Attending were Mrs. S. H. Gay, Mrs. C. Kinder and Mrs. Dell Kline of Medford. Attending from Central Point were Mrs. Anna Tonn, Mrs. H. P. Jewett, and Mrs. O. T. Wilson. Mrs. Sanford Richardson of Table Rock was also a guest.

The Faith Circle and the Women's Christian Circle of the First Presbyterian church in Central Point will combine their efforts to put on the cooked food and clothing sale Oct. 17 at the Gleason building on Pine st. Money raised from the sale will be used for the church.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Wilson joined a group of relatives at Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leavitt's cabin on Union Creek. The picnic was planned at this time for the group to view the fall coloring of the maple trees and other trees and vines in the area.

Speech Clinics Held in Area

Asland—Diagnostic speech clinics are currently being conducted throughout the area's schools in cooperation with the Southern Oregon college speech and hearing center, Leon C. Mulling, director, has announced.

Mulling directed the attention of participating teachers, school administrators and public health nurses to the current schedule which began at Talent Oct. 2 and will terminate with the Elk-Trail meeting Nov. 20.

The second clinics in the series were conducted at Prospect and Butte Falls Oct. 9, he reported, adding that the next session was slated for Thursday, Oct. 16, at the Howard school at 9 a.m.

Friday, Oct. 24, Curry county schools Gold Beach and Ophir will be visited, also at 9 a.m., with Jacksonville and Ruch students to be met with Thursday, Oct. 30, at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., respectively.

Rogue River at 9:30 a.m., and the Grants Pass health department at 1 p.m. will host the next clinics, Thursday, Nov. 6, and a week later, on Thursday, Nov. 13, Lone Pine students and clinicians will meet at 9:30 a.m. followed by a clinic in the Griffin Creek school at 1 p.m.

Mulling announced that the fall program would conclude with clinics in Shady Cove at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 30, and Elk-Trail at 1 p.m. on the same day.

Salem Bus Union To Halt Picketing

Salem — Former drivers of City Transit Lines here said Thursday they would withdraw their pickets and "courtesy cars."

The union drivers established pickets when the company hired non-union drivers. Attorney Thomas Churchill, court appointed receiver of the bankrupt company, said the union agreed to stop picketing because the company is now being operated by him under court direction.
