

Ernie Banks Chosen NL Player of Year

New York — (UPI) — Ernie Banks, perhaps the National League's best shortstop since Honus Wagner, was an overwhelming choice today as the United Press International's 1958 National League player of the year.

Title Bout Promised To Winner

Long Beach, Calif. — (UPI) — Welterweight contenders Don (Geronimo) Jordan and Gaspar (Indian) Ortega shoot the works in a 12-round rematch tonight, with the winner a cinch to face champion Virgil Akins in a December title fight.

Jordan, rated the world's top contender by Ring Magazine, remained a 10-7 favorite today to repeat an earlier split decision over Ortega, who is ranked third by Ring and fourth by the National Boxing association.

Langston Gets Lineman Honors

Chicago — (UPI) — Jeff Langston, Iowa's left end, today was named the Big Ten "Unsung Hero of the Week" by the Chicago football writers for his play against Wisconsin last Saturday.

Langston, who missed the 1957 season due to a dislocated hip suffered in an automobile accident in Pasadena, Calif., before the Rose Bowl game, normally is on the third team, but advanced to the second team against Wisconsin because of an injury.

He grabbed a fumble in the air against the Badgers and ran 21 yards to a touchdown for a 13-0 Iowa lead, also made several sharp defensive plays and caught one pass.

Tornadoes Eyeing Trip To Eureka

Coach Fred Spiegelberg had his Medford high grid squad members back at their regular offensive and defense platoon assignments yesterday after having all of them run off on Monday afternoon.

The Black Tornado is priming this week for a road jaunt after having three straight engagements at home. Eureka, Calif., a long traditional non-league rival will entertain the Tornado this Friday night.

Medford will carry a No. 2 Oregon prep rating and a five-game undefeated string into the California fracas.

The Loggers of Eureka reportedly have a record for the season of two wins and four losses. Most of the losses have been by close scores. One, a 7 to 6 nod by Arcata, Calif., was protested on the basis of officials' ruling on a punt.

Spiegelberg had his Medford aggregation stressing offense on Monday in an effort to rid the attack of the fumbles and of the jumping which brought penalties in the Klamath Falls game.

Two linemen are on the crippled list and their availability for the trip south isn't certain. Gary Heath turned his ankle in the Klamath fray and Gordon Pathman has poison oak. Heath's ankle is said to be responding. Halfback Mike Hood is still out of school because of the concussion he received in the tiff last Friday night.

The Tornado is scheduled to leave Friday morning for the California engagement.

Tornado JV Tops Eagles

Medford High school junior varsity gridgers won 23 to 7 last night over Eagle Point jayvees.

Bill Charley crossed the goal twice and Jim Barry once for the Tornado. Kim Griffin ran two conversions and Phil Humphreys one. Medford led 9 to 0 at halftime. A safety was tabulated when Art House tackled an Eagle in the end zone on the second play of the game.

Eagle Point got its touchdowns in the last quarter on a long run.

PHILS SIGN PITCHERS

Philadelphia — (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies have signed pitchers John C. Koski Jr. of New York and Sanford J. Hamilton of West Augusta, Va., for their Tampa club in the Class D Florida State League.

Jim Brown Pacing Grid Pros in Rushing, Scoring

Philadelphia — (UPI) — If there's such a thing as a sophomore jinx, Cleveland's James Brown hasn't heard about it.

The former Syracuse fullback in his second season with the Browns is setting a ground-gaining pace that averages nearly 159 yards a game. That's about 64 yards a game better than Steve Van Buren logged for the National Football League record of 1,146 yards in 1949 with the Philadelphia Eagles. Brown added 153 yards last week to bring his four-game total to 635 yards on 94 attempts, for an average gain of 6.8 yards per carry.

He also may eclipse the touchdown record as well as the ground-gaining mark if he continues his current pace.

Denny Moyer Defeats Saxton For 17th Straight Triumph

Portland — (UPI) — Denny Moyer, 19-year-old flashy Portland welterweight, scored his 17th consecutive professional victory Tuesday night with a decisive win over former champion Johnny Saxton of New York.

Moyer, who came into the fight at 141 pounds, staggered his 150-pound opponent repeatedly during the last five rounds of the 10-round bout and hammered him to the canvas shortly before the final bell.

Saxton, making his second appearance since September of 1957 when he voluntarily retired for a year, described Moyer as a "good young fighter." But he refused to speculate on the young fellow's future in the professional ring.

