ILLINOIS VALLEY At Bahama Conference

Early Elmore of the Davenport Farm Machinery company, in Medford is attending the J. I. Case company, dealer conference and world premiere in Nassau, Bahama Islands this week. Elmore was manager of the Q Bar X ranch here before moving to Medford last summer.

The annual charity silver tea will be a part of the Christmas party of the Illinois Valley Garden club to be held Friday, at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. George Webb. Proceeds of the benefit tea will be given to the American Legion Auxiliary Christmas baskets which are prepared for distribution in the Valley.

Over 60 Christmas swags were made by Mrs. John Milburn and her garden club committee last Friday at the Masonic hall in Kerby. Many of the decorations for the swags had been made earlier by other committees, so that at the Friday session, the assembly work was completed and the swags were delivered in time for the week end.

One swag was presented to the Garden club by the county branch library. A memorial wreath was made for the grave of Terry Miller, former Illinois Valley high school student, a victim of polio. Last week the final planting of the shrubs donated by the Illinois Valley Garden club, on the library grounds took place. The landscape planning and the planting work were both under the supervision of the club.

A planned dinner and gift exchange was held by the HEU group at the recent Christmas party held in the home of Mrs. Wally Eichler. During the afternoon, there was a discussion on various ideas for Christmas decorations in the home. There will be no HEU meeting in January.

Bob Breckenridge entered the University hospital in Portland for observation last week. Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Smith attended the annual Christmas dinner of the Josephine hospital board on Monday evening. A short business meeting was held prior to dinner at

Savings Bonds Sales Drop Here

County Savings Bonds sales for November in Jackson county totaled $66,942 as compared to $95,703 for November of last year. County Chairman Morris B. Leonard announced here today. Sales in the state for the month amounted to $2,974,403. A year ago they totaled $2,285,129, the county chairman continued.

Each citizen who saves through the purchase of United States savings bonds adds to his city's 'good business insurance,' the county chairman said. 'He is helping to keep his country strong and at the same time is providing for his own future security.'

Communications at SAGE Center Due

Albany, Ore. - (UPI) - A new force of 90 Western Electric employees will move into Camp Adair next week to start installing the complex communications equipment at the Air Force's SAGE project. H. J. Albrich, district manager for Pacific Telephone Co., said the crew will put into operation the elaborate telephone system to be used in the SAGE direction center. The direction center is the heart of the SAGE project that uses electronic brains in its air defense warning system.
