

California Leader In Total Offense

Los Angeles—UPI—California leads the Pacific Coast conference in total offense today and Bear quarterback Joe Kapp is the individual leader in the same category.

Statistics released by the PCC commissioner's office also showed Oregon leading in total defense with 222.6 yards allowed per game.

California's total offense figure was an average of 316.8 yards per game. The Bears also led in the rushing category with a 246.0 average.

Washington State was tops in passing with a 154.7 average.

Oregon State led in the punting department with an average of 36.9 per kick while UCLA led in pass interceptions with 14.

In statistics on individual players, Kapp led in total offense with 813 yards and was also the rushing leader with 437 yards.

Bob Newman of Washington State was second in total offense with 457 yards while Dave Gross held third with 451 yards.

Other leaders: Passing, Bob Nicolet, Stanford, 52 completions on 104 attempts with 526 yards gained; pass receiving, Chris Burford, 30 receptions for 336 yards; scoring, Bill Patton, California, 56 points; punting, Dainard Paulson, Oregon State, 42.1 average; punt returns, John Herrillo, 10.7 average; kickoff returns, Hank Olguin, California, 19.1 average.

Milstead Tops NCAA In Offense

New York—UPI—Charles Milstead of Texas A&M, picking up steam as the college football season passes the halfway mark, is making a strong bid to become the first national offense champion from the Southwest conference in 20 years.

At the same time, Bill Austin of undefeated Rutgers is within reach of a triple crown in major college rankings. The "one-man gang" from New Jersey is among the leaders in total offense, rushing yardage and scoring.

NCAA Service bureau statistics released today show that Milstead has moved into the top position in total offense with 1,006 yards. The 20-year-old junior has passed for 779 yards and rushed for 227 more. In his last three games, Milstead has accounted for 660 yards, a pace that could almost assure making him the first total yardage champion from his conference since Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian won in 1938.

Austin has climbed into third place in total offense, just 76 yards behind Milstead. Austin, the tailback in Rutgers' singling offense, is second in rushing and currently leads the nation in scoring.

Thornton Kipper Sets Three NW Hurling Marks

San Mateo, Calif.—UPI—Thornton Kipper of Lewiston set three Northwest league pitching marks in 1958 according to league statistics released today.

Kipper also had the best earned run mark, 2.72, started the most games, 34, and allowed the most runs, 130, the most hits, 269, and fanned the most hitters, 193.

Osmanski Says Pros Today No Better Than Past Ones

Chicago—UPI—One-time fullback, Bill Osmanski, who played one game when the Chicago Bears scored so many touchdowns they ran out of balls, said today that modern players may be bigger, faster and last longer than those in his day—but they're no better.

"It's just that they're specialists now-a-days," he said. "One man has to do nothing but work on his kicking, another his passing. Naturally they're going to last longer that way."

NFL Rushing Figures Led By Brown

Philadelphia—UPI—The National Football league was at the halfway point today and from every indication, Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns could crawl to a league record for ground gained by rushing in one season.

The bulldozing Brown, "held" to a "mere" 113 yards by the New York Giants last Sunday, led the rushers with 928 yards, with rookie teammate Bob Mitchell in second place with 479.

Brown has six games left to bombard the record Steve Van Buran set for the Philadelphia Eagles in 1949, and he's only 218 yards away from Steve's 1,146 yard total. The former Syracuse star is hitting at a 7.1 average yards per carry, a phenomenal 155 yards per game, giving Van Buren's mark about two weeks to stand.

Brown also was the leading scorer with 15 touchdowns, just three away from Van Buren's league record of 18 in one season.

Soph Selected Back of Week

Chicago—UPI—Dick Thornton, Northwestern's sophomore quarterback who celebrated his 19th birthday with a one-man offensive, in Saturday's 21-0 upset over Ohio State, was picked today as UPI's Midwest back-of-the-week.

"I don't recall ever seeing a better performance even for a veteran quarterback," said Wildcat Coach Ara Parseghian after ending the Buckeye's unbeaten streak of 15 games.

Thornton passed for two touchdowns, ran for another and intercepted a desperate Ohio State pass in the fourth period. His pass for Northwestern's touchdown went 35 yards to halfback Ron Burton who sprinted the remaining 32 yards to the goal line, to climax Northwestern's first touchdown drive and chalk up an all-time record of 67 yards for a Northwestern pass play.