Moyer said "I hit him solidly with my right hand but it didn't seem to hurt him until late in the fight."

Moyer three times knocked the mouthpiece from Saxton as he scored heavily on solid rights over Saxton's lowered guard and also combinations to the head and body.

Odds-makers Pick UO, OSC Elevens

New York — (UPI) — Oklahoma, Auburn and Mississippi are expected to have the easiest sledding among the nation's top-ranked college football teams this week end.

The oddsmakers are quoting eighth-ranked Oklahoma as a 28-point favorite over Kansas State, third-ranked Auburn as a 14-point choice over Maryland, and seventh-ranked Ole Miss as a 13-point pick over Arkansas.

Fourth-ranked Texas, on the other hand, was rated no more than even-money for its clash with Rice. Georgia Tech vs. Southern Methodist also was tabbed a "pick 'em" affair.

Army, the nation's No. 1 team, was a seven-point choice over Pitt in the East's top game while second-ranked Ohio State was a one touchdown favorite over Wisconsin and sixth-ranked Iowa was a 10-point pick over 10th ranked Northwestern in the Big Ten conference headlines.

Ninth-ranked Notre Dame was a slim two-point favorite over Purdue and fifth-ranked Louisiana State was pegged 13 points better than Florida in the other games involving top-rated teams.

Here are the point spreads on other major games: East Penn State 2 over Syracuse; Dartmouth 7 over Harvard; Yale 7 over Colgate; Holy Cross 12 over Boston University; Navy 12 over Cornell.

Midwest: Michigan State 2 over Illinois; Michigan 7 over Minnesota; Missouri 9 over Iowa State; Colorado 22 over Nebraska.

South: Georgia 1 over Kentucky; West Virginia 2 over Virginia Tech; North Carolina 7 over Wake Forest; Duke 9 over North Carolina State; Tennessee 12 over Florida State; Mississippi State 13 over Alabama; Vanderbilt 13 over Virginia.

Southwest: Baylor 7 over Texas A&M. Far West: Oregon 2 over California; Oregon State 10 over Washington; UCLA 7 over Stanford; Washington State 7 over Southern California.

Inter-sectional: Miami (Fla.) 7 over Boston College; Oklahoma State 7 over Cincinnati; Tulane 8 over Kansas.

Webb, Meador NAIA Leaders Kansas City, Mo. — (UPI) — Bob Webb of St. Ambrose set a record of 326 yards of pass completions and Eddie Meador of Arkansas Tech took over as top backfield runner to spark small college statistics this week.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) said Meador ran for 239 yards and scored five touchdowns against Hendrix college to boost his average by 20 yards a game. The Arkansas Tech scored three of his touchdowns on runs and two on pass interceptions.

Webb, leading most of this season in passing and total offense, pitched 17 completions in 28 throws to break the 303-yard mark of Jay Roelen of Pepperdine, set last year.

Seats Go Fast For Civil War

Oregon State College, Corvallis — Some 3,500 reserved end zone grandstand seats placed on sale last week are moving fast for the Nov. 22 Oregon State versus Oregon game at Parker stadium, the athletic department announced today. Over 500 of these were gobbled up the first few days.

PAT Kicks Trail 1957 Statistics

New York — (UPI) — They're place-kicking like amateurs in professional football this season.

The National Football league has the game's best place-kickers. Booting extra points after touchdowns is considered "automatic." But so far this season, "erratic" is a more apt word for the conversion specialists.

They have failed to convert after 15 of the 146 touchdowns scored in the first 24 games. That's as many as they flubbed all last season when they made good 338 times in 353 attempts.

Last year six teams — the Cleveland Browns, Chicago Bears, Detroit Lions, New York Giants, San Francisco Forty-Niners and Green Bay Packers — clicked on every extra point attempt in true pro style.

This season such place-kicking experts as Lou Groza of the Browns, George Blanda of the Bears, Bobby Layne of the Lions and Pittsburgh Steelers and Gordie Soltau of the Forty-Niners have had extra point tries blocked or otherwise failed to convert.

Groza, the game's master placekicker, has had two extra point attempts blocked this season. Groza, 13 years a pro, probably never has flubbed an extra point try — when the pass from center was good, the ball put down correctly and his line held.

