Iowa Hawkeyes Keep Grip On First Place In Poll

New York – (UPI) – The Iowa Hawkeyes retained a slender grip on first place today in the United Press International major college football ratings while the undefeated - untied Louisiana State Tigers pounced into the runnerup spot.

Defeats suffered Saturday by several of last week's highly ranked teams enabled Northwestern and Notre Dame to climb back into the top 10 and produced several position changes among those that remained in the select group. Mississippi, shut out by Louisiana State in their "meetin' of the unbeaten," and Pittsburgh, upset by Syracuse, dropped out of the top 10.

Early Christmas Present

Iowa, which collected one of its Christmas presents early when it defeated Michigan for the first time in 34 years, received 13 first-place votes and a total of 305 points from the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams.

Louisiana State, bracketed with Rutgers as the nation's only undefeated-untied major college teams, advanced from fifth to second with 299 points. The Tigers received 17 first place votes, four more than Iowa, but the Big Ten team remained first because it received 15 second-place votes to the Southern team's three.

Each coach selects 10 teams in the order he rates them nationaly. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place. Iowa thus led Louisiana State by six points after leading Army by nine last week.

Army Slips

Army slipped from second to third with three first-place votes and 250 points. Auburn was next with a first-place vote and 186 points and Oklahoma was close behind in fifth place with the other first - place vote and 185 points.

Northwestern, 181 points; Wisconsin, 153; Purdue, 133; Ohio State, 36; and Notre Dame, 34, rounded out the top 10.

Mississippi dropped from 6th to 11th with 31 points. Syracuse, Texas Christian, Air Force academy, Rice, North Carolina, Southern Methodist, Clemson and Georgia Tech followed in that order. Colorado, knocked out of the unbeaten-untied ranks by Oklahoma, was tied for 20th with Texas A&M, Oregon State, Pittsburgh and Virginia Military.

UCLA Schedules An Unveiling of Great Tailback

San Francisco—(UPI)—UCLA plans to unveil the "greatest tailback" in the 10 years of Bruin single-wing play when the club tangles with California at Berkeley on Saturday.

The lad's name is Bill Kilmer, 19, a sophomore with all the talents that acting head coach Bill Barnes believes will result in greatness.

"Consider all the fine tailbacks we've had under Coach Red Sanders during the past decade," Vic Kelley of the UCLA staff told the Northern California Football Writers' luncheon Monday, "and it takes in a lot of territory, when you include Paul Cameron, Paul Villereal and some of the others."

Kilmer has been laid up most of the year with injuries.

Kilmer vs. Kapp

So a real battle shapes up between Kilmer and the veteran Joe Kapp of California who, said Coach Pete Elliott, played a fine game for the Golden Bears, even though losing to Oregon State Saturday.

Stanford plays Oregon this week and Coach Jack Curtice hasn't given up, despite the trouncing his boys took from Southern California in the last outing.

"We may get pushed around," said the jovial mentor, "but our boys never give up. Who knows? Maybe we'll put another game together such as we did against Washington and UCLA."

Curtice had nothing except compliments for the Trojans, which licked his boys 29-6.

"Those McKeever twins are great football players," said Cactus Jack, talking about the sophomore end and back of the Trojans. "I'd like to go some place and start a flight with those two standing back-to-back—and me in the middle."

Curtice thought the Trojan blocking was of the very best.

"On the 24-yard touchdown run by little Don Burford," said Jack, "the Trojan blocking was so good that there wasn't a single Stanford man left standing.

"Looking at the pictures of the play we decided it should be in the coaches' manual as a perfect example of fine blocking."

Top Independents Clash

The top battle among the independents in the West this week pits up-and-coming San Jose State against College of Pacific at Stockton. The Spartans, off to a shaky start, have won their last three in a row, while College of Pacific has dropped the same number.

"We have hopes now of giving the Tigers a battle," said Spartan Coach Bob Titchenal. We dropped our first three games and COP won their first four. I thought we would get murdered, 50-0."

Sixty-one of 95 non-exempt entries shot 83 or better and will join with about the same number of exempt top-name pros Wednesday in a field of 123 that will be shooting for a top prize of $3,500.

