

Six New Coaches Selected For UPI Football Board

New York (UPI)—Six new coaches will serve on the 1958 United Press International football coaches board, which will begin rating the nation's college football teams weekly after games of Saturday, Sept. 20.

Air Force Academy; Ray Nagel of Utah, Harold Wlahar of Houston and Jim Myers of Texas A&M.

The first of the 1958 ratings will be released to afternoon newspapers of Tuesday, Sept. 23. As in past seasons, the ratings will be released alternately for Tuesday morning and Tuesday afternoon newspapers.

Difficult To Predict How Stanford Indians Will Do

(Following is another in a series on the outlook of West Coast football teams for the coming season.)

By SCOTT BAILLIE
Stanford, Calif. (UPI)—It's anybody's guess where Stanford's football team will wind up this season and even coach Jack Curtice pleads ignorance.

"I just hope to the Lord that we win more than we lose," declares the homespun Curtice, who abandoned the top coaching post at Utah and

No Word On Hutch Decision

St. Louis (UPI)—Dick Meyer, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals, said today no decision has been made whether Fred Hutchinson will be retained as manager of the club.

"Our position is and has been that we are not going to make our decision until the end of the year," said Meyer when asked of reports that Solly Hemus of the Philadelphia Phillies already has been decided upon as the new pilot.

"Any report to the contrary is not in keeping with the facts." In Philadelphia, Hemus also denied the report.

"I told Bob Carpenter, owner of the Phillies, Monday that I knew nothing about the report," said Hemus. "I haven't been contacted and I don't know anything more than I read in the paper."

A source in Philadelphia told United Press International that Carpenter "would not stand in Hemus' way if he is offered the job" but that the Phillies' owner would demand a first-ranking major league player in the trade if the Cardinals want Hemus to be their manager.

Major league tampering rules forbid the Cardinals from closing any deal with Hemus until the end of the season.

Bears' Coach Unhappy Over Team Workouts
Berkeley, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California Bears can expect "plenty of heavy work" this week because Coach Pete Elliott didn't like what he saw during Saturday's intrasquad game.

Elliott shifted Charlie Holston from guard to left end in the first string, replacing Ron Currie who was lost for the season due to an injury.

WHAT NET CHAMPION HAD LONGEST WIN SPAN?
Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, donor of the Wightman Cup, won her first U.S. singles championship in 1909, her last in 1919. She won her first U.S. doubles title in 1909 and her last in 1928. And still going strong she captured U.S. women's veterans doubles championship in 1944.

established UPI show there to move into Indian country.

"This Stanford team lost a good backfield through graduation," Curtice moaned on. "And our expected strength at end has been hampered by injuries. But we seem okay along the interior line."

Curtice, one of the game's leading raconteurs, brought to Stanford a "T and flanker" which is similar to the one used last year by Chuck Taylor who since has become assistant athletic director.

Quarterback Battle
It works best when there is a good quarterback around like John Brodie or Jack Douglas. The only trouble is that both are long gone and so the job is a scramble between Bob Nicolet, a strong-armed senior, Dick Norman who also heaves the ball well and Sid Garber.

Curtice tabs Garber, a 5-11 junior, as the best runner of the three but gives the throwing edge to Nicolet and sophomore Norman. Jack has indicated that it will be Nicolet in the starting lineup come opening day Sept. 20 against Washington State.

Curtice tabs Garber, a 5-11 "pleased" with the running of Gil Dowd, a sophomore fullback who has been touted in some quarters as the best at the post in 20 years.

"Including Norm Standlee," Curtice asks with a wry smile then lists Rick McMullen and Dick Bowers, both juniors, as leading lights for the left halfback job with Jim Byrer and John Bond as the right-halfbacks with the most promise.

Doug Dick, a senior letterman, also figures at fullback.

Stanford is hurting at the ends where two seniors, Joel Freis and Ben Robinson, are out with injuries and may not see action until after the second game of the season.

Up Front
However, Chris Burford is expected to give the Indians plenty of experience and help on the right wing and Irv Nikolai on the left.

The tackles are solid with seniors Eric Protiva and Troy Barbee on hand.

Russ Steele, a former center, and Bob Peterson are two seniors who give Curtice something to smile about at guard as does center Roch Conklin, another senior.

Tackle Dan Hinshaw, a soph, has looked good up front.

All told, the interior line appears set, the ends lack depth and the backfield is a question mark. But the schedule definitely goes like this:

Sept. 20—Washington State at Spokane.
Sept. 27—Rice.
Oct. 4—Northwestern.
Oct. 11—Washington.
Oct. 18—Air Force Academy.

