

BECOMING a one-man "watchdog" of developments in Hungary, New Zealand's Sir Leslie Munro take on new United Nations duty.

Slayer of Five Sought in West

El Cajon, Calif.—UPI—Police and sheriff's deputies manned roadblocks in this area and authorities in the entire West have been alerted in a massive manhunt for an 18-year old boy who they believe shot a mother to death and then fatally slashed her four small children.

The hunt for the suspect, a youth whom the family had befriended, was toughed off when the family's father, Thomas Pendergast, came home to find the bodies of his wife and four children strewn about in one of the bloodiest mass slayings in Southern California history.

Pendergast said when he arrived home from work Saturday, the youth who has given his name as Charles Harrison and said he was from Rochester, N. Y., met him at the door with a pistol in his hand and forced him to drive to downtown San Diego, 20 miles to the west. Pendergast later managed to wrest the pistol from the youth who fled on foot.

It was then that Pendergast, an aircraft worker, went back to his home to find the carnage. He was not long in learning the horrible truth. His 37-year-old wife, Lois, he said, lay in the hallway of their home. She had been shot to death.

Then in other parts of the house and the garage he found his children slashed about their throats and two of them disemboweled.

De Gaulle to Run For Top Position

Paris—UPI—Gen. Charles De Gaulle has formally agreed to run for president of the Fifth French Republic he fathered. His election was regarded as certain.

De Gaulle's only opponents in the Dec. 21 elections are a little-known Communist, Georges Marrange, mayor of Paris "red belt" suburb of Ivry and a member of the Red party's politburo, and Albert Chatelet, 75, University of Paris professor.

All other major French political parties have announced they will support De Gaulle.

De Gaulle's decision to seek election as the first president of the new republic was announced by Rene Cassin, president of a three-man constitutional committee supervising the elections. Cassin met with De Gaulle for 30 minutes at the premier's official residence, the Matignon hotel.

"The general told me he agrees to run," Cassin told waiting newsmen.

The Korean war killed 33,417 Americans during its duration. In the same period about 650,000 Americans died as a result of cancer.

TESTIFYING at coroner's inquest, James Raymond, janitor at Our Lady of Angels School, Chicago, says he first noticed fire which killed 92 persons 20 or 25 minutes before firemen arrived.