Eight of the missed conversions so far this season have been blocked by the on-rushing defense. The kicker usually is not responsible for these failures, but the fact remains that some of the game's top place-kickers are off to lousy starts.

Bear's Doretti Out of Fracas

Berkeley, Calif. — (UPI) — Frank Doretti, first string California center, will miss Saturday's game with Oregon because of an ankle sprain, coach Pete Elliott sadly announced today.

Second-string quarterback Gus Gianulus was listed as a "very doubtful" performer against the Ducks because of a pulled leg muscle.

However, Elliott said Hank Olquin, another Bear who has been out with injuries, would probably see action against the Webfoots.

Bearers To Be In Best Shape

Corvallis, Ore. — (UPI) — Coach Tommy Prothro said today that the Oregon State Bearers will be in their best physical shape of the year when they meet Washington this week end.

Prothro said that halfback Jim Stinnette, who has been plagued by injuries all year, would see some action against the Huskies.

Los Angeles — (UPI) — Washington State, second to California in the Pacific Coast conference, ranks first in league total offense and second in defense at the halfway mark in the 1958 grid season.

The Cougars, led by quarterback Bob Newman, took over the official PCC total offense lead after last Saturday's games with an average of 335 yards, compared to 320.6 for California. Oregon is third with 305.3.

Washington State also owned the second best total defense record in the league, trailing only Oregon in that department. The Cougars have given up an average of 211.8 against 191.3 for the Oregon squad, with Oregon State third-249.

California's rushing offense has provided the Bears with an average of 240.2 yards per game, against 213.4 for Oregon State and 198.4 for Oregon. Washington State's passing attack produced 168.4 yards per game, with a spectacular .657 percentage in completions for 10 touchdowns. UCLA is second in passing with 146.2, followed by Oregon-106.2.

Oregon's defense-conscious squad, although losing two games, has held opponents to an average of 138.3 yards per game by rushing and 52.5 by passing. Washington State's rushing defense has given up an average of 148.4, a shade better than the 148.6 yielded by Washington.

Washington State also is No. 2 in pass defense, yielding 63.4 yards against 82.3 by UCLA.

UCLA, always among the leaders in punting is on top in that department with an average of 39 yards, and also heads the interception category with 11.

5 Braves Farm Teams Champs

Milwaukee — (UPI) — The talented farm system of the Milwaukee Braves in 1958 led other major league organizations for the fifth straight year in winning minor league pennants.

Five of the 14 minor league teams in the Braves' organization won regular season titles this year. Three teams finished second, one third and one fourth.

In 1954, 1955 and 1957 the Braves turned out four minor league champions. They had seven in 1956, the highest in the majors since the Brooklyn Dodgers claimed eight in 1948.

This year's champions were Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in the Class B Three-I League; Yakima, Wash., Class B Northwest League; Boise, Idaho, Class C Pioneer League; Midland, Tex., Class D Sophomore League; and Wellsville, N. Y., Class D New York-Pennsylvania League.

WSC Condition Rated Real Good

Pullman, Wash. — (UPI) — Washington State Coach Jim Sutherland said today that his Cougars may be in surprising good shape for the USC battle next Saturday.

Trainer Eddie Lane reported that quarterback Bob Newman, end Gail Cogdill and guard Angelo Brovelli, all recently shelved by injuries, would be ready for at least some action against Troy.

The Cougars scrimmaged Tuesday and today.

TIGERS BUY BURNSIDE

Detroit — (UPI) — Southpaw Pete Burnside, 28, today was purchased from the Phoenix Giants of the Pacific Coast league by the Detroit Tigers. Burnside posted an 11-7 record and 3.91 earned run average for the PCL champions.

Football Game Kids Day Event

Oregon State College — The fourth annual Kiwanis Kids day football game, featuring OSC and California at Corvallis on Nov. 1, is already drawing reservations from groups of youngsters all over Oregon.

Already, large groups from Alsea, Jefferson, Gaston, Canby, Glendale, Heppner, and Polk County are planning to attend the special football game where groups of 10 or more are admitted at half price.

Almost 5,000 youngsters and supervisors are expected to take advantage of the special section. Two high school bands, Roseburg and Corvallis, will play from the section and OSC Rally Squad Members will organize group yelling and singing from the Kiwanis Kids Day section.

Sponsoring the special day are the OSC athletic department and the Corvallis Kiwanis club. Other Kiwanis clubs throughout Oregon are assisting.