Oct. 25—at UCLA.
Nov. 1—Southern California.
Nov. 8—at Oregon.
Nov. 15—Oregon State.
Nov. 22—At California.

Lewiston Puts 5 on All-Star
Portland (UPI)—Lewiston received five first places on the Northwest league all-star baseball team.

Catcher John McNamara, first baseman Bruce McIntosh, third baseman Hillis Layne, right fielder Arnie Hallgren and pitcher Thornton Kipper were named from the Broncs.

Second baseman Maurice Lerner and pitcher Ted Kambour of Yakima made the first team.

Eugene led the league in attendance with 83,879 fans.

Cas Unveils 1958 Ducks On Saturday

University of Oregon, Eugene—Coach Len Casanova unveils his eighth Oregon Webfoot squad this Saturday at Hayward field against an Idaho Vandal eleven which promises to be as tough as last year, and also puts an opening game win streak of five on the line in the PCC opener.

Like last fall when the Ducks barely beat the Vandals in a 9 to 6 game, the 44th stretch back to 1901 may be a repeat of the affair decided by Jack Morris' field goal.

The Webfoots have lost only three times to Idaho and not once since 1950.

And, Casanova has decided Nebraska, Idaho twice, Utah and Colorado in five straight Oregon openers.

Idaho is missing seven regulars from last year's strong squad, but will field a team in 1958 which Coach Skip Stahley feels will be faster and just as big.

Oregon returns five regulars from the PCC coach's camp of 57. Casanova knows that his starting line will be bigger and just as fast, and his backfield, three-quarterbacks new, has indicated top offensive potential.

Both coaches admit that the key spot in the '58 campaign will be at quarterback, too.

The Vandals are returning two juniors, Gary Farnworth and Bob Eyer, and directing the Ducks will be sophomore Dave Grosz, senior Paul Grover and Junior Sandy Fraser.

The most interesting combat of the day may turn out to be the rugged competition between heavy first lines. The Vandal's line, which will average nearly 214 pounds per man, is probably the biggest on the coast, and the Ducks have a 203-pound average for their seven starters, their largest in several seasons.

Coach Casanova is expected to go with ends Ron Stover and Alden Kimbrough, tackles Jim Linden and Darrel Aschbacher, guards Bob Grottkau and Joe Schaffeld, center Bob Peterson, quarterback Grosz, halfbacks Charlie Tourville and Willie West, and fullback Marian Holland.

Ex-Yankee Believed In Wreck
Red Bank, N. J. (UPI)—"When's daddy coming home, mommy?"

A grief-stricken Jane Stinweiss tried to provide the answer for her six children early today but couldn't. Neither could anybody else.

Because George (Snuffy) Stinweiss, ex-New York Yankee second baseman and American League batting champion in 1945, could be at the bottom of Newark Bay—imprisoned in one of the coaches of a commuter train that plunged through an open drawbridge Monday morning at nearby Bayonne, N. J.

Stinweiss left his home here in time to catch the ill-fated 9:16 a.m. Jersey Central train. He had a noontime luncheon appointment in New York.

A station agent at the Red Bank station reportedly saw Snuffy board one of the front cars of the train. He hasn't been heard from since.

Stinweiss, born Oct. 26, 1919, the son of a New York City policeman, entered the Yankees' farm system in 1940 after a brilliant baseball and football career at the University of North Carolina and joined the Yankees in 1943.

He remained with the Yankees until 1950 when he was traded to the St. Louis Browns and he was with the Cleveland Indians in 1951 and 1952.

Stinweiss had a 10-year major league batting average of .268 and appeared in three World Series for the Yankees.

His best year was 1945 when he led the American League with a .309 batting average, 107 runs scored, 195 hits, 22 triples and 33 stolen bases. The previous season he hit .319, collected 205 hits and stole 55 bases.

Jackson Fights Well
Sherbrooke, Que. (UPI)—Tommy Hurricane Jackson won one of his greatest fights Monday night before outpointing Johnny Vick of Rochester, N. Y., in a comeback bout.

The one-time heavyweight contender from New York was examined by three local doctors Monday and pronounced in perfect shape.

This despite the opposition of the National Boxing association which urged promoters not to book the Hurricane for fights because of a bad beating he took at the hands of Eddie Machen last November.

Overjoyed by the doctor's decision, Jackson shook off some early round slugging by Vick to gain a unanimous decision in their 10-round bout at the Sherbrooke arena.

