Lease Drafted for Operating Hospital

Ashland—Agreement on terms of a lease between Ashland and Alfred Paulson governing the operation of Ashland General hospital is being considered by the hospital committee prior to approving. The council this week referred the lease, drawn up by City Attorney Harry Skerry, to the committee to be checked before passed by the council.

Under the lease, which would begin in March and be operative for 30 months, Paulson would pay $350 a month to the city to operate the hospital, making a $1,050 initial payment. In return, the city would pay $10,000 for the equipment, regardless of the time element involved.

Also referred to the hospital committee was a proposal to earmark $900 for equipment at the hospital during the next six months. Ed Singmaster, advisory hospital committee member, recommended the money be earmarked in order to bridge the gap in equipment between expiration of the current lease and the beginning of the new one next March.

The council also agreed to contribute half of the cost of repainting the hospital. Bids were opened recently for repainting with the low one $850.

Rodney Cautions On Financing of Park Facilities

Turning to financing, Dr. Rodney cautioned that fees and charges could be expected to provide only about 6 per cent of the total budget.

He recommended either establishment of a municipal department receiving funds as part of the city's budget or establishment of a district. He recommended the latter if people in fringe areas outside the city would be benefiting in large numbers from park and recreational facilities, and "if you want a more independent basis."

Established Standard
He said that $6 per capita was a "nationally established standard" for park and recreation budgets but that this varied considerably with individual needs.

He explained the $6 was broken down into $3 for services and $3 for maintenance and operation of parks.

On the subject of swimming pools, Dr. Rodney said, "They should be smaller pools, tied to neighborhoods and tied to recreational and instructional use."

He discussed modern concepts of swimming pools in which both houses could be used as recreational centers and the areas surrounding the pool could be planted with grass and provided with tables as a picnic area.

Artist's Sketch
Commission Chairman Jerry Poulos asked if they could see an artist's sketch for such a project with specific reference to the proposed pool in the Jackson County Housing authority area near Jackson school.

"Perhaps we can discuss later how we can help you implement this," Dr. Rodney replied. "I can let you know how far we can go on this with you in a few days."

Verl G. Walker, a commission member, reported encouraging progress in negotiations to acquire a railroad engine for recreational use.

Schools and colleges in the United States and Canada reduced their losses from major fires in 1957 by more than $1,500,000 as compared with the previous year.

Rails, Utilities Reach High Levels

Industrial shares, held down by easier prices for automobile issues, some of the chemicals and a few miscellaneous issues, lost for the fourth straight day.

Rails got into action when Northern Pacific declared a stock dividend of 20 per cent on its shares, subject to Interstate Commerce Commission approval.
