

Science Teacher To Be Speaker For Mineral Club

Monte Kounz, junior high school science teacher, will show slides of minerals and gems at a meeting Friday, October 10, of Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club at the Girls Community club. Both the meeting time and place are new on the club's schedule.

Opal is the birthstone for the month and an article on the gem will be read by Mrs. Treavell Turpin at the meeting.

At the September meeting Arthur Dysart, Ashland, spoke on undersea mineral and an article about sapphire, birthstone for the month, was read by John Bowdish.

Lecture Scheduled By Fellowship Group

Henry Castor, representative of Little Brown, Houghton-Mifflin, and Alfred A. Knopf, will lecture for the Rogue Valley Unitarian Fellowship at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sander, 408 Oak Grove rd., Medford.

Castor, who helped organize the Unitarian Fellowship of Marin county, California, will discuss "The Cry to Know." He is author of several books.

Westminster Guild Announces Meeting

Westminster guild of First Presbyterian church will hold a potluck dinner Monday, October 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

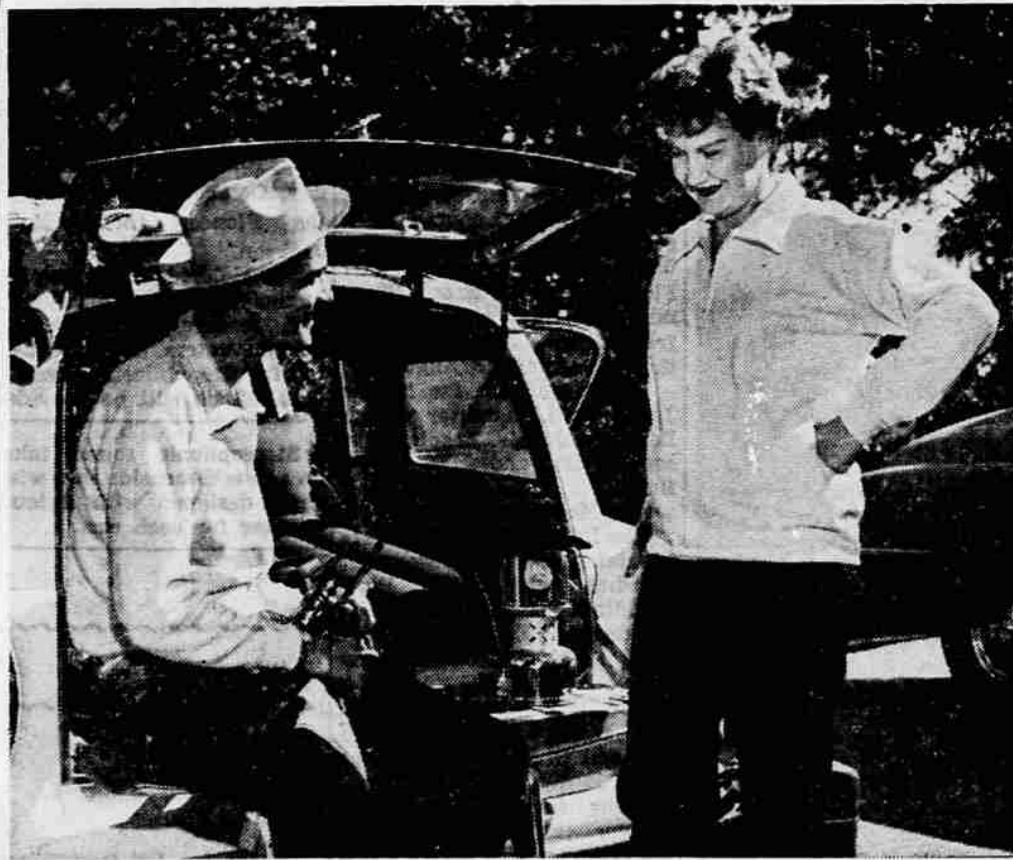

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Wesley Coleman, Mrs. Georgiana Beier, and Mrs. R. A. Baxter. The subject of the program and evening devotions will be "What Is a Presbyterian?" and will be presented by Mrs. Marie Disney and Mrs. Ivah D. Murray.

SOC Professor To Be Speaker

College Women's Club of the Rogue River Valley will meet Saturday, October 11, at 2 p.m. at First Methodist church, North Main street, Ashland.

The speaker, who will introduce the theme for the year "Oregon's Centennial", will be Dr. Frank Haines of Southern Oregon college. His subject will be "The Indians of Oregon." Members are asked to bring with them any Indian artifacts they have to add to the display table.

The hostess will be Mrs. Frank Davis; the social chairman, Mrs. Giles Green, both of Ashland.

Opening of the deer hunting season in Oregon Saturday brought a fever of activity to sportsmen and their wives last week. Among those who are in central Oregon to try their luck are Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Klimko. Old Military road. The Klimkos are pictured Thursday morning as they assembled camping supplies for the excursion. Although deer often are seen in the immediate area of the Klimkos' home, they prefer the excitement and fun of a real camping and hunting trip in a lesser populated part of Oregon.

Annual Campaign Opened By Parent-Teacher Units

To focus attention on the annual membership drive of the county's various parent-teacher association units, the Jackson County Council of Parent-Teacher associations has issued the following statement.

"Parent-teacher associations across America are enrolling members to help with solving the problems of education in our world today. In the past 10 years, PTA membership has increased 114 percent. Mrs. James C. Parker, Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, has said, 'This growth has come about, and will inevitably continue, because we are a voluntary organization, striving toward goals that mean much to every American—the best possible homes, schools, communities in the best possible world.'"

"The monumental task of people concerned with education can be summarized briefly by an excerpt or two from the Rockefeller report on education, 'The Pursuit of Excellence: Education and the Future of America.' The 48-page report states, 'Between 1870 and 1955, while our population was increasing 80 times.' Under the heading 'does this mean you?' the report continues: 'We may have, to a startling degree, lost the gift for demanding high performance of ourselves. It is a failure of home, church, school, government—a failure of all of us.'"

"What a society wants will always shape its education," says William D. Boutwell in the National Parent-Teacher magazine. "Parent-teacher members are spokesmen for the homes of America in this matter of education, for America is a nation of homes. The homes determine what type children are sent into the classrooms to be taught: receptive, responsive, and energetic, or passive, tolerant and lazy. The homes determine what the children are taught, through elected representatives functioning as a school board. The homes determine whether the children are taught in adequate or in inadequate buildings, and by well-trained or poorly prepared teachers."

through their support of school bond issues and school budgets.

"The homes make up the parent-teacher association, which performs the well-defined task of interpreting the needs of education to the general public, and securing the support of the public for those needs.

"When the representatives of PTA's in Jackson county invite you to enroll as a member this month, they are saying, in effect, Mrs. Parker's words: 'Look homeward, nation, for the primary purpose of the PTA is to safeguard children, to build for the future in such a way that in every community the lights of home may always shine out.'"

Bazaar Committee Plans Work Sessions

Persons interested in helping with S. Mark's Christmas bazaar may attend a work session at the Parish house Tuesday, October 7, at 10 a.m. Work will be done on various projects and persons may attend for any two hour period during the day or take a sack lunch. Coffee will be furnished.
