

Pope Announces Reduced Kneeling

Vatican City — Pope John XXIII said last night he has asked his aides to kneel before him only twice a day instead of every time they appear before him.

The modest, farm-born pontiff told an audience of 800 pilgrims that it was a "humiliation" for himself that people should kneel before him at all.

"Since I was elected to the papacy my life has been rich with consolations and humiliations," he said. "One of the humiliations is to see every one kneel before me because of the heritage of St. Peter."

"So I have agreed with the persons close to me that they should kneel down only twice a day, in the morning and evening, and that's all."

When five bishops and several priests attending the audience knelt for an official photograph with the pope, he cried out cheerfully, "No, No. No. Stand up."
