Ortiz Foe Of Charnley On Tuesday

New York - (UPI) - This week's most attractive fight will be staged at London Tuesday night when southpaw Dave Charnley, lightweight champion of the British Isles, makes his bid for a shot at the world title in a 10-round bout with American Carlos Ortiz at Harringay arena.

It will be the last fight show at Harringay, soon to become a warehouse, and promoter Jack Solomons reported that all 9,500 tickets were sold out three weeks ago.

Ortiz of New York, a classy young boxer-puncher, lost but one of his 29 professional starts. He is ranked fourth among contenders for Joe Brown's 135-pound crown. Charnley of England is rated third.

Although Charnley is a lightweight contender, he outpointed the No. 1 welterweight contender, Don Jordan of Los Angeles, earlier this year.

Wednesday Bout
Wednesday night's television fight (ABC) brings together middleweights Rory Calhoun and Franz Szuzina at the Rochester, N. Y. Memorial auditorium.

Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., is rated ninth among contenders, and he is favored at 8-5 over the unrated buzzsaw from Germany. Each is a fair puncher. Calhoun scored 19 knockouts while winning 36 of his 42 bouts. Szuzina belted out 23 while winning 43 of 78 starts.

Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria, world featherweight champion, will meet ex-challenger Carmelo Costa of New York in a non-title 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night. Bassey is favored at 3-1.

Their bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC. Bassey registered 19 knockouts while winning 52 of his 63 starts. Costa stopped only three opponents, while winning 33 of 45 bouts.

First Landing Grabs Honors in Garden State

New York - (UPI) - First Landing rested on his laurels today as the top money-winning 2-year-old in turf history.

Stabled at Belmont Park, First Landing began a well-earned vacation following his come-from-behind victory over Tommy Lee Saturday in the rich Garden State Stakes.

Trainer J. H. Casey Hayes said the Christopher Cheney colt will remain here until Nov. 10 and then head south for Stuart, Fla., where he will begin training Feb. 1 for the Hialeah opening.

Meanwhile, Tommy Lee will be flown to the West Coast for a fitting of a left leg splint and probably will be out of action until the Santa Anita meeting.

First Landing's dramatic stretch drive in the $297,250 Garden State was one of the greatest achieved by the son of Turn-To in his brief career. A 3-2 favorite to win his 10th race in 11 starts, First Landing really had to work to overcome Tommy Lee's 3 1/2-length lead at the final bend of the mile-and-a-half race.

The victory earned a purse of $178,350 for Cheney and raised First Landing's total earnings to $396,460, eclipsing a division mark of $349,642 set by Jewel's Reward in 1957.

In the cold hours before dawn Tuesday, the A. K. Smiths were finally able to rid their property of one of the trio of bears who have been feasting nightly at the Smith apple orchard.

At about 2:30 a.m., a full grown bear stepped into a trap set for him, and went howling and crying through the brush until he was brought down with a shot by Smith near the house garden.

One point of interest, according to Mrs. Smith, was that throughout all the commotion of the crying, lashing bear and the shouts of the men, the captured bear's companion stayed in the orchard, placidly munching apples. It wasn't until all the hubbub died away, that the unconcerned bruin lumbered away.

Kay and Arlene Banks surprised their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Banks, by arriving home at the same time for a visit.

The visit was the result of careful planning by both girls to obtain their leave from the armed services at the same time. Kay is in the Woman's Marine Corps, stationed at San Diego and Arlene is in the Woman's Army Corps at Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Proposed Franchise Shifts Before PCL Heads at Spokane

Spokane, Wash. - (UPI) - Officials of the eight-team Pacific Coast Baseball league opened the fall meeting of the PCL today here with proposed franchise shifts and the possible naming of a new league president expected to take precedence over other items of business.

It had been rumored the league might shift the Sacramento franchise in the near future and James Muldane, president of the San Diego club, was reported to be in favor of expanding the circuit to ten teams.

Division Talked
Muldane said he was in favor of aligning San Diego, Sacramento, Phoenix and Salt Lake City with a new addition, Denver, to form a Southern division of the league. A Northern division would be composed of Seattle, Spokane, Portland, Vancouver and a new team, Edmonton.

