

TABLE ROCK Ranch Goes on Market

By R. E. NEALON
Table Rock—According to T. J. Hight, manager of the Hight Real Estate Agency of Medford, the largest farm property, as to acreage and facilities, in our community has been placed on the market.

This property is commonly known as the Leverette holdings, but goes by the name of the Table Top Ranch, and consists of nearly 2,500 acres, mostly of rich bottom farm land, with nearly a mile of frontage along Rogue river. There is a large acreage of pasture land, some on the slopes of Lower and Upper Table Rocks, a whole section on the latter.

The bottom lands are under irrigation and produce crops of grain, corn, hay, and clover pastures. Some half dozen occupied buildings, and many barns and huge silos are on the ranch. Two of the dwellings built in the early 80's are still occupied. One, built by Dr. Stanley, still has the medicine chest over the fireplace, where he kept his pills and medicine.

Owing to complications and restrictions, the vast holdings should be sold as a unit, according to Hight, who says that if he could subdivide it, it could be sold in less time. However, he has some eager inquirers, and hopes to make contact, in the not too distant future.

A California moving picture company made a movie on the ranch several years ago, claiming it to be a great setting for such work. One owner in the past sank a shaft and found croppings of some very good coal, another drilled for oil, with a man-operated churn drill.

On the west side is a monument, erected presumably on the spot where Gen. Lane signed the treaty with the Rogue River Indians. The personal property, consisting of some 600 cattle, great quantities of stored feed, and farm equipment, do not go with the ranch.

Pear and apple picking has been completed here, and regular winter crews are busy cleaning up and preparing the trees and ground for next year's crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Doran have returned from Ft. Riley, Kan., where they visited relatives at the Dale Schulz home. They report a nice trip with good weather both ways, and Dale, Marsha and baby Steven, doing fine.

Elgin Robinson returned Saturday to Camp Pendleton, Calif., to resume military training, after a month's furlough spent with home folks.

His father, Ed Robinson, accompanied him, and will spend some time visiting relatives and friends in the Bay area.

The Arnold Bohner clover threshing rig has finished the clover seed harvest here and in Sams Valley, the yields being somewhat lighter than usual, it is claimed.

C. W. McDonough of Sams Valley has been busy here for the last few days harvesting corn with his corn shelling equipment.

George Guthrie, caretaker at TouVelle Park, with his brother Eugene, were recent duck hunters in the Summer lake area in eastern Oregon, where they both obtained their limit of ducks. According to Carl Bennett, assistant, who had charge of the park during Guthrie's absence, the attendance this year will exceed that of last year, when more than 90,000 people visited the park. Facilities at the park will be closed Oct. 31, to avoid freezing, but the park will remain open the usual hours.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Richardson are in Portland, where Mrs. Richardson is a patient in the St. Vincent's hospital, where she underwent surgery Friday morning.

At the last Ladies club held in Ruth Brown's home, Norma Matteson was elected president for the coming year, and Joan Sharp secretary.

To us, it is rather amusing to see in print what our various candidates think of themselves. It seems that everyone of them has had, so they say, exactly the right education, training, and experience to fit them for the job they seek. If they didn't have their pictures along with the write-up, their wives might not know who they were reading about. Our independent friend, says its too bad both candidates for Senator can't be elected. In that case, one could prescribe, and the other could hand out the pills.

Recent visitors at the local Sunday school were George McCune and Ed Newman, of Medford, members of the Gideons, who were soliciting funds for the Gideons' Bible distributing program.

Hay prices here have taken an upward spurt, those who have hay to sell are asking $30 a ton for their best grade.

Elgin Robinson returned Saturday to Camp Pendleton, Calif., to resume military training, after a month's furlough spent with home folks.

Joseph C. Musta, Glendale, Ore., driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, $245 and 90 day suspension of operator's license. Raymond G. Hilton, failure to signal, $6. Edward H. Rokey Cooks

The first meeting of the Rokey Cooks was held at Donna Bailey's home. We elected new officers for this year. The officers are president, Julia Jones; vice president, Jeri Gardner; secretary, Donna Bailey; reporter, Darlene Thompson; song leader, Lanny Miner.

This year we have eight members. Three of the members are new. They are Lin Davis, Terry Davis and Lanny Miner.

We reviewed some of the things we did last year with the new members. At our next meeting, Nov. 13, we are going to make soup.

Darlene Thompson, Reporter

Southwest Medford Livestock

South West Medford Livestock club met Oct. 16 at the residence of the leader, Mrs. George W. Rode. The main topic of the meeting was the election of officers.

Elected were Larry Sorum, unit president; Carole Leon, unit reporter; Ronnie Becker, livestock president; Heather Rode, livestock secretary; John Stuart, poultry president; and Barbara Cain, poultry secretary.

Larry Sorum gave a speech on programs for future meetings. Marvus Strom, junior leader, discussed achievement night which was held Oct. 27.

The club will hold a potluck dinner at the Strom home on Nov. 20 at 5:45 p.m. Members of the club and their parents are invited. Members are to take scrapbook items.
