

Watercolor Exhibit Opens At Purucker Music House

A group of 22 unusual watercolor artists are now on display at Purucker's music store. Brought to Medford by Clifford Platz, the paintings are the work of members of the Master Watercolor Society of Oregon.

The paintings for the most part are rather large in size and are impressive as to both subject matter and execution. Some are inspired by nature and others are abstracts. The artists are from various Oregon cities.

The exhibit includes a work by Lorraine Welsh entitled "Sixteen Pines and a Poplar," one by Ruth Halverson called "Mountains" and one by Ray Levra. Ruth Grover's entry is called "Tidal World" and one by Maggie Karl is "Green Door in a Back Alley."

Willard K. Martin has one picture in the group, and Mildred Werner's entry is "Fog and Boats." Percy Manner is represented in the exhibit by "Tenements" and Prof. Robert E. Huck's entry is called "Newport Harbor."

Others are "St. Francis" by Mildred Ruhndorf; "Coastal North" by Prof. Nelson Sandgren; "Willamette River" by Menalkas Selander; "After Glow" by Carl Hall and "Oyster Rock" the work of Prof. Demetrius Jameson.

John Waddingham entered his "Gourmets" and Maude Wanker is represented by "The Garden." Imanuel Pildak is represented by "Greek Island," Frank Beer by "Tree Theme" and Ethel Williams by "Shipwrecked" and Betty Allyn by "Winter Storm." Wayne T. Lill has one picture in the show, and Jack Metcalf's entry is "Beach Expression."

This show is considered an unusually fine one, and anyone interested is invited to call at the store to view the works.—O.S.

Royal Lady Bugs and grand cooties will hold a council of administration October 11-12 at the VFW hall, Grants Pass.

Gold Hill Unit Names Committees

Gold Hill — Committee chairmen were named, reports given and plans for the coming year's activities of Gold Hill unit were discussed at the first meeting of the season held September 16 in the home of Mrs. George Smith on Sardine Creek. The president of the group, Mrs. Ted Schoenemann, presided.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ivan Governor and Mrs. Sidney Anderson. Visitors were Mrs. Donald Visberry, Mrs. Ray Davis and Mrs. Nina Dusenberry, all Gold Hill.

Chairman named were Mrs. Clarence Parsley, hospitality; Mrs. George Dorman, sunshine; Mrs. Arthur Boye, finance; Mrs. Clyde Kell, publicity; T. B. Seal sale chairman, Mrs. Melvin Burnette and Mrs. Loyd Dusenberry; Mrs. Paul Molloy and Mrs. Dale Smith, cancer; Mrs. Delos Walker and Mrs. Wilmer Bailey, polo; Mrs. Molloy, child guidance; Mrs. Harry Quinn, flood control, with Mrs. E. C. Hoffman as alternate; Mrs. Melvin Burnette, clinics; Mrs. J. G. Kofahl, scrapbook; and Mrs. Jack Cline, supplies.

Prior to the meeting Tuesday, Mrs. Molloy, Mrs. Boye and Mrs. Schoenemann attended an informative session on cancer at the Country Club in Medford. They reported that a house to house cancer-fund drive is planned for the month of April.

Mrs. Burnette reported on the well child clinic held August 6 in Patrick school. Nineteen children were examined by Dr. A. Erin Merkel, Jackson county health officer, on that date.

Mrs. Hoffman told of the tour of the new Rogue Valley hospital in Medford early in the summer.

Mrs. Schoenemann reported on the annual tuberculosis meeting that she attended in Portland last summer.

Mrs. Quinn plans to attend the flood control meeting which is set for October 14.

Plans were made to hold a rummage sale to raise funds to promote the many projects carried on by the unit. The date will be announced at a later date.

The October 7 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ed Knapp at 1006 Sunset in Medford. Mrs. Knapp, a past president of the local unit, has been named chairman of the county tuberculosis seal sale activities.

Mrs. Boye and Mrs. Schoenemann will be co-hostesses for the October meeting.

