

Public Hearing Demanded for State Policeman

Milwaukee—(UPI)—Rep. Richard Groener, Milwaukee Democrat, today demanded an open and public hearing for Pvt. Robert Wampler, an Oregon state police officer ordered before a police department disciplinary board.

It was Groener who first accused H. G. Maison, superintendent of state police, of setting up a quota of citations that each officer must issue.

Maison denied that the Groener issue was broached when he summoned the officer before him earlier this week and he said he had not yet prepared charges against the officer. Wampler denied that he had anything to do with the information on which Groener based his charges but said he agreed with much that the legislator said.

Violation of Rules
Wampler said Maison told

Missionary to Speak In Jacksonville Church

Robert Remington, a missionary in India now home on furlough, will be guest speaker in the Old Historical church, across from the museum in Jacksonville at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 2.

He has been working under the service of Evangelical Alliance Mission in India during the past seven years. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Remington, Medford, while in this area.

him he would be called before a disciplinary board and that he had been "talking openly and covertly with others" instead of going to a superior officer. Maison told newsmen only that any charges against the Milwaukee officer would arise out of violation of department rules and regulations. Wampler said he did not say a word when summoned before Maison in Salem.

Groener charged today that the Oregon motorist public was suffering from a rash of "unjust citations" and that even the issuing officers were ashamed to write them.

Pickin' Pears News and Notes From Camp White

By SID HOLLINGSWORTH
Frank Wickam's hobby is reading. He likes adventure stories and anything pertaining to the south seas has a personal interest to him. He lived for some time before WWII in Tahiti and would like to go back there.

Appreciation of good writing developed in an interesting way. In Tahiti he became acquainted with James Norman Hall, coauthor of "Mutiny on the Bounty," who did much of his writing in later years at this home there.

"He was a quiet and unassuming chap and you couldn't help liking him," Frank says. "He rode a bicycle around the island as most everyone does there, and he was never conspicuous socially. It seemed, he was always busy writing at his home, where he lived with his French wife."

"I was on the ship with them going over, and while he could afford to travel first class and dine with the captain, he chose second class as more desirable." Frank also visited with the Halls in Tahiti.

Hall in later years made his home in Sausalito, across the bay from San Francisco. He and Nordoff, his collaborator, were in the Lafayette esca-drille and went to Tahiti together after World War I.

Wickam says he found Hall more English than American, notwithstanding the fact that he was born in Iowa. Hall acquired his English manner as a British Tommy under Kitchener before joining the Foreign Legion.

Several of the members find it difficult to pronounce Caesar Muzzioli's name.

The band of musicians is always popular either on their regular program each month or for special entertainment and ceremonies. The Red Cross presented them in a variety show last month.

On this occasion, Muzzioli introduced a protege who first studied with him in Boston. The family moved to California and the pupil commuted to Medford to continue his accordion lessons. He found this somewhat inconvenient and so he has moved bag and baggage to Medford.

Army Deserter To Go Free; Plans To Live in France

Verdun, France—(UPI)—U.S. Army Pvt. Wayne Powers, who hid for 14 years with his French girl friend and became the father of five children, will become a free man next week, the Army announced today.

Powers, 37, from Chillicothe, Mo., was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor by a Verdun court martial last Aug. 1. The sentence was later reduced to six months.

But today Brig. Gen. Robert J. Fleming, commander of the U. S. base at Verdun, announced that Powers would be turned free next Tuesday and be given a dishonorable discharge.

To Receive Passport
Thursday he will go to the American consulate in Strasbourg to receive an American passport which will permit him to live in France with his sweetheart, Yvette Bleuse and their children.

Powers intends to marry Yvette and settle down in France.

He was still in the Verdun stockade today and will be until he is dishonorably discharged on Oct. 9.

Powers pleaded guilty to the charge of desertion before a general courts martial here last summer. He was sentenced to 10 years, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

But his lawyers had entered a "negotiated plea" of guilty, and four days later Fleming reduced the sentence to six months at hard labor.

Clatsop Sheriff To Serve 4 Years

Salem—(UPI)—Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton said in an opinion today that the candidate elected sheriff of Clatsop county will serve a full four years.

The elected sheriff will take the place of Paul Kearney who was named U. S. marshal for Oregon. Since the vacancy occurred less than 70 days prior to the November election candidates are nominated by the central committees of the major political parties.

Dominican Sister Loses Her Halo

Memphis, Tenn.—(UPI)—Sister Fides lost her halo when she donned a "shocking pink" habit. But her new look was an instant hit with Dominican Sisters at Siena College.

The halo showed up on monitors at the city's educational television station while Sister Fides was rehearsing for a televised algebra course. It was caused by lights reflecting from her black habit.

Sister Fides dyed her habit pink and draped her head with a white veil. The halo disappeared.

Bill Black, who has conducted this column during the past summer, has moved to Ashland where he is registered as a student at Southern Oregon college.

His friends gave him a farewell party Friday afternoon, arranged by the Readers and Writers club, sponsored by Enid Holmes, librarian. Before leaving, Black received a letter from Rinehart, book publisher, that his novel manuscript is being considered for publication. He has some work to do on this, he says, before submitting the final chapters for review.

John W. Sinders, personnel officer, who is coordinator for selective placement of the physically handicapped, and a member of the Jackson county committee, announces that during the "Hire the Handicapped Week" the domiciliary will receive visitors for guided tours on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 8 and 9.

Dr. A. S. Anderson, chief medical officer, who has taken over the duties of chief of physical medicine and rehabilitation at the domiciliary, is now a member of the committee for employment of the physically handicapped, and is showing active interest in the program. Dr. Anderson has specialized in this field of medicine both in and out of the Veterans Administration.

Several of the members find it difficult to pronounce Caesar Muzzioli's name.

Domiciliary members have a reminder in the theater of the support they gave the Dairy Maids last summer when they were contending for the state softball championship. It is a portable TV set presented recently by the Eagle Point Lions club.

LeRoy Regester, president, wrote the members: "The Eagle Point Lions club would like to show their appreciation in a material way by presenting a portable TV set and an autographed picture of the Dairy Maids, 1958 state champions."

The Oak Knoll golfers who contested against the pick of Camp White pitch and putt players Sunday afternoon found the greens harder to approach than appears on the surface. They tied the local golfers, who also find the little course bewildering at times.

There are no other hazards than the roll and location of the greens. A return engagement is planned for the veterans at the Oak Knoll country club course in the near future.

The auxiliary of the Veterans of World War I have adopted the "leap year" idea for their scheduled Monday evening dance, which will be held the fifth Monday of the month. They sponsored the dance Monday evening. Their next dance on the fifth Monday will be Dec. 29.
