

RETURN TO ROME — Watched by dense crowds, the papal hearse enters the Gate of St. John in the ancient wall of Rome. The Basilica of St. John is in the background. The body of Pope Pius XII was returned to Rome to start nine days of ceremonies comprising his funeral.

Cardinals Choose Oct. 25 For Election of New Pope

Vatican City — (UPI) — The Sacred College of Cardinals will begin the election of a new Pope of the Roman Catholic church on the afternoon of Oct. 25 in the hallowed Sistine Chapel, it was announced yesterday.

Sixteen Cardinals already in Rome, including Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, met as a special congregation amid the mourning ceremonies for Pope Pius XII to pick the date for the meeting that will choose from among the 55 members of the college the one man who shall be 262nd Supreme Pontiff in direct line from St. Peter.

The College of Cardinals will gather at 4 p.m. in the chapel whose ceiling and walls have been painted by Michelangelo. Msgr. Federico Callori di Vignale, the Pontifical Master of the Chamber, was chosen Friday as Governor of the conclave to prepare the chapel, private cells for the Cardinals and the extraordinary security measures surrounding the ultra-secret gathering.

Top-Level Trio Slated To Attend Papal Funeral

Vatican City — (UPI) — President Eisenhower's appointment of a top-level delegation to Pope Pius XII's funeral was regarded here as an indication of increasingly closer ties between the United States and the Vatican.

The United States will be represented at the papal funeral by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, former Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce and AEC Director John A. McCone.

The President's designation of Dulles as chief delegate was regarded as a sign of Eisenhower's deep respect for the late pontiff, whom he met several times while he was commanding Allied armies in Europe.

Relations between the Vatican and the United States strengthened considerably during the reign of the late Pope, despite the setback suffered by ex-President Truman when he proposed formal diplomatic relations with the Holy See.

Vatican observers believe it will be some time before the opposition of non-Catholic Americans has relaxed sufficiently to make U. S.-Vatican diplomatic relations possible.

Myron C. Taylor was stationed here from 1939 to 1950 as the personal representative of President Roosevelt and later of Truman, but he never held formal diplomatic status.

In October, 1951, Truman nominated Gen. Mark Clark for the post of U. S. ambassador to the Vatican, arguing that "direct diplomatic relations will assist in coordinating the effort to combat the Communist menace."

The appointment stirred a storm of Protestant opposition. Clark asked that his name be withdrawn, and the matter was allowed to drop.

On the trip here Mrs. Hashiguchi, 34, got off at one station to get a drink of water for her seven-year-old son. She hopped back on the train without the boy and got off at the next station waiting for the station officials to find him.

As she sobbed out her story, she watched the train pull out with her five-year-old daughter and her baggage.

Mother, son, daughter and baggage were reunited two hours later and finally made it here. Officials said they didn't know whether she planned a return trip.

Washington — (UPI) — The weather bureau said yesterday that Hurricane Janice, located about 450 miles northeast of Bermuda, is "still a fairly small but severe hurricane."

It warned ships in the path of the storm to "exercise extreme caution."

The weather bureau said Janice, which bypassed the East Coast of the United States, was moving east-northeast at about 23 miles per hour.

"Highest winds are around 90 m.p.h. over a small area near the center with hurricane force winds extending outward 35 m.p.h.," the bureau's hurricane advisory said.

'Mystery Man' Seen In Clinton

Clinton, Tenn. — (UPI) — A "mystery man" in an abortive bombing of Clinton High school last spring was reported back in town last week just before three blasts wrecked the school.

Sheriff Glad Woodward said Friday he believed the man has been identified through photographs. He said witnesses reported seeing him in Clinton Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Woodward declined to elaborate further, but said he has "high hopes" of solving the dynamiting. He estimated 100 sticks of explosive were used in the pre-dawn blasts last Sunday.

THOROUGH JOB
Ansonia, Conn. — (UPI) — Andrew Sadellico couldn't tell police that thieves who looted his home took everything but the barn door. They took that, too.

WALLED UP IN CHAPEL
By Apostolic Law, the Cardinals will be walled up in the chapel area and will remain there until they elect a Pope.

The results will be known to the world by a puff of smoke from a narrow pipe inserted through a window. Black smoke means a deadlocked ballot. A puff of white smoke means one Cardinal has received the vote of two thirds plus one of all the Princes assembled and has been chosen Pope.

Balloting, at the rate of four times a day, can continue for as many days as is necessary to arrive at a decision.

WYSZYNSKI TO ATTEND
An estimated 50 of the 55 living Cardinals were expected to attend. Among them will be Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski of Poland, the only one of the three Cardinals behind the Iron Curtain who will be able to leave home.

At the meeting yesterday in Rome, the Cardinals also attended to a traditional matter of business: the smashing of the Papal seals, the leaden symbols used by Pope Pius XII during his reign. The next Pope will choose his own seals.

The symbolic gesture signalled the end of the reign of the man whose body lay in state before the great altar of the Confessional in St. Peter's Basilica.

Lines of Faithful
Lines of faithful filed rapidly past at the rate of 500 a minute to pay their last respects to the Pontiff whom many Catholics believe will be canonized a Saint in the future.

A Solemn Mass in the Basilica this morning signalled the start of the Novendiali, or nine-day mourning period.

The Pope will be interred Monday in a four-hour ceremony. The Novendiali will continue after the burial rites.

POPE'S SISTER—Mrs. Elisabetta Pacelli Rossignani, sister of Pope Pius, arrives at the papal palace in Castel Gandolfo shortly before his death, in order to be with him during his last hours.

ODD NUMBERS
Boston — (UPI) — A batch of $3 bills recently turned up in an old vault at the county courthouse. Investigation revealed that the bills had been used during a bank reorganization case in 1852 at a time when banks were authorized to issue their own scrip or currency.

BUT IT'S PAPA WHO PAYS
Ann Arbor, Mich. — (UPI) — Between a quarter and a half of all the major economic decisions made by American families are shared equally by husbands and wives, according to Dr. Elizabeth H. Wolgast of the University of Michigan Research Center. But where the decisions are not reached jointly, she said, the husband is more important in deciding when to buy a car while the wife has more to say about saving, handling the bills and buying household goods.