$5,000 Bonus

If the winner is one of four previous Carling champs who are entered in this sixth annual event there will be a bonus of $5,000 and a total first-place purse of $8,500. The quartet shooting for that added purse are defending champion Paul Harney, Dow Finstewald (1956), Doug Ford (1955) and Julius Boros (1954). Cary Middlecoff, winner of the first Carling in 1953, won't be able to play because of a recent illness.

John Dalrymple of St. Clair Shores, Mich., turned in the best qualifying score Sunday, a two-over-par 74.

In the second quarter Carl Hammer plunged for four yards off tackle for the second score racking it up 13-0. The run for conversion failed.

DEANS OF PREP FOOTBALL–Two sets of Dean brothers will perform at Grants Pass this Friday evening when the Medford high Black Tornado and the Grants Pass Cavemen contend in the grid tussle which decides the Southern Oregon conference championship. In the top photo are Calvin Dean (30) and Lowell Dean (84), Medford twins, and in the lower picture are Jack Dean, left, and his brother, Bennie, Grants Pass player. Cal is a 145-pound junior halfback who has played mostly on defense this fall. He has seen some offensive duty and has tallied one touchdown and passed for another. Lowell is an 188-pound junior offensive end who got a late start this year because of surgery. His pass catches have included one for a TD. Jack Dean (23) 160, senior halfback, is the big running threat in the GP backfield. Bennie (56), is a 141 senior guard.

District Championship Conflicts Highlight Week

District championship games are the feature attractions this week in Southern Oregon high school football.

Medford and Grants Pass vie at Grants Pass Friday night with the winner to gain the District 6 A-1 banner along with the Southern Oregon conference laurels. On the same evening Eagle Point scraps at Sutherlin for the District 6 A-2 prize. Victors in both games enter state quarter-finals in their respective classes.

The Tornado of Medford and Grants Pass go into their final league game with unblemished district records. In Class A-2 Eagle Point won the Rogue league or southern division of the district. Sutherlin- tied with Myrtle Creek in the Umpqua Valley league or northern division. A conference vote decided between the two.

The cellar will be issue in the other concluding Southern Oregon conference game of the year. Klamath Falls will play at Ashland Friday. Neither has won so far in the loop.

Other games of the week end are Rogue River at Jacksonville on Friday afternoon and St. Mary's varsity versus Medford high junior varsity at the Medford stadium on Saturday night.

Medford high's squad as of Monday was at a low ebb physically with left halfback Ragsdale out of action with a bad knee injury, left halfback Gerry Lyons and quarterback and linebacker Jim Clark victims of the flu bug and Tackle Lynn Knight with a dislocated finger in a splint. The injury naturally affects Knight's punting but Halfback John Harvey was booting the ball well last night.

Coach Fred Spiegelberg had Ken Durkee, Calvin Dean and Don Peek drilling at left half last night as the Tornado just ran offense. Durkee did a great job of taking over after Lyons and Ragsdale were hurt in the Ashland game.

Spokesmen for the airlines called the agreement "the first of its kind in the airlines industry." They said it was designed "to counteract the effects of excessive labor demands which result in shutting down a vital segment of the nation's transportation system."

A spokesman for the striking Capital machinists said he doubted if the pact was legal. But the airlines said their attorneys were convinced it did not violate the anti-trust laws.

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

SPORTS

Fanfare

By DICK JEWETT
Mail Tribune Sports Editor

Medford and Grants Pass High school teams meet on the gridiron for the 49th time Friday night when they vie for the District 6 A-1 championship at Caveman field in Grants Pass.

Mail Tribune files list 48 clashes since 1907 between the two Southern Oregon conference schools. Medford's Black Tornado has 36 victories in the book. Grants Pass has won 11 times. Last year's 20-all game was the first tie in the long history of the rivalry.

The Cavemen technically can claim 13 wins over Medford. Tornado gridders forfeited in 1936 because of a player ineligibility. In 1919 Medford would not play at Grants Pass because of the hard condition of the gridiron.

FOUR TO ONE

Since Fred Spiegelberg took over as Medford head grid coach in 1952, Grants Pass has won only once, 13 to 12 in 1953, over the Black Tornado. Medford won 20 to 13 in 1952, 14 to 7 each in 1954 and 1955 and 28 to 6 in 1956 over Coach Mel Ingram's Cavemen.

