

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MAN BACK FROM the Florida gold coast says the tipping nuisance there has reached an all-time high. He phoned downstairs for a deck of cards on one occasion and the bellboy delivered them in 52 separate trips—one card at a time!

Mr. Cammibert had one wife and one race horse, and both of them took sick at the same time. He ordered medicine for both at his druggist's, warning that gentleman, "Don't you go getting those prescriptions mixed, now. My horse is entered in a big race next week, and I don't want anything to happen to him."

Complainant in a police court, demanded that a belligerent neighbor be arrested. "Describe him," demanded the police officer. "Has he got a mustache?" "I'm not sure," admitted the complainant. "If he has one, he sure keeps it shaved off."

Egypt Denies Israel Report of Dogfight

Cairo—UPI—Official Egyptian sources deny an Israel report that a United Arab Republic fighter was shot down in a dogfight Saturday by an Israeli aircraft.

The sources accused Israel of "fabricating stories for local consumption in order to boost morale." Cairo newspapers said U.A.R. jets scared off four Israeli fighters.

Pioneer S.F. Financier Dies

San Francisco—UPI—James H. Schwabacher, pioneer San Francisco financier, died Sunday at his home. He was 77. Schwabacher, born here in 1881, was co-founder with his brother, Albert, of Schwabacher & Co. investment company and the Schwabacher-Frey stationery and printing firm. He was a director of the Crown-Zellerbach Corp., Roos Brothers company, Spring Canyon Co. and Royal Coal company. He was a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

A founder-director of the San Francisco Light Opera Company, Schwabacher was devoted to music, owning a valuable collection of recordings. He was also an art patron and supporter of numerous charities.

In addition to his brother Albert, he leaves his wife, Sophie Dinkelspiel Schwabacher; a son, James Schwabacher Jr.; a daughter, Marie Louise Rosenberg; and a granddaughter, Marily Rosenberg.

Private funeral services were being arranged.

Market Traders Not Too Eager To Take 1958 Stock Profits

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

New York—UPI—This is ordinary years is the time of year for the year-end rally of long tradition to gather momentum.

This is no ordinary year, and hence Wall Street experts are wondering just what the market will do.

It is no ordinary year because there has been only a minimum amount of tax loss selling—selling to establish losses for tax purposes. About the only real losers were the bears since nearly everything went up.

Traders haven't been too eager so far to take profits for 1958 because they apparently have enough of them rolled up to make their taxes big stuff.

But they may want to take profits for 1959. Starting on Dec. 24, the day before Christmas all long sales made to take profits will be assessed to the 1959 year for tax purposes. Tax losses for 1958 can be taken right up to last tick on Dec. 31.

For tax purposes, the revenue bureau holds that a sale of stock to register a capital gain must involve a delivery. The Stock Exchange rule on delivery says it must be made on the fourth business day following the day of contract. There are only three delivery days left after Dec. 24th—the 29th, 30th, and 31st.

A great many people want to take some profits in the 1959 tax year and they may elect to do some profit-taking starting on Wednesday.

That would seem to be a good day to do it, say the experts, since it is the day before a four-day market holiday when many will want to be out of the market anyhow.

The market is to be closed the Friday after Christmas but it will operate as usual the day after New Year's Day.

There could be some further investment of interest and dividends in the last few trading days of 1958 and if the total is high enough it could well offset the selling for tax purposes that might develop.

The surprise stock split of American Telephone & Telegraph, incidentally is focusing attention on other split candidates. That development already has occurred, lifting some high priced stocks sharply.

Split Candidates
Wall Street considers almost any stock selling above $100 a share as a split candidate.

When the Telephone shares are brought out to provide for the split up, the total of shares listed will soar well above the five billion mark. That figure may be attained even before the new Telephone stock is listed.

Incidentally the outstanding shares of American Telephone currently are valued at around $15,800,000,000. That is a figure larger than the value of all shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange on July 1, 1932.

On July 1, 1932, there were 631 companies with 1,253 stock issues listed. These comprised 1,315,172,584 shares valued at $15,633,479,577. That figure was the low of the depression and it represented a decline of around $74 billion from the all-time high to that time set on Sept. 3, 1929.
