

Members Join Unit Of Society

A meeting of the Medford Unit of the American Cancer Society was held recently at Hillcrest orchards to discuss the April fund-raising campaign. Several new members were present for the planning session, and others will join the unit this month, to aid in the expanded program of the Cancer society.

The Medford unit now has 21 members, and work assignments are being considered for eight new members. Mrs. Thomas Emmens, Mrs. Eugene Meyerding, Mrs. Robert Buck, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. John Weisel, Mrs. Richard Schwahn, Mrs. Ivan Harrington and Mrs. Fred Lewis.

Mrs. Ralph Odell and Mrs. Warren Bayliss are returning to the unit after several years of inactive status.

The duties of the present members were discussed for the new members, to help them understand the many functions of the organization. Mrs. John Day is chairman of the group, and Mrs. B. B. Bartels serves as co-chairman and as secretary. Mrs. L. S. Ellis, Mrs. L. W. Bates, and Mrs. Russell Barnes are in charge of the distribution of educational films and speakers, radio and television, where she is assisted by Mrs. Ivan Burton.

Mrs. Ray Frisbie is in charge of the service program; Mrs. Fred Burich takes care of memorials, and Mrs. Ray Casterline is assigned to publicity.

Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Mrs. Fred Spiegelberg were co-chairmen of the silver tea last April, and Mrs. James Wilson will replace Mrs. Thompson in that capacity this coming year.

A plan was outlined for a door-to-door campaign for funds in April, since the American Cancer society has withdrawn from the United Medford Campaign.

University Women Plan Annual Children's Play

The annual children's play sponsored by Medford branch, American Association of University Women, will be a presentation of "Rumpelstiltskin" by Southern Oregon College Players.

Mrs. Berwick Wood, chairman, announced at an AAUW meeting Wednesday evening that the children's play will probably be in early December this year.

The president, Mrs. John Stong, called attention to the change of time for the Radio Story Hour. The new time is 3:15 Monday through Friday on KYJC.

An entertaining skit pointing up the County Home Rule amendment on the November 4 ballot was presented. Mrs. Gordon Mackenzie, legislative chairman, introduced the cast: Mrs. Ben Day, Mrs. John Ousterhout, Mrs. Thomas Goff and Mrs. J. R. Porto. The skit, complete with costumes, was presented by the League of Women Voters.

The Family Counseling unit just initiated in Medford was the subject of the program. Mrs. John Brandenburg directed the presentation with a combination of serious analysis and wit. Summaries of interviews with doctors, lawyers, ministers, school principals and social workers were given by Mrs. Brandenburg, Mrs. Paul McDuffee, Mrs. Joseph Clark and Mrs. Thomas McCamant.

Mrs. J. R. Porto, one of the volunteer counsellors, explained how the cases are handled. All of the people interviewed agreed on certain points: that such a unit can be of great value to the community if enough people avail themselves of its help; that the counselling they are able to do in their own professional work is subject to limitations and they will be glad to refer certain cases to this unit; that if this temporary service is able to demonstrate a need for such counselling, a permanent unit staffed by one or more full-time workers would be even more valuable. The present one can accept clients only for marriage counselling, while a full-time service could work on a broader scale. Mrs.
