1908. They left that state in 1918 for Idaho, and in 1922 moved to Oregon.

All of the couple's children and grandchildren were present with the exception of the oldest grandchild, Mrs. John Jeffries (Darlene Hill) who left the state recently to join her husband in Yokosuka, Japan. Mr. Jeffries is a Navy photographer.

Present were their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill Jr., and daughters, Melissa, Barbara and Rebecca, Roseburg; their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. George Conner and sons, Paul and David and Mr. and Mrs. Dale O'Hara and children, Dale II and Shannon, Talent; Mr. and Mrs. John Parisotto, their daughters, Susan, Antoinette and Linda and sons, Michael and John Jr., Klamath Falls.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. William Wells, Clinton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rust, San Fernando, Calif.

EDIBLE PLACE CARDS

If you are having a children's party make the place cards edible.

Why not use candy taffy apples, tied with a pretty bow and name tag?

Or give a candlelight party? Put a candle in among three popcorn balls, colored a pretty pastel pink on chocolate.

More than 350 recipes for new and different salads are given in the recently published "Book of Salads," which has been added to the Jackson county library.

Altrusans Begin Year

Medford Altrusa club began the year's activities with a dinner meeting Thursday night at the Tally-Ho Dining room. The new president, Miss Myrta Otterdale, chief operator of the Pacific Telephone company here, presided over the business meeting, which featured reports from the club's program committees.

Mrs. Wallace Haskins, chairman of the vocational information committee, spoke of the Business Education day activities in Medford, which included a day-long visit to the Bear Creek orchards in which she and Miss Catherine Fonken, another Altrusan, took part.

Mrs. Martin C. Wood, a member of the public affairs committee, outlined the local radio stations' current experiment in stereophonic sound, pointing out the effectiveness of the first broadcast.

Miss Otterdale welcomed the Altrusans present, and stated that she is looking forward to the coming year with the knowledge that the club's
