Jackson County Pomona Grange met for an all-day session Oct. 25 in the Live Oak Grange hall. All officers were present, except executive committeeman Ralph James. Due to the early morning fog, an unusually small group met to elect officers for a two-year term.

Elected were R. R. Bitterling, master; Melvin Lattie, overseer; Mabel Wertz, lecturer; Oris Moore, steward; Chester Wendi, assistant steward; Hattie Hendrickson, chaplain; Dee Hendrickson, treasurer; Lesbia Lattie, secretary; Herman Kamping, gatekeeper; Grace Buck, cress; Willie McLean, pomona; Pearl Byrnes, flora; Cora Bitterling, lady assistant steward; and Delmar Smith, Herbert Carlton, Frank Hall, executive committeemen.

The success of the Jackson county exhibit, sponsored at the Oregon State fair by the Pomona Grange, was told by fair chairman Delmar Smith. On exhibition was the silver cup won by Herman Kamping for his potatoes in the Land Products division.

Fourteen first prizes and thirteen seconds were won by fruits and vegetables grown in Jackson county and the prize money was turned over to the Pomona Grange to help defray the cost of the display. It was reported that many people attending the fair had never heard of Jackson county and wondered what part of the state it was in.

County agent Earl Jossey reported that all the Talent alfalfa seed now being grown in the valley is being sold to Greece at a high price. This is due to the efforts of one of the Oregon State college professors in Greece on the point 4 program.

Frank Hall, reporting on the recommendations of the army engineers for harnessing the Rogue river, urged all grangers to go to the next hearing and make known their feelings on the dams.

HEC chairman Edith Poe urged all the women of the subordinate granges to attend the district conference to be held Nov. 22 in the Phoenix Grange hall, starting at 10:30 a.m. and continuing until about 3:00 p.m. She stated it was particularly important for all HEC chairmen to attend and get information on the 1959 contests. Demits were granted to Harold and Jean Densmore, who are now making their home in Roseburg. The resolution regarding a change in ship requirements was tabled until next meeting and made a special order of business at that time.

Announcement was made that Eagle Point Grange will put on the third annual Degrees at their Dec. 2 meeting; all Granges are invited to bring their candidates for initiation.

The next meeting of Jackson County Pomona Grange will be held in the Phoenix Grange hall, Jan. 24 at 10 a.m. Mrs. Melvin Lattie, Secretary Jackson County Pomona Grange No. 27

Griffin Creek Grange met in regular session Thursday, Nov. 13. Minutes were read and approved.

Master Cyril Farnsworth announced that an insurance school will be held Nov. 25 at Live Oak Grange hall. Mrs. Dan Chisholm, who has been in the hospital for surgery is home and improving and Mrs. William Darby, who has been ill for the last few weeks, is reported to be better.

HEC chairman Mrs. Roy LeVander asked members to bring baked goods and fancy work to Couey's Appliance store, 225 East Sixth st., Medford, where a bazaar and food sale will be held on Nov. 22, or call the store at SP-3-1257. The sale will start at 10 a.m.

Because Thanksgiving comes on the date of the next meeting, the meeting will be postponed indefinitely. The HEC will meet Thursday, Nov. 20, for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harold Tolle.

Lecturer Lulu Sturgill dispensed with the program due to the election of officers. Elected were Herman Kamping, master; Roy LeVander, overseer; Lulu Sturgill, lecturer; Jack Bierma, steward; Harold Tolle, assistant steward; Mrs. Iva Harper, chaplain; George Mero, treasurer; Mabel Buchanan, secretary; William Darby, gate keeper; Mollie Casey, cress; Eva Farnsworth, flora; Pearl Farnsworth, pomona. Executive committee members are Cyril Farnsworth, Isabel LeVander and Clyde Sturgill.

The Sturgills and Zeta Maddox served coffee and cake at the close of the meeting.

Now kill tree-destroying orchard mice with ORTHO® Endrin

Kills both the pine mouse and the meadow mouse.

The pine mouse has a small body, small tail, Roman nose, sunken eyes and brown fur. He burrows underground and girdles the trees.

The meadow mouse has a large body, long tail, prominent eyes and dark grayish fur. He girdles the trees at ground level.

Ground spraying with ORTHO® Endrin is the most effective—most economical method for control of orchard mice.

Up until now, the control of orchard mice has been an expensive, time-consuming task. Previously used control measures such as hand-baiting, and the use of wire mesh screen, required costly hard labor and were not always effective. Now, ground spray with ORTHO Endrin gives you a sure, efficient method of control.

For complete information on the control of orchard mice, call your nearest ORTHO Fieldman.
