

Now-Remove Corns in 3 days

(AND RELIEVE PAIN OF CORNS RIGHT AWAY)

RESULTS GUARANTEED* WITH BLUE-JAY, the plastic corn plaster with exclusive wonder drug Phenylum®

How Phenylum medication gets rid of corns from underneath...

NEW CORN develops when skin grows tough and horny under constant pressure.

FIRST DAY—Blue-Jay relieves pressure, while Phenylum penetrates to base of corn.

SECOND DAY—Phenylum starts growth of new cell tissue underneath. This loosens corn, pushes it up.

THIRD DAY—Corn now lifts out easily. Stubborn, long-established corns may require second application.

Medical science has found a fast and effective way to relieve the pain of a corn, and get rid of it at the same time.

This treatment works by getting to the base of the problem. It actually gets rid of your corn by pushing it up from underneath.

The secret is a wonder drug from the Blue-Jay laboratories which took years to perfect. That wonder drug is called Phenylum.

How BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters relieve pain, remove corn

The Blue-Jay plaster consists of a felt ring surrounding a pad with Phenylum. The felt relieves the pain of the corn by removing the pressure and friction which causes it.

Simultaneously, the Phenylum goes to work to remove the source of the pain—the corn itself. It penetrates through the tough, horny skin of the corn to its base, where it stimulates the growth of new cell tissue.

In most corns, by the end of the third day this new tissue has grown to the point where it can be lifted out.

Quips and Quotes

It was the opening of the football season, and most of the 70,000 fans had come to see the sensational sophomore halfback who had been such a hero in his small-town high school. The young man was determined to prove he could be as great in college ball as he had been back home, and he eagerly awaited his first play.

When the quarterback called on him, it was for a slashing run through tackle and guard. The fleet-footed youth took the hand-off and dashed at the opposing team. Two mammoth linemen suddenly rose to block his path. There was a heavy thud, and blackness closed in on the prostrate halfback.

When he opened his eyes, he saw the vast stadium and the great mass of spectators. "Gosh," he sighed, "how did all those people get back to their seats so darn fast!"

"I sleep like a baby! Wake up at 2:30 every morning, bawling my eyes out!"

It's generally agreed that when it comes to apt descriptions, it's tough to beat a kid.

Like the youngster with a new puppy who was asked what kind of a dog it was. "He's mixed up," was the reply. "Sort of a cocker scandal." And then there was the teacher who asked a pupil to describe "nothing." The kid had no trouble. "That's a balloon with its skin off," he explained.

My friend, Tex, has been moping ever since learning that Alaska will become the largest state in the Union—twice as big as Texas. He's so demoralized, he let me pay my half of the luncheon tab last week. Come on, Tex, cheer up. Like the Alamo, remember this:

- ① There are more pretty girls in Texas than Alaska—why not, with 9,000,000 folks in the Lone Star State and only 200,000 in Alaska!
- ② TV Texas Westerns far outnumber Alaskan Northerners.
- ③ Alaska has yet to produce a dame who got as much publicity as Texas Guinan.
- ④ Nobody, but nobody, tells jokes about Alaskan millionaires.
- ⑤ Texas is a cinch to get a major-league baseball club before Alaska.
- ⑥ Try to nickname an Alaskan for his state, the way they do Tex for Texans. What do you get?—Alas! Who wants a handle like that?

Quit watering that dust with tears, Tex. It's not as rough as you think.
