

Fireman's Body Being Sought in New Jersey Wreck

Bayonne, N. J. —UPI— The body of the fireman who should have saved a Jersey Central commuter train from plunging into Newark Bay, but didn't—still was missing today, leaving wide open the question of why the tragedy occurred.

Investigators had expected the body of fireman Peter Andrew would be aboard the lead locomotive of the train that ran through an open drawbridge Monday, killing possibly as many as 48 persons. When the engine was retrieved late Wednesday night, however, the body was not found. Had Andrew's body been found in the cab, investigators had hoped its position might have helped to solve the mystery.

To Raise Second Engine

The second engine, which was in tandem with the first and was believed empty of personnel, was to be raised about mid-afternoon today.

Probers seeking the cause of the wreck also wanted to run tests on Andrew's body to determine whether, by some twist of fate, he might have suffered a seizure just before the wreck, as engineer Lloyd Wilburn is believed to have.

Autopsy reports on the body of Wilburn, retrieved shortly after the accident, showed he had died apparently of a heart attack.

Hudson County Prosecutor Lawrence A. Whipple said on Wednesday the train should have been stopped by an automatic derailer after it went through three warning lights but was going at "an abnormal rate of speed" and bumped over 500 feet of tie and shot into the water.

Fairview Financing Criticism Target

Portland —UPI— Clifford C. Comisky, president of the Oregon Association for Retarded Children, Wednesday criticized the Oregon Legislature and the public for failing to provide adequate financing for Oregon Fairview Home in Salem.

Comisky said his organization had gone on record in defense of the Salem institution against Washington county charges. Dr. Irving Hill, Fairview superintendent, was under fire from Washington County District Attorney Francis Linklater after a Fairview patient admitted setting a $50,000 church fire in Hillsboro.

Comisky urged the Legislative committee on Mental Retardation to go on record in favor of increased personnel and salaries at Fairview to assure better supervision of Fairview patients.

Trucks Starting To Roll in State

Portland—UPI—Heavy trucks were to start rolling on Oregon highways today to end the 38-day old strike-lockout which halted common trucking carriers in 11 western states.

Will C. Long, secretary of the Truck Operators League of Oregon, sent a telegram to all league members Wednesday telling them operations would resume one minute after midnight of Wednesday.

Teamsters Union's business agents said their drivers will report for work today and confirmed the end of the strike.

Oregon teamsters voted Monday to accept an employers' contract offer.

Townsend Still Hopes for Pension

Portland—UPI—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 92, whose plan for $200 a month for everyone over 60 a quarter of a century ago captured the nation's imagination, says he thinks that someday Congress will see "things his way."

Dr. Townsend was visiting here to make seven speeches in six days. He said that his plans have changed somewhat in detail during the years but that the principle remained the same.

He said he wanted the government to establish and maintain universal insurance to cover all American citizens. He admitted it was "a big order" but said it "can be done."
