Ike, Nixon Fail To End Breach Between Knowland, Knight

San Francisco - (UPI) - California's top two Republican candidates - Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin Knight - still were at odds today despite the best efforts of President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon to patch up their feud.

Eisenhower left this pivotal Nov. 4 election state Tuesday without being able to heal the breach between Knowland and Knight, who are running for governor and senator respectively against Democratic Attorney General Edmund G. Brown and Rep. Clair Engle.

Knowland has refused to endorse Knowland and said after Nixon's first visit to California early in October that he not only will not endorse Knowland or support him, he might not even vote for him.

Nixon made a second visit to his home state last week but conceded on his departure that he had been unable to effect a reconciliation between the two men.

Knight Wanted Reelection

The split dates to last October when Knowland announced he would seek the Republican nomination despite Knight's announced intention to run for reelection. Knight withdrew from the race last Nov. 5 after conferring in Washington with Eisenhower and Nixon.

Eisenhower, in his speech at Los Angeles Monday night, urged an end to "family bickering, fancied or real."

The President talked with both Knight and Knowland privately during his brief stay in California. But Knight made it clear after conferring with Eisenhower that "my position has not changed" and that he still opposes Knowland on one fundamental issue - the so-called right to work initiative on the November ballot.

Knowland champions right to work, which would outlaw the union shop, while Knight, who ran for governor in 1954 with the all-out support of the American Federation of Labor, steadfastly has opposed right to work.

Brown Ahead in Primary
Knight told reporters on the flight with Eisenhower from Los Angeles to San Francisco Tuesday that he considered Knowland "a good Republican" and he added he had never said he would support Brown, who beat Knowland by 662,000 votes in the combined totals of June primary elections. Each ran in both party primaries and won the nomination of his own party only.

On the other hand, Knight made it very clear to newsmen after the Eisenhower visit that his position is unchanged. He is running an independent campaign and he neither endorses nor supports Knowland's candidacy.

Knowland has made a point of saying during the visits of both Eisenhower and Nixon that he endorses the entire Republican ticket, including Knight.

Stevenson Calls Nixon Demagogue

Chicago - (UPI) - Adlai Stevenson answered Republican charges of "radicalism" with the Democratic party Wednesday by calling Vice President Richard M. Nixon an "intolerable demagogue."

The former Democratic presidential candidate addressed a meeting of party precinct workers.

"The Republicans," he said, "can't talk about corruption, property, deficit spending or peace so they have fallen back on the old charges of radicalism and left wingers."

"All of us realized when the going got tough for the Republican, the old Nixon would emerge," Stevenson said. "But even sadder than that is the fact that the old Nixon has been joined by the new Ike."

Stevenson said Nixon's charge that the Democratic party was the war party was an insult to the men who have died for their country in the last two great wars.

Willamette Transfer Company Penalized

Salem - (UPI) - Public Utility Commissioner Howard Morgan has ordered a $700 penalty against R. R. Bailey of Willamette Valley Transfer company, Salem, for illegal practices.

The company had transported goods at other than lawful rates, the commissioner said.

The complaint was brought by James E. Singleton, superintendent of motor regulation for the PUC.

The Weimar Constitution was basis for the German republic formed after World War I.

Thornton Rules on Insurance Agents

Salem - (UPI) - Cities may prohibit the uninvited door-to-door solicitation of insurance but may not require insurance agents to be licensed or pay a fee for doing business.

That was the opinion given by Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton. It was asked for by Insurance Commissioner Hugh H. Earle.

Thornton said Green River type ordinances have been upheld by the State Supreme Court as constitutional as part of the cities' power to protect the well being and tranquility of the community.
