What Is The Law?

This column is prepared as a public service by the College of Law, Willamette University, Salem, to explain basic legal principles, not to provide legal advice. The reader is cautioned not to apply these cases to his own problems without an attorney's advice, for differing facts may change the outcome.

Cats and Dogs Can Inherit Gifts

When Minerva died people were shocked to discover that her will gave much of her substantial holdings to a trust company to hold for her two cats. Minerva's heirs contested the will.

The court upheld the trust but pointed out that since the beneficiaries of the trust would by their nature be unable to enforce it, the trust would become inoperative if the company refused to carry out its provisions.

Gifts Clearly Valid

Gifts to animals in the form of trust gifts are clearly valid and enforceable if a large number of animals will benefit from the gift. Such a trust is "charitable" and will be enforced by the Attorney General of the state. Taking care of animals (assuming they are not predatory) is considered a function of society and organizations protecting and preventing cruelty to animals are recognized as charities. However, when only two cats are to benefit, the Attorney General does not enforce the trust since the public interest is not sufficiently involved.

Dogs and cats do have rights before the law but have not always been treated as high standing. Through the early development of the Anglo-American law there was much doubt as to the relationship of man and dog.

Courts gave domestic animals raised for food or for work full recognition and a man had an interest in such animals that would be protected by the law.

However, many courts considered dogs and cats to be objects of whim and fancy and not worthy of legal sanction. Judges often disagreed on the subject. Some judges referred to dogs and cats as faithful and loyal animals while others labelled them as mean and nasty creatures.

In modern times, the dog and cat have assumed the stature of cows and horses in the eyes of the law. The Oregon legislature has passed a law stating that a dog can be the subject of property and will be recognized in a court of law as being owned. Although no such law has been passed relating to cats, there seems to be no doubt but that the feline group enjoys the same rights as canines.

VOTE

for

MARV MADDEN

Democratic Candidate

for

County Clerk

If elected as County Clerk, Madden promises to study the costs of operating this office very carefully in view of the consistent budget increases which have occurred in the past few years.

If elected Madden will show fairness to both political parties and will seek to encourage registration and voting. If elected Marv Madden will not encourage or permit his deputies to promote his candidacy by paid political advertisements or by letter. If elected Madden will not seek to extend his influence beyond the definition of the office. Marv Madden's experience and qualifications are such that he is capable of doing any job in this office and he will devote his full time to working at it.

Madden will cooperate with other elected officials for harmonious, efficient and economical administration of the office.

Marv Madden will encourage registration and voting by providing full and accurate information about registration requirements and by stabilizing the location of polling places.

VOTE for MARV MADDEN on Nov. 4th

ILLINOIS VALLEY

Deer Hunter Finds Jeep

By RUTH RAUSCH
Cave Junction—Rudy Smith reported finding a jeep hidden in the underbrush along the Illinois river while deer hunting last week end. Deputy Sheriff Les Tythcott said it is believed the jeep is the one reported stolen last April from a mining claim back of Eight Dollar mountain. At that time, Tythcott tried to find it, but was unable to trace it in the woods. It belonged to Russell Lee of Kerby.

Home for the week end from the University of Oregon was Patsy Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers of O'Brien.

Western Star Chapter Order of Eastern Star Social club will meet Tuesday night, Nov. 4, in the Masonic temple at Kerby.

Robert Bittel, senior quarantine inspector of the Redwood station, and Jack Van-Zee of Smith River, Calif., are attending the annual conference for senior inspectors this week at the Dorris, Calif., station. The men are staying at Klamath Falls for the week.

Mrs. Henry Gammel attended the HEU Community service meeting in Grants Pass Monday and brought back a book, "Josephine County Looks to the Future," which she will present at the next local HEU meeting. The regular meeting for November has been changed from Tuesday to Thursday, Nov. 13, due to the legal holiday on the 11th, the regular meeting day.

The Nov. 13 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Baskin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Breckenridge are in charge of the new dance club started in O'Brien, offering a dance every Saturday night held in the O'Brien school building. A variety of dancing is planned for every meeting, including square, round and modern dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Stow, new managers of the Chit Chat cafe, took over operations Monday, Oct. 27. Stow has been in logging operations here.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stow are long time residents of the valley and are graduates of the local schools.

The executive board of the American Legion auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Fred

ROY P. WILKES for COUNCILMAN WARD 1

BECAUSE

He can be depended upon to work effectively for those things that are to the best interests of the Ward.

1. WILKES organized and led the successful drive for municipal facilities in the Kenwood-Grandview district of Ward 1.
2. WILKES spoke publicly in favor of the Sear's Shopping Center for Ward 1.
3. WILKES sought and gained revision of the subdivision ordinance which would have seriously restricted development in Ward 1.
4. WILKES requested that the new sewer lines in Ward 1 be of sufficient capacity to serve the Lone Pine area when it is so desired.
5. WILKES urged the City Planning Commission to provide prompt zoning of the newly-annexed districts of Ward 1, so that undesirable conditions such as wrecking yards near residential areas could be prevented or corrected.
6. WILKES has ably demonstrated he will help Ward 1 in its efforts toward progress and improvement.

VOTE TOMORROW FOR ROY P.

WILKES

To Represent Ward 1 on the City Council

Pd. Pol. Adv.—Wilkes for Councilman Comm., Elwood B. Hedberg, Secy.

A message of vital importance to all DEMOCRATS

Tuesday is the Day of Decision

During the brief 22 months administration of Governor Robert D. Holmes he has initiated the first effective program for the development of Oregon. Remarkable progress has been made.

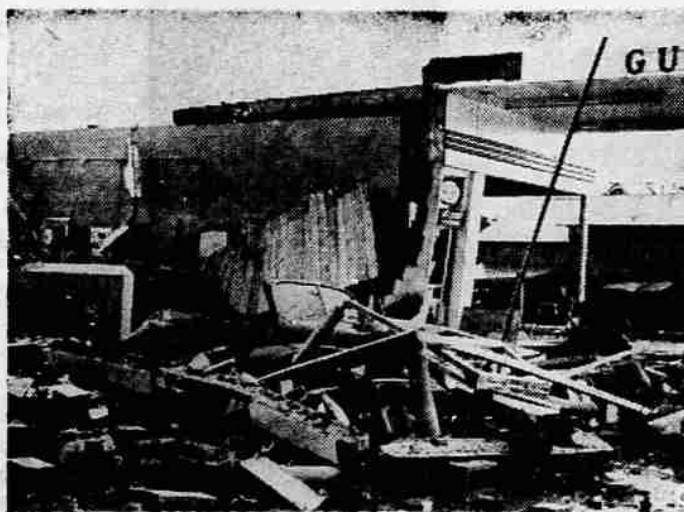

Tomorrow will tell whether or not he has the opportunity and advantage of a full 4-year term to finish the job that will brighten the future of all Oregonians. The decision is yours.

VOTE—these few minutes can guarantee the more prosperous Oregon to which we are dedicated.

VOTE—Re-elect our aggressive Governor, Robert D. Holmes, and give him the support of a Democratic legislature.
