Autopsy Ordered Into Man's Death

An autopsy on the death of Lawrence Raymond Phillips, 33, last night, has been requested by District Attorney Thomas J. Reeder.

Phillips was on probation from the county jail after conviction for obtaining property under false pretenses, according to the district attorney's office today.

A deputy county coroner received a call last night to go to the Phillips residence at 255 Charlotte Ann rd., Medford, from the attending physician, Mrs. Phillips told the deputy coroner she found two bottles of tablets empty in the bathroom. One of the bottles contained phenol barbiturate tablets used for sedations or sleep inducing, the deputy coroner said.

However, the attending physician told the deputy coroner and investigating sheriff's deputy that taking all the tablets would not necessarily cause death. Mrs. Phillips said her husband had been ill for a few weeks. He complained of feeling ill yesterday, she said. He asked her for some tablets and she cautioned him to take only as prescribed. Upon finding him breathing heavily on the couch later, she called a physician who pronounced him dead at 9:30 p.m., shortly after he arrived.
