

BLM Requested to Publish Notice Of Surface Rights

The forest service has requested the bureau of land management to publish formal public notice regarding the determination of surface rights on mining claims in the Union and Applegate areas. Notices will appear in local newspapers, and a copy will be delivered to persons whose names and addresses are determined as provided in the new law. Owners of mining claims located prior to July 23, 1955, will have 150 days after the first publication to assert surface rights if he wishes, officials said. If the claimant ignores the notice, they said, he waives rights to the surface until the claim goes to patent, yet maintains his original mining rights. The claimant may file a verified statement asserting his rights, in which case the claim will be examined by mineral examiners. If the claimants rights are considered valid, the forest service probably will recognize such rights and not attempt to establish the public's rights to control the surface resources under the new law, officials noted. Claims of questionable validity will be considered before a hearing officer of the bureau of land management, at which both the claimant and the forest service will present arguments. The claimant will retain his mineral rights regardless of the decision, but if the decision is in the Claimants' favor, he also retains surface rights. Maps of the Union and Applegate areas are now being published, and copies of the Multiple-Use law, and procedure for determination of surface rights are available for inspection at the forest supervisor's office in the post office building in Medford.

BIT TOO FRIENDLY
Tampa, Fla. —(UPI)—When the case of Arlin Esper Horsley was called in Traffic court Wednesday he happily sang out to the judge: "I'm here, bub."
Judge W. Marion Hendry promptly ordered Horsley held in jail until he sobered up.

Fees Now Change On Inspections

Salem — The State department of agriculture has changed its schedule of fees for the inspection and certification of cold pack goods in barrels, brine cherries and shelled walnuts, effective on Sept. 26.
The new regulations place a charge of 10 cents on each additional barrel of cold pack goods or brine cherries over 150 barrels. Formerly, this fee was paid of a carlot basis; the charge for any barrels over 150 was at least $8, the minimum for one-half car or less.

The inspection fee for shelled walnuts was raised from 12 to 15 cents per hundredweight with a minimum charge of $3.60.
The complete schedule of fees for the inspection and certification of produce may be obtained from the department's plant division in Salem.

Weather Bureau Tells Prospects

Washington —(UPI)—The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for October:
Temperatures will average below seasonal normals over most of the nation east of the Continental Divide except for near to slightly above normal in New England and along the South Atlantic Coast. Greatest departures are indicated over the Central Plains.
Above normal temperatures are predicted for West Coast states and near normal in the