Also announced at the meeting was the dinner planned by the Woman's Society of the Gold Hill Community Methodist church which will be given Friday, September 26, in the dining room at the Gold Hill Grange hall. Serving will begin at five o'clock.

Revolutionary New Fastener Now on Market

United Press International A revolutionary fastener that eliminates buttons, snaps and zippers is on the market. It is washable and cannot jam. The fastener consists of two strips of nylon that close when pressed together and open when peeled apart. It is being used in a variety of items, from belts and handbags to upholstery covers on airplanes and sign boxes on buses. The product is available in black, white and beige, with a complete color range planned for spring.

An electronic vacuum cleaner combines two units in one and enables a motorized brush rug attachment to operate without wires or batteries. The second motor operates a canister unit for above-floor cleaning. The cleaner, which took three years to develop, has an allergy-proof filter, eliminates emptying a dust bag, is 12 inches high and comes in two-tone green and sand with gold trim.

Now cooks can rub garlic on food and salad bowls instead of fingers. The garlic comes in a new dispenser with a roll-on top.

It's possible to buy an inexpensive bicycle type home exerciser. The apparatus tones and firms muscles, stimulates circulation and keeps the figure trim. It is compact and portable, fits easily into a closet for storage, is noiseless, tip-proof, and is adaptable for children and adults.

Now available is a modern version of an early Egyptian milk bath. It is a milk product incorporating vitamins and proteins in bubble bath form. The manufacturer says the scented bubble bath softens and soothes the skin.

OEA Policies Reviewed At Meeting in Ashland

Ashland — Education leaders of Josephine, Klamath and Jackson counties met at Southern Oregon College Saturday for the Oregon Education association's leadership conference. Purpose of the workshop was to review policies of the association, services offered to members, and to give an opportunity for the leaders to discuss common problems and projects.

Members gathered for breakfast at the Plaza cafe at which time Edward Elliot, field director for the association, reviewed services of the state and National Educational associations and their affiliated departments. Department head, Mrs. Vivian Seale, continued Mr. Elliot's review with explanations of her services as placement director of OEA.

After breakfast the group adjourned to Britt Memorial center at Southern Oregon college where Dr. Elmo Stevenson, president, welcomed them by pointing out the need for rapid expansion of Oregon's institutions of higher learning to accommodate the growing enrollment.

Mrs. Maxine Smith, Medford, vice president of OEA, spoke on the topic, "You and Your Oregon Education Association." She spoke of the historical development and present organization of the association and concluded by challenging the members with the question, "Where are we going?"

Following a short break, group discussion meetings were organized. These discussion groups dealt with the areas of educational legislation, group ethics, public relations, and other topics of pertinent interest to the respective groups. Ideas from the group discussions were given to the assembly during the afternoon session.

De Vere Taylor, Medford, OEA board of trustee member, outlined the duties of the board.

The afternoon session got under way with a talk, "Views on Education Over the United States," by James MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald is past president of the Student National Education association and during the past two years has covered approximately 80,000 miles within the United States in his official capacities. He is also a staff member of the Jackson County school superintendent's office.

Mrs. Merle Woodard spoke briefly to the group about insurance services offered to members of the association.

A regional director for the Department of Classroom Teachers, OEA, Mrs. Loughlin from Klamath county reported on plans for the forthcoming fall conference of classroom teachers to be held at Eugene October 24-25.

The full day workshop was concluded by Mrs. Carol Whetstone, Klamath County unit president.

Mrs. Viola Pomeroy, Jackson county unit president, headed the committee responsible for the planning of the workshop.

Master of ceremonies for the morning session was Walter Cofki, president of the Grants Pass Teachers' association.

Master of ceremonies for the afternoon session was David Branford, president of the Josephine County unit.

Grange to Hold Dinner, Program

Griffin Creek Grange will hold the annual booster night program at the Grange hall Thursday, September 25, at the Grange hall. A covered dish dinner will precede the program, and members are to bring friends and neighbors as guests. Games will follow the program.