SPORTS OSC, USC Touch Off Coast Grid Season

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International
College football beats the official opening of autumn by a single day when it stages the first full Saturday of the 1958 season this week, but only a few of the highly-touted teams—namely Oregon

State, North Carolina, Texas Christian, and UCLA—will be in action.

Oregon State, hailed as a real power in the "lame duck" Pacific Coast Conference, actually touches off the fireworks Friday night when it visits Southern California.

But then things really start popping Saturday. The emphasis, as usual in the opening weeks of the season, is on inter-sectional competition with the UCLA-Pittsburgh clash at Los Angeles possibly the headline. The UCLAs aren't eligible for a Rose Bowl bid but could raise a big uproar in the PCC.

Also on the inter-sectional program are the two games that will be televised—Missouri-Vanderbilt and Denver-Oklahoma State. These will be telecast on a split network to opposite halves of the country.

And then there's Kansas vs. a Texas Christian team that is a slight pre-season favorite in the Southwest conference; Nebraska vs. a Penn State team that is expected to rival Army and Navy for top honors in the East; Kansas State vs. Wyoming; and Rice vs. LSU, and Texas vs. Georgia in a pair of night games.

Local Rivals
North Carolina, which is reportedly ready to make a real bid for national power in its third season under Jim Tatum, meets arch-rival North Carolina State in a game that sets the mood for a number of "local rivalry" games that will be bidding for attention.

Also in this category are Cincinnati vs. Dayton, Iowa State vs. Drake, Texas A&M vs. Texas Tech, Atlantic Coast Conference games with South Carolina vs. Duke, and Wake Forest vs. Maryland, Pacific Coast Conference games with Oregon vs. Idaho and Washington State vs. Stanford, and a Southeastern Conference game with Florida vs. Tulane.

Kentucky, among the major teams, got a jump on the field by walloping the invading University of Hawaii, 51-0, last Saturday night as sophomore Calvin Bird scored four touchdowns.

America Cup Tuneups Set By Columbia

Newport, R.I. (UPI)—Columbia, U. S. defender of the America's Cup, today launched a final four days of tuneups before the race series begins Saturday.

The 12-meter yacht underwent several days of gear changes, including new sails, according to officials. She is not expected to do any sailing today.

The new equipment will be tested against the Weatherly beginning Wednesday. The Weatherly is one of the three vessels which the Columbia raced during the summer-long trials to determine the U. S. defender.

Meanwhile, the British challenger, Sceptre, which was greeted briefly by President Eisenhower Monday, will sail today and Wednesday and then be hauled out at Newport Shipyard for some modifications.

The President was returning from his Coasters Harbor Island office to his Fort Adams residence in the White House cruiser Barbara Anne when the meeting with the Sceptre occurred.

Trojans Preparing For OSC Friday
Los Angeles (UPI)—The University of Southern California Trojans worked out under the lights Monday night at Bovard field in preparation for their opener with Oregon State at the Coliseum Friday night.

Coach Don Clark held contact work to a minimum to avoid injuries. He also scheduled a dress rehearsal tonight at the Coliseum.

Machen May Get Return With Swede
New York (UPI)—Truman Gibson planned to unveil today the contract for a return bout between unbeaten Ingemar Johansson, sensational Swedish heavyweight, and his latest victim, Eddie Machen of San Francisco.

On the basis of this contract, Gibson, president of the International Boxing club, has informed the Illinois State Athletic commission he hopes to stage a Johansson-Machen fight at Chicago stadium in late January.

Gibson was scheduled to meet Machen and manager Sid Flaherty at International airport today on their arrival from Sweden. Flaherty had promised to hand Gibson the document to the press at IBC headquarters.

Machen was knocked out in the first round by European champion Johansson at Gothenburg, Sweden, Sunday night.

Johansson's manager, Edwin Ahlqvist, denied the existence of any return bout contract Monday morning at Gothenburg.

But Gibson declared, "Flaherty told me positively both Ahlqvist and Johansson had signed the contract. Both signatures are on it. Moreover, only last Friday Ahlqvist admitted to me on the phone they had signed a return contract."

After displaying the contract today, Gibson plans to file it with the Illinois commission to make certain that Johansson fulfills it before attempting to fight anyone else in the United States.

Red Hat Days Open Sept. 26
Red Hat days will start on Sept. 26 according to Mark Norton, Red Hat chairman for Jackson county.

Purpose of the program is to emphasize hunting safety and the importance of good feeling between hunters and landowners.

Norton urged business establishments and others to cooperate by planning special displays or other activities for Sept. 26 and in the weeks to follow.

Again this year the pledge cards were donated by Keep Oregon Green Inc., sportsmen's groups, timber companies and others have contributed funds to finance the program this year.