Also expected to be discussed was the possible retirement from the league presidency by Leslie O'Connor and his replacement by Seattle General Manager Dewey Soriano. O'Connor has been ill lately and many of the officials would like a younger man in the position.

Soriano has been prominently mentioned as his successor. Seattle owner Emil J. Sick was reported to be willing to deal off his ball club because of ill health, and that move was also expected to come up for discussion at the meeting.

Holmes, Hatfield Exchange Views On State Economy

Portland - (UPI) - Gov. Robert D. Holmes and Secretary of State Mark Hatfield headed into the final week of their gubernatorial campaign today after exchanging views on economy in a debate here.

Holmes, seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket, said he had asked state agencies to cut their asking budgets by $50 million. He said any estimate of the upcoming budget would be premature.

Statement Challenged
Hatfield, the Republican nominee, challenged Holmes' statement that the governor had made economies in government. Hatfield claimed half the $3 million Holmes said was returned to the general fund was saved under administration of the Board of Control.

The two appeared in a question and answer period with members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Holmes said asking budgets from state agencies were $50 million over estimated revenues and that he had asked the agencies to cut down, saying they were not being realistic.

Hatfield said the amount returned by the Holmes' administration to the general fund was the smallest since 1949.

Kay and Arlene Banks surprised their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Banks, by arriving home at the same time for a visit.

The visit was the result of careful planning by both girls to obtain their leave from the armed services at the same time. Kay is in the Woman's Marine Corps, stationed at San Diego and Arlene is in the Woman's Army Corps at Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Smoke Signals To Announce Pope Cross Up World

Vatican City - (UPI) - The tradition-honored system of using smoke signals to inform the world that a pope has been elected collapsed completely Sunday, creating unprecedented confusion.

Thousands of Roman Catholic faithful were back in St. Peter's Square today watching the slender chimney pipe high above but without their previous conviction that white smoke would signal the election of a new pontiff.

Color Changes
Sunday the color of the smoke from burning ballots inside the Sistine Chapel changed from black to white and back again to the confusion and frustration of the waiting millions around the world.

White smoke from the secret conclave was to signal that a pope had been chosen. Black was to signify that round of balloting had not been successful.

Twice Sunday the smoke puffs from the chimney changed color and tone a dozen times and left watchers in uncertainty for long, agonizing minutes.

"We have a pope," Vatican Radio said in several languages around the world when its announcer spotted clouds of white smoke billowing from the little chimney. A crowd of 300,000 in St. Peter's Square shouted "Viva il papa" - long live the pope.

Admits Judgment Wrong
The smoke never got darker than a dirty grey before it ceased. And it was 30 minutes before the official Vatican Radio admitted flatly it had been wrong in its judgment and told the world a pope had not been elected. By that time the news had been sent around the world.

The confusion happened both in the morning and again late in the evening when lights playing on the smoke gave it an erroneous white appearance.

OSC Harrier Gang Victor

Portland - (UPI) - Oregon State's cross country team Saturday vanquished three opponents in a four-way meet at Lewis and Clark college with a winning low score of 17 points.

Portland State was runner-up with 50. Lewis and Clark had 80 and the University of Portland finished last with 84 points.

Individual honors went to Jim Bailey, former Oregon Webfoot star who ran untied. He was timed at 10:15 over the slightly more than two-mile course. Oregon State freshman Norm Hoffman of Portland fought Bailey to the wire with a 10:17.

Cas Has Praise For Cal Back

Eugene - (UPI) - Oregon Coach Len Casanova repeated praise today for California's tricky quarterback Joe Kapp, who led the Bears to a 23-6 victory over the Webfoots at Berkeley Saturday, and said the Duck tackling for the second straight week was "miserable."

"I don't think he, Kapp, should have completed those passes which set up the touchdowns," Casanova said. "We worked against them all week and should have been able to stop them without that much damage."

The Cal game placed another Webfoot first stringer on the injured list. Casanova said Charlie Tourville, who injured a knee, probably will be out for the Washington game next week end. Bob Peterson also was hurt but he should see action against the Huskies, the coach said.
