Medford High School

Edited by Barbara Nulton. Reporters Connie Hinesly, B. J. Hale, Rosemary Eismann, Deanna Russel, Peggy Fisch, Noralene Schell, Sandra Kay Heidemann, Sandra Kline, Margie Good and Judy Elgin.

Be Aggressive to Arnold Wolfe Day" was appropriately carried out at the Medford-Marshfield game Friday night. Wolfe, a popular senior boy, managed the football team for two years, is Order of the M president, and was recently crowned Tornado King. In order to honor this celebrated figure, the Goofers conducted an auction where Arnie was sold for one cent, and organized a "Send Arnold Wolfe to New Guinea" fund.

Acids, torches, and fuming nitric acid are found in various places around this room. No, this isn't a hide out for a would be arsonist; these are just a few of the essentials in the new chemistry department at Medford High.

The new lab is said to be second to that of no other high school in the state and all the equipment is up-to-date as the space-age itself. There are two new classrooms and an advanced chemistry laboratory for special projects. Impressed students moved into the department for the first time last week, although the arrival of the demonstration tables has yet to complete the picture.

Mrs. Jeanne Hutchings, a registered nurse, was introduced as the acting Future Nurses advisor at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Juanita Anderson, who is the Home Nursing instructor and regular FNA advisor, is having a knee operation; therefore Mrs. Hutchings will be taking her place for approximately two months.

Business discussed at the meeting included some of the club projects for the year such as greeting card albums, a new scholarship program, and a hospitality committee for the purpose of entertaining in the rest homes.

Roberta Sleetor, representing the American Field Service program, spoke to a group of students interested in being an exchange student Nov. 19 in the auditorium.

Roberta explained that there are two different programs, the summer program which lasts three months and the winter program, the length of which depends upon the country attend.

To participate in the winter program, a student must devote his entire summer to the learning of the country's language.

Qualifications for applicants are two years of a foreign language, excellent health, a genuine interest in the American Field Service program and its purpose of promoting international good will.

The students who are accepted will pay $525 for the trip and will be housed by a family in the country to which they go.

A colorful half-time pageant was portrayed by the band at the Medford-Marshfield game. Band members were ornamented by white cap lights and green and orange toe lights. The theme was evolved around marching maneuvers with the lights an added attraction.

Thanksgiving time came into light as the band, performing this time at the Medford-Pendleton game half - time, formed a technicolor turkey on the field. The popular hit song "Tom Dooley" was played as the turkey "hung its head own" as suggested in the song.

A victory bell for MHS was discussed at the regular meeting of the student council Wednesday. It is hoped by the council that some of the excess school spirit and enthusiasm may be drained through the use of this bell.

Larry Anderson has volunteered to bring a bell to school so the council members can rediscuss the different aspects of the idea and decide if the bell should be made stationary in front of the school or transportable.

Besides putting on halftime shows for the football game the band is also busy preparing for a concert Dec. 14, which will help pay their expenses for the San Francisco trip.

Student directories, sponsored by the Future Business Leaders of America club, will go on sale sometime after Thanksgiving vacation.

The directories will list the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all students in the school.

Medford High has already started organizing for its annual TAP drive. This year, instead of being Teens Against Polio, the drive will be titled Teen-Age Program, as the funds will go for the treatment of and research on virus diseases, rheumatoid arthritis, inborn defects, besides polio.

Jerry Vice, Medford school system chairman, has already begun organizing class projects and all-school affairs to aid in the raising of funds.

Thursday morning many reluctant students made a students made a long walk to the auditorium where they received immunization for small pox and diphtheria.

Jackson School

By Linda Graham and Karyn Fixsen

On the bulletin board in the upper hall was a letter thanking the business people who visited Jackson school Thursday, Nov. 20. It was written with yarn in Jackson school colors. The business people were Mrs. Howard Brooks, Sacred Heart hospital, personnel director of nurses; Andy Anderson, Timber Products; Wayne Struble, architect; and Gregory Orr, Weeks and Orr.

The bulletin board in the lower hall has the heading "Happy Thanksgiving." It has many stories written by children in the fifth grade about what Thanksgiving means to them. Around these stories were pumpkins and apples, vegetables, and fruits, showing what helps make a good Thanksgiving.

Immunization shots were given students of West Side and Jackson schools at Jackson Wednesday, Nov. 17.

