

Last night
I nearly died
of embarrassment
because of my
LOOSE FALSE TEETH!

Now I know
no powder
can hold like Poli-Grip Cream

so tight...so long...so snug

Now you can eat, laugh...even sneeze without fear of embarrassment. Poli-Grip grips no matter what!

This pink, pleasant-tasting cream locks slipping, sliding dentures in place. You feel its snug, tight-fitting comfort immediately.

New Cream Locks In Plates with Natural Suction Method

You see, dentures work on the scientific principle of suction. This means you need an airtight seal to keep them in place.

Unlike powders that dry into hard, uneven clumps that let air seep in, Poli-Grip spreads smoothly and evenly...builds a comfortable seal that forms a natural suction to keep air out. Your plates hold tighter, longer. Get Poli-Grip. Discover comfort you never thought possible.

POLI-GRIP
CREAM DENTURE
ADHESIVE

Family Weekly
November 16, 1958

Will Margaret Ever Be Queen?

Did precarious line of succession frighten gay Princess into renouncing love?

Victoria bore 9 heirs

Here, for the first time,
is revealed the secret reason why Meg cannot renounce her right of succession to the throne.

by Isabella Taves

THREE YEARS AGO, when Princess Margaret announced formally that she wasn't going to marry Peter Townsend, people who claimed to have the inside track hinted mysteriously that she had a reason she couldn't tell anybody, not even Townsend.

In April of this year, Queen Elizabeth was laid up with one of those "heavy colds" which have appeared on the court calendar every Winter and Spring since she ascended the throne. She was in bed from April 23 until April 30 and did not appear publicly until May 5. Her engagements during that time were canceled. Doctors called on her more frequently than is necessary for a cold, even a bad one—even a queen's bad cold.

When reporters tried to question Commander Colville, who is in charge of saying as little as possible about the royal family, he explained that the strain of her trip to the United States and Canada had been "considerable." It was known that she had dieted to lose 10 pounds before she left and taken cold just before the trip. Doctors issued discreet bulletins about her "swinging temperature" and mentioned a prolonged rest. An eye specialist was called in about her sinus; apparently that was the start of the acute sinus trouble which laid her low this Summer.

Anybody can get a cold, including a queen. But this time the gossip writers slyly used the word "baffling" to describe it, and friends hinted deviously that the source of sinus trouble was often emotional stress. Nobody came right out with the word "miscarriage." But I have it from one of those usual "unimpeachable sources" which can't be revealed.