Mid-Air Crash Kills Son of Film Couple
 Sun Valley, Calif. - (UPI) - The 19-year-old son of actress Maureen O'Sullivan and producer John Farrow, who are now in London, was one of three men killed Wednesday in the fiery head-on crash of two light planes.
 Michael Farrow, a student at Occidental College, was the eldest of the famous couple's seven children. He was a passenger in a plane piloted by David H. Johnson. Johnson's craft and one piloted by Donald W. Preveille, Glendale, collided at 1,000 feet and fell to the ground near each other in a desert area behind the Los Angeles Water and Power Department steam plant. Both planes had taken off earlier in the afternoon. A witness to the crash, Bob Porter, 27, said, "it looked like they tried to veer off at the last moment as they saw one another—but then it was too late."

Vote for HOME-LY HOUSER for State 'Dawg' Catcher

HOMELY SEZ:
 The last few days I have heard remarks such as "The state is going to the dawgs" or "I wouldn't vote for that dirty son-of-a-dawg catcher," so I believe something should be done.
 My platform—Fair treatment to all dawgs, dirty or dawgless. All dawgs to have one day set aside as their day. (Every dawg must have his day you know.)
 My promises—Anything, just anything at all. A bone in every mouth, a wag in every tail, automatic flea chasers, a cat to chase up a tree.
 My code—Honesty is the best policy when you're too dumb to remember your lies and too nervous to steal.
 Remember a vote for Home-ly is a vote for your friend, everybody's friend and will keep the state from going to the Dawgs.
