

Williams, Ashburn Capture Major League Baseball Batting Titles

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
Ted Williams in a walkover and Richie Ashburn in a fight to the finish—that's the story of Sunday's grand wintdowns of two of the most exciting fights for batting championships in big league history.

Williams, the Boston Red Sox' 40-year-old super-star who got off to one of the slowest starts of his career, wound up with his sixth American league title while Ashburn, the Philadelphia Phillies' spray-hitting center fielder, walked off with his second National league crown. Williams, turning back the clock 17 years to when he won his first title in 1941, went 2-for-4 as Boston beat Washington, 6-4 to finish at .328 and beat out teammate Pete Runnels, who went 0-for-4 Sunday and 5-for-19 in his last four games to close at .322. Williams, trailing Runnels by four points when the four-game series with the Senators started Friday, went 7-for-11 during the week end, recalling his magnificent last day 7-for-9 that boosted him to .406 in 1941. Three for Four Ashburn, who won his first NL title in 1955 with a .338 mark, had three singles in four tries as the Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4, in 10 innings to finish at .350. San Francisco's Willie Mays, starting his game at about the time Ashburn's season was over, needed a 5-for-5 day to beat Richie.

The great San Francisco centerfielder gave it all he had with a 3-for-5 day against

Braves Not Worried By Odds Favoring NY

Milwaukee—(UPI)—Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves today named left-hander Warren Spahn, a 22-game winner, to oppose Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees in the opening game of the World Series Wednesday.

National league pennant winners, who guards his words closely, wouldn't predict a repeat triumph for the Braves, who beat the Yankees in seven games in 1957.

By LEO H. PETERSON
UPI Sports Editor
Milwaukee, Wis.—(UPI)—Manager Fred Haney and his Milwaukee Braves today discounted the odds which have made the New York Yankees 13-10 favorites to win the World Series opening here on Wednesday.

But his players do so freely. "We'll take them again," shortstop Johnny Logan predicted. "We weren't supposed to be in the same class with them last year—on paper. But every one found out what class we were in on the field."

Low Burdette, who beat the Yankees three times in last October's series, said odds "don't bother us."

"What the heck, we were on the short end last year, too, weren't we?" snorted Haney. "But we wound up on top, didn't we?"

Neither Burdette nor Haney was concerned over the injury which Lew suffered on Friday night when he was struck on his pitching hand by a batted ball in the game against Cincinnati. X-rays showed no fracture or serious injury.

"But I suppose you have to have odds, so let 'em have 'em. We're going to do the same as last year—play 'em one game at a time."

The little manager of the

SF Giants Surprising During 1958

San Francisco—(UPI)—The San Francisco Giants had another season to look forward to today—but the one just finished won't be too bad to look back on, either.

The Braves from Haney on down, figure the odds-makers made the Yankees the favorites because they have a healthy Mickey Mantle and a potential full-time performer in first baseman Moose Skowron.

The surprising Giants, tabbed by most of the pre-season "experts" to finish no better than sixth in the tough National league coasted to a 7-2 victory over St. Louis in the season's finale Sunday, closing out the year with a solid hold on third place.

Rated Even
For Wednesday's opening game, the odds-makers made it a "pick 'em" contest. Uto had to lay the bookie 11 to 10 take.

After the first two games here—all of which are sell-outs in this enthusiastic baseball city—the Series will shift to New York with the third, fourth and fifth games scheduled for Yankee Stadium on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Oct. 4, 5 and 6. Friday, Oct. 3 will be a day off for travel.

If the sixth and seventh games are necessary they are scheduled for Milwaukee on Oct. 8 and 9, with Oct. 7 off for travel. In case there is a postponement of any game the teams will remain where they are until the postponed game is played.

And the astonishing figure, which included 19,435 Sunday, was compiled in little Seals stadium, with a 23,000 capacity, the smallest park in the majors.

Budget Patty Net Champ
Berkeley, Calif.—(UPI)—Veteran Budget Patty fought off exhaustion and a tough young opponent Sunday to capture the singles crown at the 69th Pacific Coast Tennis championships.

Patty, 34, who came from Los Angeles and now lives in Paris, downed British Davis Cup ace Mike Davies, 6-4, 7-5, 13-15, 6-2 in a gruelling three-hour battle.

Britain's sensational teenage feminine star, Christine Truman, trimmed Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 6-2, 6-4 in the women's singles final.

Ulf Schmidt of Sweden and Louis Ayala of Chile had little trouble in downing the local duo of Cliff Mayne and Hugh Dittler in the men's doubles final.

Miss Hard and Hugh Stewart of Pasadena downed Miss Truman and Eduardo Soriano of Argentina, 6-2, 6-2, in the mixed doubles final.

TOO PRETTY—A strike of 4500 office employees of Pan American World Airways has been threatened in New York over (among other issues) the treatment of platinum-dyed Jean Marchesani, 20, a former sales agent in Pan Am's Fifth ave. office. A spokesman for the Air Transport Division of Brotherhood of Railway Clerks said it was the "tone down your makeup" case against Miss Marchesani and not other contract issues that riled the girls covered by the present contract.