Many new, beautiful, and interesting books are arriving daily in our library. The big turkey on the bulletin board says, "We too, have something to gobble about."

The pupils in Miss Eunice Gray's first grade are studying about Indians. We saw beautiful Indian dolls, wigwams, and turkeys, as we peeked into this room. The project helps children to learn about the first Thanksgiving.

On Tuesday, Nov. 25, we will have our annual Thanksgiving Day dinner. All students are urged to eat with their teacher and group on this day. The cost will be the regular 25 cents. The menu will include turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, cranberry sauce, green beans, rolls and butter, milk and ice cream.

On Wednesday, Nov. 26, school will be dismissed at 2 p.m. There will be no school on Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28 due to Thanksgiving holidays. But school will be as usual on Dec. 1.

McLoughlin Junior High

By Joel Gregory

For the first time at McLoughlin Junior High, formal penmanship certificates were awarded to students qualifying by Mrs. Marjorie Votaw in the awards assembly held Friday in the Boy's gym. The certificates will continue to be given during the year whenever students reach a certain achievement in writing.

Football letters were presented to the varsity players in each grade by their coaches, Dale Bates, Mr. Davis, Ralph Perkins, Edward Doran, and John Reed.

The ninth grade class then presided over the rest of the assembly with stunts involving the seventh graders as a welcome into the McLoughlin student body. Participating seventh graders were John Lampkin, Jimmy Allen, Terry Hinesly, Sue Elmgren, Peter Hinman, Ronnie Vincent, Valerie Knight, Margaret Doolen, Terry Winetrot, Jeffery Monroe, Kay Kent, Pam Jones, Nancy Burger, Karen Brattain, Mike Barnes, and Leslie Stanley.

A. K. Morse, Robert Taylor, Fred Robinson, Jerry Latham, M. H. Hall, Veri G. Walker, Andy Anderson, and Russell Hogue visited McLoughlin Thursday as part of Education-Business Day sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. They were greeted by Glenn Linn, principal, and Carl Washburn, student body president. They were taken on a tour of the building where they visited classrooms and saw some of the intricacies to running a school. They lunched with the students and teachers in the cafeteria at noon.

A record hop was held Friday night in the girls gym sponsored by the Booster club. Red and white streamers and popular record titles carried out the decorations. Donna Johnson, Willajo Mills and Joyce Leon portrayed a modern scene in dance. Hope Reeves is president of Boosters and Miss Nadine Brown is the advisor.

The ninth grade ensemble was kept busy last week. On Tuesday, they sang at a business-dinner meeting of the Men's Fellowship at the First Christian church. On Wednesday, they recorded a program for radio station KYJC which was played Saturday night. The group is directed by Ray Lewis. Those participating were Vivian DeWeerd, Claudia Owen, Judy Booth, Jo Ann Johnson, Lois Stedman, Sharon Hendrickson, Wally Huffman, Leonard Walch, Bill Edwards, Joel Gregory, Robert Weaver, and Rome Atkins.

The library club met Thursday in room 12. John Alanisky, president, called the meeting to order and various reports were given. The committees were announced for the year. Mrs. Lois Martin is the advisor.

On Tuesday I. Q. tests were given in the Boy's gym to ninth and seventh graders. Miss Louise Basford, director of special education, supervised. Although most of the students groaned, there was the consolation of getting to miss a class.

The Pointer Pens arrived Wednesday, Nov. 19. They are green with gold tops, and have "Pointers" written on the side. They are being sold for 35 cents to anyone in the junior high who wants one. Sales are sponsored by the journalism clubs and proceeds will be used for purchasing a school camera.

The basketball intramurals will start after the Thanksgiving holiday. Girls intramurals will be under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Smock, and the boys will be under the supervision of Keith Johnson.

The Journalism club is putting out a weekly payer. It will be free to anyone in junior high. It is one page long and contains news around

A Tribute to Our Chamber of Commerce!

The sincere men who aggressively promote the industrial advantages and potential profit possibilities of our city, comprise our most important, single group of citizens. They are the hard-working members of our Chamber of Commerce. On their shoulders falls the responsibility of attracting new factories and industries to our community, in order that more and more payrolls, families and homes will augment our already prosperous area. Indeed, we might say that the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE is the very life-blood of our daily lives, for their activities penetrate each business, large and small — bringing to all, the kind of help that benefits, directly or indirectly, every man, woman and child in our proud community. We salute the incomparable work of our Chamber of Commerce!
