Ceremonial Announced By DOKK

State and national officers of the Knights of Pythias and Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, will be in Medford tomorrow, November 1, for a fall ceremonial of Fuhat Burkan temple. It is expected about 200 lodge members and guests will attend a banquet at 6:30 p.m. and the ceremonial to follow at 8 p.m. Both will be held in the Medford Pythian building.

Here for the event will be Leslie Vannice, Seattle, imperial kifer of the DOKK, and Thomas Hartfiel, Roseburg attorney who was elected grand chancellor of the Oregon Knights of Pythias at the recent state meeting. Mrs. Vannice and Mrs. Hartfiel are also expected. V. O. Ralston is royal vizier of the DOKK.

Members of Idella Rogue santha, Nomads of Avrudaka, will prepare the dinner, and members of Pythian Sunshine girls will serve. Entertainment will be provided during the evening. Miss Sharon Roberts and Bob Gozza of the Muzzioli School of Accordion will play and The Shadows will sing. The Shadows, a group of boys from St. Mary's school, have become one of the most popular singing groups in the valley in recent months.

Whether you are looking for something light and humorous or are seeking help in facing personal problems, the Jackson County Public library can find the books you need.

Eagle Point Community Plans Halloween Party

Eagle Point - Eagle Point Parent-Teacher association, aided by other organizations in the community, will sponsor a Halloween party to-night. It will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the grade school gymnasium.

All children in the community who are in grades one through eight are invited to attend. Games and dancing are planned, there will be prizes for the best costumes, and refreshments will be served.

The party was announced at a meeting of Eagle Point PTA held October 28, by Mrs. Keith Krambeal, music chairman for the association.

Mrs. Oscar Frei and Mrs. Arnold Arens, co-chairmen of the health committee, reported that on October 15 and 16 a total of 530 children had eyes tested at the school, and appreciation was expressed to all members of the community who helped carry out this program.

Keith Krambeal, member of the teaching staff in the music department, stated that the PTA has furnished many instruments for the band during the past two years, including a bass drum and cymbals, four clarinets, and three cornets. Mr. Krambeal, speaking for the Citizens' Safety Council of Eagle Point, requested that a representative of the PTA be named to serve on this council, and Richard Wolgamott was appointed.

Mrs. Ray Palm, with the assistance of Mrs. Lester McFall, presented a skit to point out the benefits to be obtained from subscribing to the PTA Magazine.

Two announcements were

Women's Group To Discontinue District Corps

Central Point - William H. Harrison post, Woman's Relief corps, was hostess to members of General Logan post, Grants Pass, for a meeting October 21. Luncheon preceded the meeting, and Mrs. John Novak, Central Point, president, conducted the session.

Mrs. Anna Harmon, president, was escorted to the president's station and given a general welcome.

With a vote of members of both corps, the district corps of southern Oregon was discontinued. The traveling flag was left with the Grants Pass corps to present to some club or patriotic order.

Grange to Hold Costume Party

A costume party will be featured at a square dance sponsored by the Bellview Grange at the Grange hall in Ashland, Saturday, November 1, starting at 8:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, and all square dancers are invited. Potluck refreshments will be served.

Floyd Workman and Byron (Buzz) Dibble, both of Medford, will call squares.

Couple Returns From California

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nordwick, 919 Reddy avenue, spent last week in California at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nordwick, Madera.

Two days were spent in the Bay area, and the family all attended the University of California-University of Oregon football game at Berkeley last Saturday. They also visited relatives in that region.

CALENDAR

Friday: 6:30 p.m.—Pocahontas lodge, Redman hall.

Saturday: 8 p.m.—Olive Rebekah lodge, IOOF hall.

Hawaiian Acts Please Audience

Hilo Hattie proved last night that she still has the stage charm and personality which have captivated audiences for almost 20 years. Hattie, full-blooded Hawaiian, sings, dances, is narrator and in general sparks the show which opened at the Elks club last night for a three-night run.

