

ILLINOIS VALLEY Demonstration Held

By RUTH RAUSCH
Cave Junction—The Illinois Valley HEU met Tuesday at the Episcopal church with a potluck lunch. Cake decorating was demonstrated by Mrs. Kenneth Brown and Mrs. Fred Salvage. It was announced the tailoring project would be started in January. A report on visiting the museum at Jacksonville was given by Mrs. Les Basham.

Last week was a full one for the Alton Sowell with three days spent in Arcada and Eureka, Calif., visiting Mrs. Sowell's parents, the John C. Rossiter in Arcada and with her sister and family in Eureka. Mr. and Mrs. Ted McCall.

After returning home, Sowell obtained a permit to burn off some brush on the back of their property. As so often happens, a breeze blew up, sending the fire out of control and burned about an acre of the Sowell place and about two acres of the adjoining Don Orton property. The state department and the Cave Junction rig of the Illinois Valley Rural Fire Protection were called. The fire caused no damage, burning off brush and slashings on both properties.

The DeMolay Mother's club plan a homemade candy sale Saturday, Oct. 25, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Bank of Illinois Valley.

Next Tuesday will be the final session in the first five week standard course of the Red Cross first aid classes. A second five-week standard course will be offered beginning in November with Dave Chamberlain of the forest service as instructor.

Twenty-three members are enrolled in the Selma area under the direction of Myron Terpering. It is planned to hold a three weeks advanced course following the next standard class for interested persons from all three lessons.

A family gathering was held here at the Alton Sowell Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Sowell's cousins, Loyse Pettit of Akron, Ohio, and brother, Harold, of Kansas City, Kans., who will be coming here with Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Fossiter of Eureka.
