

Pianist Cancels Tour for Tooth

Tucson, Ariz. —UPI— Pianist Van Cliburn said today he has canceled his concerts for the next 12 days because of a toothache.

"I love playing, but I don't think the audience would enjoy it if I'm sitting there wracked with pain," the popular young pianist said.

"And my powers of concentration would not be as good," Cliburn, who said he had been bothered in the past four months by his teeth but has not had time to go to a dentist because of his heavy concert schedule, cancelled concerts set for San Antonio, Tex., Saturday; Atlanta, Jan. 13; Birmingham, Jan. 17, and Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 20.

St. Louis Police Seek Sex Slayer

St. Louis, Mo. —UPI—Police today sought a sex sadist in the slaying of a young mother whose husband gave her a "night off" to attend a sorority party while he babysat.

The body of Mrs. Charles E. Montague, 32, was found in the back seat of her car Wednesday. The car was parked in front of the home where Mrs. Montague, a former student at Washington University School of Journalism, had attended the party Tuesday night.

Montague, 34, told the authorities he had dozed off while sitting with their two children, Charles, 10, and Linda, 9, and became alarmed when he awoke at 2:15 a.m. Wednesday and discovered his wife had not returned from the party.

A search was organized and Mrs. Montague's mutilated corpse was found hours later by her brother, Donald Jones.

Officials from the coroner's office said Mrs. Montague, a social worker, apparently had been strangled either with a chain or rope.

The slaying occurred while police were investigating another college-connected murder, St. Louis' second in less than a month.

James Bullock, a night student at St. Louis University, was found shot to death and run over by a car outside the city art museum several weeks ago.

Bullock's pretty wife, a kindergarten teacher, and her former husband have both refused to take lie detector tests in the case.

OBESITY AND GLANDS

A woman writes to say that she has been rapidly gaining weight, and now she is decidedly too fat. She is angry, because when she went to her doctor, expecting him to find some serious disease of her glands of internal secretion, he laughed at her and handed out a diet sheet. She became outraged at him.

I sympathize with both of them. I know that thousands of women, when they start getting fat, insist that the trouble must be in their glands. They expect a gland specialist to cure them without any great effort on their part. Then it is bitterly disappointing when the doctor says, "No; you show no sign of defective glands; all you have is too good an appetite and a tendency to get fat like your parents."

For years, I used to watch fat women come into the Mayo Clinic by the hundreds and thousands. They asked to be sent to the "glands" department where they hoped to be cured with a little thyroid, or

State High Court Reverses Verdict

Salem —UPI— The Oregon Supreme Court Wednesday reversed a directed verdict in favor of William F. Mathis in an action involving fire damage to the Yamhill county courthouse at McMinnville.

A new trial was ordered. The fire occurred when hot liquid asphalt was being applied to the roof by Mathis and it ignited and set the roof afire.

The court said that whether or not the defendant was negligent in overheating and applying the overheated asphalt to the roof was a question of fact to be determined by the jury as was also the question as to whether or not the defendant had taken reasonable precautions to avoid a fire.

Appealing the case were the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance company, the National Ben Franklin Insurance company, Fireman's Insurance company and the Northwestern Mutual Fire association.

In an action brought by Medford attorney Stanley C. Jones to recover a fee, a judgment in his favor by the trial court was affirmed.

The judgment amounted to $1,333. The case was appealed by Milo V. Kubalek.