Hattie's troop includes three well-trained and pretty dancers, a four-piece musical group led by Carlyle Nelson and featuring another full-blooded Hawaiian who sings native songs, and Chief Satini, native Samoan whose drum beating and ceremonial fire ace electrifies his audience.

The Chief, who years ago was with the Royal Samoans, has been featured in a number of movies and will be remembered most recently for his ceremonial fire performance in "Around the World in 80 Days."

The three dancers presented classical and modernized hula dances and also dances typical of other islanders, including Tahitian dances.

The audience was enthusiastic about the troupe, and both the audience and troupe enthusiastic about the setting. The stairway and large party room of the Elks club are hung with heavy fish nets and glass fishing floats, palm trees conceal the pillars and the walls are covered with colorful fish, masks and arrangements of flowers and grasses.

Determined to make the party one of the most festive ever given by the lodge, flowers and foliage were imported from the island for buffet and serving table decorations and the stage provided for the musicians has a setting of grass mats, ti leaves, native masks and other material from the islands. Table decorations included great trays heaped with fresh fruit and food cooked in the island style is served from 7 to 9 p.m. each night. The Hawaiian musicians play for dancing.

The effective decorations are the work of Ray Huson, Ralph Matlack, and James Clark.—O.S.

Faculty Member To Give Speech In Grants Pass

Ashland—"What You Don't Know Might Hurt You," is the title of an address to be given Saturday, November 1, at 2:30 p.m. to the Grants Pass Women's club in the library auditorium by Dr. Ruth E. Beber, Southern Oregon college faculty member.

Primarily concerned with the effects of food additives and preservatives upon our daily foods, her talk will also include a discussion of the food and drug acts now awaiting legislative action at federal level.

Dr. Beber, an associate professor of education, is active in civic and professional affairs and has a background of military and secondary school teaching experience. She received her bachelor's degree in social science at the University of Mexico, a master's degree in physical education at the University of California, and her doctorate from the same institution in 1956. She has been on the staff at SOC since 1954.

Auxiliary To Assist Grants Pass Group

Officers and the color team of Colonel Sargent auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, will go to Grants Pass Sunday, November 2 to help with the installation of officers-elect of Rogue River auxiliary. The ceremony will be held in the V.F.W. hall at 1:30 p.m. A banquet will precede the ceremonies.

Mrs. Bertha Nelson, local president, states the Medford and Ashland members are to take desserts and salads.

Those wishing transportation are to call Mrs. Nelson or Mrs. James Vanderstein, telephone SPing 2-8471.

Roguette Circle Sets Installation

Installation of officers will be held by Roguette circle, Military Order of Lady Bugs Sunday, November 2. The ceremony is set for 2 p.m. at Veterans' hall, 42 North Front street.

All members of the Military Order of Cooties and Lady Bugs are invited to attend. Refreshments will follow the installation.

Many Protein Foods Listed As Best Buys For Week End

(The following guide to the nation's best food buys for this week end was prepared in cooperation with the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior.)

Washington—Food shoppers will find many protein foods competing for top place as best buys this week end. Many markets will feature the more economical cuts of beef, and pork loins, hams, and bacon will vie for honors. Budget prices continue to favor broilers and fryers, turkeys, small and medium size eggs, and cheese.

Vegetable bins continue to offer a fairly good variety of items for autumn menu planners. Among them are cabbage, potatoes, sweet potatoes, celery, cauliflower, onions, carrots, lettuce, turnips, squash, and snap beans.

New crop grapefruit is coming to market now, and many stores will offer bargains of the smaller sizes. Apples still are in abundant supply, also Bartlett pears, and cranberries from this year's big crop. Grapes still are featured at some marketing centers.

Best fish buys include shrimp, fish sticks, and canned tuna.

These are the week end's best food buys across the country. Now for a closer look at food counters in this particular area:

West - Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming: Beef, pork, eggs, broiler and fryer chickens, and apples are in good supply this week. Price changes are few, and consumers will have to shop carefully to find their best buys.