RECORDS COMPARED

Grants Pass goes into the Friday title battle with a 4-win, 1-loss, 2-tie record for 1958. Medford is 7-0 for the campaign. Each, of course, is 3-0 in the conference.

TORNADO TOTALS 182

Medford has run up 182 points against its opposition. Grants Pass has recorded 116 in its seven games. Only one touchdown and one extra point has been tallied against the Black Tornado. The Medford club is unscored upon since the first game of the season with North Salem. A total of 27 points have been yielded to adversaries by the Cavemen. But GP has allowed its opposition no more than one touchdown per game. It held three foes scoreless.

FOUR COMMON FOES

Grants Pass and Medford have had four common foes this fall. The Cavemen tied Marshfield 6 to 6 and defeated Crater 26 to 7, 33 to 7 over Ashland and 32 to 0 over Klamath Falls. Medford downed Marshfield 3 to 0, Crater 26 to 0, Klamath Falls 53 to 0 and Ashland 27 to 0.

ON ARMY TEAM

Sgt. Carl (Willie) Garner, ex-Phoenix high football player is playing for the Karlsruhe, Germany, Crusaders in the U. S. Army in Europe Southern conference. A back as a 185-pounder in high school, Garner is a 205-pound center for the Army team. Garner, an artilleryman in a combat intelligence unit, has been in the service two years and is scheduled to return to the United States in December. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs Carl R. Garner, 405 B st., Phoenix. The soldier was named lineman of the week in one issue of Stars and Stripes, the Army newspaper.

PELICANS CROSSED

The following are not the exact quotes but are reasonably close. Crater high at Klamath Falls the other night had the ball on the Pelican one-yard line. As the Comets lined up after the huddle, Allen Barnes, 210 right halfback, yelled across to the Pels, "Do you think you can stop me this time?" Came the reply, "Sure we can." Klamath players shifted over to make sure. Crater crossed the Pels up with Loyal Higinbotham getting the ball and cracking for the touchdown.

Barnes had a basis for his challenge to the Pels. Klamath Falls Herald and News statistics listed him for 212 yards net rushing in 18 packs for 11.77 yards per carry.

BALLOTS IN MAIL

Ballots for selection of the Medford Mail Tribune's annual Southern Oregon Conference all-star football squad have been placed in the mail. The Mail Tribune has adopted a new method for picking the stars. For the first time that this writer knows of, the players will have a hand in picking the first and second teams and honorable mention in the Mail Tribune poll.

Under the plan each team and each coach in the conference will cast a ballot, making a total of 10 ballots. Each will name all-opponent first and second teams. This means coaches and players will not vote for their own players. As in the past two points will be given for a first team vote and one for second team choice. At least two points will be required for honorable mention.

The Mail Tribune sports department, as usual, will count the ballots.

TOUCHDOWN GOOFED

Keeping track of 22 men on a football field is not always an easy chore. For proof take the Ashland - Medford high football game. It was Bob Quinney (83) of the Tornado who caught the pass from Cal Dean for the final touchdown, although the press box identified the receiver as Reggie Breeze (87).

Sugar Bowl Father Dies In South

New Orleans—(UPI)—Fred Digby, "father of the Sugar Bowl" and veteran sports writer, died here Monday at the age of 65 after a lifetime of promotion and devotion to every athletic event.

Funeral services are scheduled to be held Wednesday. At the time of his death, Digby was general manager of the Mid-winter Sports association, sponsor of the week-long Sugar Bowl events, and historian for the Football Writers association of America.

He was one of the most honored sports writers in the nation. He began as a $15 a week cub reporter on the old New Orleans Item in 1912. "I worked for three years at that salary," he said recently, "and never thought to ask for more."

Organized Association

Shortly after he became a reporter, Digby organized the Amateur Baseball association, and was active in establishing the local Golden Gloves contests, prep relays, intersectional Catholic football games and tennis tournaments.

He and his editor, Will R. Hamilton, drew up a set of boxing rules that are still used to govern the sport in Louisiana.

Digby personally covered most of the world's heavyweight title fights and was one the few to choose Gene Tunney in 1927 to beat Jack Dempsey.

His greatest achievement came when he masterminded and named the first Sugar Bowl football classic in New Orleans on New Year's Day, 1935.
