

Holy Land Renews Reverence Of Christmas Season in World

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to visit the Holy Land on Christmas Day?

Well, here's a ticket on the magic flying carpet! Before you can say "Merry Christmas," we're over the Sea of Galilee, turning south to go down the River Jordan, passing the very spot where the Dead Sea Scrolls were discovered, and then the magic carpet swings toward the Mediterranean Sea . . . to Bethlehem.

This quiet little village is one of the most revered spots in all Christendom - it is the birthplace of Jesus.

In one corner is a silver star with a hole in the center that permits pilgrims to kiss the original rock floor beneath. Holds Tiny Figure

Here too, is the Altar of the Manger. It holds a tiny figure of the Infant Jesus, and is beautifully adorned with rich satin and brocade.

From the grotto you wander past sacred tombs, and the cell where Jerome made his famous translation of the Scriptures.

As the Christmas service progresses, we get on the magic carpet again.

Away we soar across a clear star-laden sky to Jerusalem, just a few miles north.

Jerusalem is a Holy City to Christians, Moslems and the Jews, and at Christmas time, like Bethlehem, is crowded with countless devout visitors.

For 33 centuries Jerusalem was rocked by earthquakes; sacked, besieged and blockaded by invaders, and has passed six times from one religion to another.

Undiscovered Secrets Jerusalem still holds many undiscovered secrets; but even now there are things to do, so we must travel quickly.

There's the Moslem Dome where Mohammed is said to have ascended to heaven; and Abraham almost sacrificed his son.

We join the many pilgrims on the Via Dolorosa, a narrow winding street that leads to Calvary . . . see the crumbling Walling Wall of the Jews . . . visit King Solomon's wells . . . the Church of the Holy Sepulcher . . . and finally, we stop

NEW! TOP TO BOTTOM— From the looped mohair chemise cardigan sweater . . . to the pleat-founce-band trim treatment on this 100 per cent wool tweed skirt . . . it's utterly new! Colors collaborate, capturing rich jewel tones in a small green garden outside the city where many historians believe Christ was actually entombed.

Time is getting late, and the flying carpet heads for the open sea . . . and suddenly we are back to celebrate a traditional Christmas at home - combining the old and the new . . . all in the spirit of reverence!

Danish Wines in Fruit Flavors Are Popular Imports

Danish wines in delicious fruit flavors are among the most popular of imports, and favored by clever homemakers who pride themselves on preparing Holiday treats with new and intriguing flavors.

One such fruit cake is enhanced by the use of Danish wine; it's sure to find favor with all lovers of fine food. Try it this Christmas!

Danish Wine Fruit Cake
1 lb. candied cherries
1/2 lb. blanched almonds
1 lb. nectar raisins
1/2 cup Danish strawberry or blackberry wine
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup shortening
6 eggs, well-beaten
1/2 lb. candied pineapple
1 lb. pecans
1/2 lb. citron, thinly sliced
1/2 tsp. each of nutmeg, cinnamon, allspice, cloves
1/2 lb. brown sugar
1/2 cup molasses

Leave cherries whole. Cut pineapple in wedges. Cut nuts in quarters. Leave raisins whole. Place all fruits and nuts in a bowl and pour Danish Strawberry wine over them. Let stand overnight.

Sift flour with spices. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add well-beaten eggs. Beat well. Add fruit and Danish wine. Mix in flour alternately with molasses, beginning and ending with flour.

Pour batter into loaf cake pans lined with heavy waxed paper. Fill each pan to within 1/2 inch of rim. Bake in oven at 275 F for 2 to 4 1/2 hours, depending upon the size of fruit cakes.

Cool thoroughly. Wrap each cake in cheesecloth soaked in Danish strawberry or blackberry wine. Store in tightly covered containers for about one month to mellow before serving. Dampen cheesecloth several times during storage.
