West Coast Line, ALPA Agree To Submit Dispute

Los Angeles—UPI—Negotiations of West Coast Airlines and the Air Line Pilots Association reached an agreement early today to submit their contract dispute to a neutral party.

The agreement came after an all-night bargaining session past a midnight strike deadline set by 92 of the company's pilots who fly routes in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Howard Jones, West Coast representative of the ALPA, said George Leonard, an official of the airline, and C. N. Sayen, president of the ALPA, had agreed to accept a recommendation of the National Mediation Board.

The board suggested the parties submit the contract dispute to arbitration or to a neutral one-man fact finding panel to investigate the questions involved and make recommendations.

ALPA Reserves Right
The company and pilots agreed on the one-man panel with the ALPA reserving the right to set another strike deadline if it did not agree with the findings of the neutral party.

Although pilots of West Coast Airlines technically went out on strike at midnight, Jones said he did not believe any planes were grounded.

He said the company had no flights between midnight and 6 a.m. which would have been affected by the walk-out.

The major issue in the negotiations was wages. Roughly, the pilots sought a $150 a month increase in addition to vacations concessions and other fringe benefits.

Oil Firm Purchases Hilton Debentures

Portland—UPI—Union Oil Company Wednesday pledged itself to a $250,000 purchase of four per cent debentures and pushed the campaign for a new Hilton hotel here to 68 per cent of completion.

The Portland business community has been engaged in a drive to raise $3 million through sales of 25-year debentures and thus assure a start on the downtown convention center. Balance of the financing and a block-square site for the development are ready and completion of the debenture drive is all that stands in the way of an immediate construction start. The sale will end Sept. 26.