GOP CHAIRMAN DIES
Point Pleasant, N.J. (UPI)—Samuel Louis Zidine, 56, state chairman of the Republican Party, died Monday.

SIGN FOR OCTOBER FIGHT
Los Angeles (UPI)—Mexican boxing sensation Mauro Vazquez has signed to meet California featherweight champion Jimmy Moser in a 10-round bout at Olympic Auditorium Oct. 2. Vazquez is undefeated in 18 professional bouts and has won 14 by knockouts.

HOLDING first press conference since he was paralyzed in New York auto accident, Roy Campanella, Dodgers catcher, says he is making steady progress.

Hockey Play Set Oct. 8

Montreal (UPI)—The 1958-59 National Hockey league season will open in Chicago on Wednesday, Oct. 8, with the Black Hawks meeting the New York Rangers.

The defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens will open in Montreal and the Toronto Maple Leafs host the Black Hawks and the Bruins the Rangers on Saturday, Oct. 11, in other openers.

Games will be played every night of the week during the 1958-59 season with the exception of Monday and Friday. A total of 20 games are scheduled for Saturday afternoons, all of them to be televised nationally.

The season runs through to March 22 with each club scheduled for 70 games—35 at home and 35 on the road.

Tacoma In Final Play
Detroit (UPI)—Tacoma gained the finals of the American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament Monday by defeating Cincinnati 9-1 and Houston 6-5.

Indians Scrimmage In Light Workout
Stanford, Calif. (UPI)—The Stanford Indians, who open their 1958 season against the Washington State Cougars, held a light workout Monday with no contact work.

Giants Need To Develop Tackle, Guard Strength

(This is another in a series on the 1958 prospects of National Football League teams.)

By EARL WRIGHT
New York (UPI)—The New York Giants are ready for another crack at one of the most frustrating tasks in sports—trying to catch the Cleveland Browns.

New York is just one of five teams that have been chasing Coach Paul Brown's Browns since they entered the National Football league in 1950. But the Giants probably are a bit more sensitive about Cleveland's domination of the division than the other four Eastern clubs.

New York usually has been closest to the Browns at the end of the season and won the Eastern crown in 1956, the only year Cleveland failed to win since entering the NFL. The Browns regained the title last year, forcing the Giants to accept second place for the fourth time since 1949.

Wanted Guards And Tackles
The Giants begin the 1958 season with an excellent offensive backfield and defensive platoon. But the team's success may depend upon whether first-class players can be developed for an offensive tackle job and the guard positions.

The Giants have an all-league offensive tackle in Roosevelt Brown. Two rookies, J. T. Frankenger of Kentucky and Frank Youser of Minnesota, are the top candidates for the other offensive tackle spot. Ray Beck and Bill Austin, two of the team's best offensive guards, retired after the 1957 campaign. That left only two experienced men, Jack Stroud and Jack Spinks, for those posts. The Giants hope Bob Mischak, former Army end, will prove capable of helping Stroud and Spinks with the guard chores.

Rival defenses gave New York's offensive line a hard time in most of the pre-season warmup games this year, pouring through to down the quarterbacks or force them into quick throws which led to interceptions. Coach Jim Lee Howell and his assistants are working to solve the line problem.

The Giants are set at the other positions. They have experienced quarterbacks in Charley Conerly and Don Heinrich. Frank Gifford probably is the league's most versatile left halfback. Alex Webster, the right halfback, is an excellent ball-carrier and receiver.

Mel Triplett is an experienced fullback. Webster and Phil King, a 220-pound rookie from Vanderbilt, also may be used at that position. Don Maynard, a rookie from Texas Western, is the fastest man the Giants have had in years and figures to be a threat as a receiver on long passes. And don't be surprised if Gifford pops up as a quarterback if Conerly and Heinrich disappoint the coaches.

Kyle Rote, Bob Schnelker and Ken MacAfee are veteran ends with Rote one of the league's masters at getting open to take short passes. Ray Wietcha is a top-notch center.

The Giants believe their defense will be stronger than it was in 1957. Roosevelt Grier, 280-pound all-league star who was a key player on the 1956 championship squad, returns to his defensive tackle post following a service stint. The Giants got Lindon Crawford, one of the league's better defensive backs, in a deal with the Chicago Cardinals before the training season began.

Jim Patton, Ed Hughes and Emilen Tunnell round out an experienced defensive backfield. Other key defensive players are ends Andy Robustelli and Ed Jim Katcavage, tackle Ed Modzelewski, middle guard Sam Huff and line-backers Bill Svoboda and Harland Svare.
