

Morse Accuses Ike of Acting Beyond Powers

Washington - (UPI) - Sen. Wayne Morse has accused President Eisenhower of acting "unconstitutionally" in the Formosa strait crisis. He demanded an immediate special session of Congress to consider the matter "if we're going to avert war."

"I call upon the President of the United States to call the Congress into special session immediately and give us a report on the Quemoy situation," said the Oregon Democrat. "I call upon him to tell us what mutual agreement, if any, he has entered into with Chiang Kai-Shek on Quemoy and submit it to the Senate for ratification."

Acting Beyond Powers

"So long as the President follows the course of action on Quemoy that he is now following, he's acting unconstitutionally and beyond his powers. Article I, section 8 of the constitution does not give him the power to declare war. It gives it to the Congress of the United States."

"He'd better get the Congress back into session if we're going to avert war."

Morse, speaking here, appeared on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation program "Close-up," along with Rep. Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.). The program, broadcast in Toronto, televised Judd from St. Paul.

Brigitte Bardot Statue Unveiled

London - (UPI) - A new art masterpiece was unveiled to the world Thursday in a heavily guarded London movie house.

The masterpiece is a plastic (soft to the touch) statue of French movie actress Brigitte Bardot wearing half of a bikini - the lower half.

She is standing with arms folded across her 36-22-36 dimensions in such a lifelike pose that special police guards were posted around the tiny Cameo Royal Cinema in Charing Cross Road.

Hundreds of invited guests from the world of art, sculpture - and the movies - packed the small foyer as the unveiling hour arrived.

"It's a masterpiece," breathed the watchers as the drapes fell away in one of Britain's most successful publicity stunts for her new picture, "Love Is My Profession," opening in London Oct. 3.

Miss Bardot hasn't seen the statue which was constructed from photographs and tape measures. Her only available comments appeared in an interview with the British magazine Weekend.

"To the world I am a bad, bad little girl. People say I cannot act. That my looks, walk, and pout are more important than my talent. I agree with them."

Park Proposed at Government Island

Portland - (UPI) - Government island in the Columbia river was proposed by Multnomah county commissioners Thursday for development as a state park.

Commissioners sent letters to the State Highway Commission and to C. H. Armstrong, state park superintendent, expressing doubt the county could acquire the site and finance development of recreational facilities. The island is mostly owned by the State Game Commission.

Eastern Multnomah county residents last week urged the county develop the 1850-acre island as a recreational area.

De Gaulle Prepares Rebel Crackdown

Paris - (UPI) - Premier Charles De Gaulle's government is preparing a drastic crackdown on Algerian rebels who have terrorized France during the past month, it was reported Thursday.

The drive to stamp out the Algerian underground is expected to start after next Sunday's referendum on De Gaulle's "strong-man" constitution.

Information Minister Jacques Soustelle in a speech Wednesday night called for political action against France's big Communist Party.
