Scouts
Guests of Altrusans

Eight Intermediate Girl Scouts from Hedrick Junior High school joined Medford Altrusa club members and their guests Thursday night to hear an explanation of the proposed County Home Rule amendment. The Scouts were accompanied by Mrs. Robert H. Riechers, who advised that the girls are working toward their curved bar rank, the highest rank before senior scouting, and, as one of the requirements, were present to observe a non-partisan group in action.

Mrs. Ben Day, county home rule chairman of the Medford League of Women Voters, spoke before the group at the Rogue Valley Country club. She said that the amendment would, in effect, give counties "authority over matters of purely local concern." A short skit contrasting county and city forms of government was presented by members of the League.

Mrs. Thomas Rutter, chairman of the voters' service committee of the League, discussed the other 12 ballot measures to be brought to voters at the November election, pointing out the most common arguments both against and for each measure.

Guests at the dinner meeting included Mrs. Beverly Lyons, home service director for the California-Oregon Power company, and Mrs. Shirley Rollins from the Dick Walsh studio, who displayed the design for the new Altrust place mat. Others were Miss Gladys Eaton, Wallace E. Haskins, Curtis L. Hopkins, Dr. Virgil Mohr, and Martin C. Wood.

Mrs. Maude Coddling was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Pauline Bright.

Mrs. Mohr, Altrusa public affairs chairman, announced that the club members will tour the Pacific Telephone company's dial office during its open house October 23.
