

Wisdom of Solomon Could Be Needed in Bowl Choice

By HAL WOOD
San Francisco—UPI—The wisdom of a Solomon will be needed to pick the Pacific Coast Conference representative to the Rose Bowl if California should lose to Stanford Saturday. And if Southern California, Washington State and Oregon State win their contests.

If the Golden Bears win, they get the automatic nomination. If they lose, while the other clubs in contention win, the standings will be like this: California, 5-2, USC 5-2, WSC 6-2 and OSC 6-2.

California's Bears Leading in Offense

Los Angeles—UPI—The University of California and the man expected to put them in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1—Joe Kapp—dominated Pacific Coast conference statistics today.

California led the league in total offense, with a 315.3 yard average per game, and in rushing with 236.3.

Kapp, the versatile quarterback is a cinch to claim the individual total offense crown with 1131 yards, including 540 by rushing. The rushing yardage is a record for a Coast league quarterback, but Kapp has stiff competition for that crown from Willie West, of Oregon, who has gained 436 yards with two games to one for Kapp remaining.

Washington State ranked first in both pass offense and defense for the second week in a row. Its passing attack gained an average of 147.2 yards per game, while the Cougars limited opponents to 56.9 yards per game.

Trailing California in rushing were Southern California, with a 209 average, and Oregon, with 200. In total offense, Washington State is second with 313.2, followed by Oregon, with 297.2.

Stanford, the worst of the conference teams defensively, held second in passing offense with 144.6, followed by UCLA with 112.1. In pass defense, Oregon was second, giving up 73.2 yards per game, and Southern California third—90.1 yards per game.

Oregon held its position as the top team in total defense, permitting an average of 218.7 yards per game, against 220 for Washington State and 251.6 by Oregon State.

Chris Burford, another Stanford player, led in pass receptions with 41 for 433 yards, and threatened a seven-year-old record held by Ed Barker of Washington State.

Milstead Takes Over Rush Lead

New York—UPI—Charley Milstead of Texas A. and M. who had a hand on foot in scoring 22 points as he led the Aggies to a 28-21 upset of Rice last Saturday, took over today as the leader in history's hottest battle for the college football ground-gaining championship.

Milstead rolled up 185 yards, mostly by passing, against Rice to seize the No. 1 total offense spot with a total of 1189 yards, only seven more than Randy Duncan of Iowa.

Right behind the two leaders were Joe Kapp of California at 1131, Dick Longfellow of West Virginia at 1127, Dick Bass of College of Pacific at 1102, and Billy Holsclaw of Virginia Tech at 1095.

Talent—Five lettermen are among 38 candidates out for basketball at Talent High school, which is the defending District 5B champion.

The letter wearer are Duane Pittman, Kipp Walls, John Butler, Eddie Seaver and Ron Welburn.

Webfoots, Beavers Working in Secret

Corvallis, Ore.—UPI—Heavy rainfall flooded Oregon State's regular practice field Tuesday, so the Beavers worked out at Bell field.

contact this week, he was working his team on methods of trying to find a scoring punch against Oregon State at Corvallis Saturday.

Eugene—UPI—The gates were locked again at Hayward field today in hopes the weather would dry out enough to allow Oregon's Webfoots to work on some offensive formations.

Willie West of Oregon has a chance to win the PCC rushing title. He has 436 yards and two games to play to 540 yards for California's Joe Kapp who has only Stanford left.

At Corvallis, plans of Oregon State were veiled in secrecy. Rumors around the Oregon State campus had four different men ready to start at tailback—Paul Lowe, Dainard Paulson, Leon Criner and Grimm Mason. The latter hasn't played since the Washington game Oct. 25 when he reinjured a knee.
