Parrish Low Bidder On Government Job

Stanley G. Parrish, Medford contractor, plans to start structural alterations to the federal office building at 33 North Riverside ave. in approximately 10 days.

Parrish submitted a low bid of $3,385 recently to the public buildings service in Seattle for the project.

Alterations to the roof structure, including trusses and beams, and new treads on the stairs are included in the work, Parrish said.

Other bidders included Myers D. Jones, Medford, $4,276; Armin Richter and Associates, Medford, $5,089; Batzer Construction company, Medford, $6,180; and Lorentz Bruun company, Portland, $7,671.

Owen-Parker Ranch Near Ashland Sold To Baer Company

Ashland - Baer Ranch, Inc., which has extensive holdings in Arizona and Nevada, has purchased grazing land and cattle of the Owen - Parker ranch south and east of Ashland. The transaction involved more than $100,000.

The purchase from Mrs. Camilla Owen, Minnie Owen Parker and Sumner Parker was for 4,120 deeded acres and more than 250 head of cattle. The transaction also included the ranch's grazing permit in the Dead Indian Cattlemen's association.

The Baer company also has purchased the Richard Hein property, which amounts to about 560 acres, on Cove creek. Earlier this year, the Baers purchased the Austie Barron ranch.

The recent purchase gives the Baer company properties totaling more than 12,000 deeded acres under fence and permits to run about 1,000 head of cattle on grazing lands. The ranching property is the largest cattle firm in this section of the state.

In the Owen - Parker purchase, Baer bought 790 acres in the Dead Indian ranch, on Conde creek and Dead Indian creek, and 3,400 acres north of Pompadour bluff, or Owen pasture. The Hein prop-

Dailey's Motel Near Ashland Purchased

Ashland—Dailey's motel on Highway 99 five miles south of Ashland has been sold to William and Mabel Vanderwood of Corvallis.

Mrs. Corabelle Daily will move to Corvallis and assume operation of a student house near the Oregon State college campus which the Vanderwoods have been operating. The new owners will assume operation of the motel here late in December.

Mrs. Dailey has been operating the motel with her son, Richard, since Wayne Dailey was killed by Robert Ayres in March this year. Ayres had stopped to obtain gas.

Starch is found in all green plants and serves as a reserve food supply.

Cadillacs Banned From Parking Lot

St. Louis, Mo.—UPI—A parking lot company has told owners of 1959 Cadillacs to take their business somewhere else.

In a newspaper advertisement Thursday, City Auto Parks said: "Due to the current trend toward ever longer and wider automobiles and the adornment of bumpers with glass, we regret to announce we will not be able to accept for parking certain of the 1959 model automobiles. The first of these will be all of the 1959 Cadillacs.

"If other makes exhibit similar characteristics, we will be obliged to decline these also."