Griffin Creek Grange Home Economics club met September 18 at the home of Mrs. Iva Harper street, 16 Laurel street. Dessert was followed by a business meeting. Plans were made for a rummage sale October 17 at the Grange hall from 1 to 9 p.m.

A bazaar and food sale are planned November 22.

Wigs, Real or Synthetic Said No Longer Just Fad

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

New York—It's getting so you can't tell the pompadour without a program.

All because of the wig hairdos which sprouted in Paris last year and now have become such an American fashion that Sears, Roebuck is selling them mail order.

"The wigs aren't a fad," said Doris Fleischer, treasurer of the Joseph Fleischer company, which has been in other people's hair for 128 years. "They'll stay in style because they provide the solution to a problem plaguing 50 per cent of the female population... that of baby-fine, limp locks."

Good Camouflage

But women other than those with hair problems are wearing the new crowning glories covering their own, in colors ranging from a conservative brown to a startling red and white candy stripe.

Stevenson and Roy Pruitt, the Leland Clarks, Ray Wise and Robert Dickey, all Medford; Arthur Hill and L. W. Frazier, Bend, Mrs. Alto Pruitt and Mrs. Marion Keim, and the Berg Martens, Medford.

Mrs. Frank R. Baker was tournament director, and Mrs. Dolph Phipps and Mrs. Robert Elliott were the entertainment committee.

A buffet supper followed Saturday night's play, and Sunday morning the group had breakfast at Rogue Valley Country club. Sunday afternoon the players were served pears, peaches and apples grown in the Rogue valley.

Games were played during the evening and a prize went to Mrs. Jensen.

Medford WCTU Holds Ceremony

Installation of officers was held at a meeting of Medford Women's Christian Temperance union held September 18 at Girls Community club. Mrs. Ernest Santo conducted the ceremony.

The new officers are Mrs. G. O. Sanden, president; Mrs. J. Claude Sparks, first vice-president; Mrs. Guy Cox, second vice-president; Mrs. Vivian Kyker, recording secretary; Mrs. Mabel Houck, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Geneva Schwann, treasurer.

Miss Anna Streed spoke on "Health Hazards of Insecticide Sprays."

Mrs. Sanden was elected delegate to the annual state convention of the union to be held October 14-17 in Portland. Mrs. Sparks was elected alternate.

A rummage sale was planned for November.

The Rev. Edwin Cox gave the devotions and Mrs. Sherman Moore sang.

Trumpeter Swan Nested in Malheur

Ontario—UPI—The trumpeter swan, North America's largest and rarest waterfowl has successfully nested in Malheur National Wildlife Refuge.

Refuge Manager John Scharff said the huge bird was spotted with a family and nest within the refuge on a recent aerial survey.

It is the first successful nesting of the rare swan in the 14,000-acre Malheur refuge.

Do not use chloride bleach when washing garments labeled "crease resistant," "minimum care," "drip dry," or "little or no ironing." The bleach can turn the fabric yellow and weaken it. Use a perborate powder bleach instead.

Birds vary in size from 300-pound ostriches to tiny hummingbird that weigh less than one-tenth of an ounce.

Health Committee Sponsors Program Planning Workshop

A workshop on program planning will be held Thursday, September 25, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, in the Red Cross building for the benefit of all persons interested in program planning for any civic group. The workshop will be sponsored by the family life committee of the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health association, and emphasis will be on health, mental health, and family life.

There will be a panel of four persons to discuss program planning. Participants will be Mrs. Leigh Gustison, first vice-president of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers; Miss Frances Clark, supervisor of nurses, Jackson County Health department; Mrs. John Boe, chairman, audio-visual aids, Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers; and the Rev. Richard Jones, minister, Eastwood Baptist church, Medford, and president of the Southern Oregon Child Guidance Clinic, association.

Materials and exhibits will be on display from many organizations which offer program assistance, and there will be an opportunity for persons attending to discuss individual program needs.