Pork loins are slightly lower in price, but other pork cuts and most beef cuts are about the same in price as last week. Calif. veal and lamb are in light supply and prices are mostly unchanged.

Medium size eggs are in particularly good supply and prices are slightly lower in some markets. Supplies of large size eggs are not plentiful as in recent weeks, and prices are slightly higher.

Broiler and fryer chickens are being featured at attractive prices in many markets, and supplies of turkeys are plentiful.

The limited supply of plentiful fresh fruits and vegetables includes apples, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, dry onions, tomatoes, and bunched vegetables. In good supply are Thompson seedless

Play Tickets Now on Sale

"The Solid Gold Cadillac," first fall production of the Footlighters Theatre Group, opens next Tuesday night for a five-day run. Tickets are on sale at Purucker Music House and Swam's store.

The Howard Teichmann-George S. Kaufman comedy will be directed by Frank Buchter. This is the first time "Solid Gold Cadillac" has been produced on the stage in this area, although the motion picture version appeared here a few years ago.

The story concerns a rather scatter-brained actress who throws the world of big business into an uproar when she decides the company in which she holds ten shares of stock is not being run quite right. Things get progressively more hectic when the highly-paid company officers hire the lady, Mrs. Laura Partridge, to keep her on their side—and end up depending on her to save the business.

Dance Planned By Hilltoppers

Hilltoppers Square Dance club will hold a square dance at the old Wagner Creek school Saturday, November 1, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Club officers point out that the school is easy to find by driving through downtown Talent and following Wagner creek road two miles. The route is all on paved road and the school is floodlighted.

Potluck refreshments will be served.

Francis Cronin and guest callers will call the squares.

Not Everyone Learns Hula Women's Editor Discovers

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
Honolulu—(UPI)—Anyone can learn the hula. That's what dancing teacher Lila Guerrero said before I became her pupil.

After a couple of hours instructing a girl who has trouble even with the fox trot, she conceded that the hula and I were permanently out of step.

"Maybe," she said, "the best hula dancers do train right from childhood."

Miss Guerrero, who has been dancing the hula since she was five, gives lessons to Hawaiian children and on occasion teaches its swing and sway to curious tourists like me. I took my lessons in private—if I'm going to make a fool of myself, I don't want an audience.

Watch the Hands
Mastering the hula's basic step isn't too hard. It's a one, two, three and tap with the ball of the foot, called the "kii wa wae" in Hawaiian, meaning feet in motion.

"Watch your hands," said Miss Guerrero, early in the course. "Let others watch the hips."

In the true hula, the motions of the hands are most important; the hands tell the story. The feet and hips just keep the rhythm.

I watched my hands and immediately ran into trouble with my bare feet (the hula always is danced barefoot). Mostly tripping over them, because the hula means movement of all parts of the body. I had to remember that the knees should be bent slightly, my wrists relaxed, my hips doing the "ami" rotating, and my elbows in toward the body and not jutting into the air like Diamond Head into the Pacific.

No Dorothy Lamour
Miss Guerrero patiently steered my awkward way through the intricacies of the kick step, or "uwehi"; the turn step, "kalakaua"; and tried to show how motion of the hands and arms symbolized the rolling sea, the arc of the rainbow, or the gathering of flowers.

She let me in the hands-making-raindrops department; in this motion, the fingers, stretched above the head, perform a shimmy. And, I failed the "around the island" movement completely. This sets the whole body rotating, and I just ain't a Dorothy Lamour.

Miss Guerrero, 35, a native of Honolulu, is married to Frank Reipinger, a Chicagoan working as a clerk at the shipping terminals. They have two children, a girl of 7, and a boy of 8, both "already accomplished hula dancers," their mother said. Miss Guerrero has been a featured dancer in several mainland night spots and in addition to teaching, also performs at ship welcoming parties.

She explained that to most tourists, the hula is nothing more than a sexy dance. But actually it is based on ancient religious ritual.
