Stocks Rise to Record Highs In First Full Week of Trading

By ELMER C. WALZER, UPI Financial Editor

New York - (UPI) - Stocks rose to new record highs in the first full week of 1959 in the most active trading since the Thanksgiving week.

The industrial average closed at 592.72—a new record high, up 5.13 points on the week and at 98.76 per cent of the 600 level. In other words, it has only to rise 1.24 per cent to make 600. That would mean a doubling of the average in 30 years. It closed at 592.72 on Dec. 31, 1928.

At 592.72, industrials are 1.338 per cent above the low of 41.22 set on July 8, 1932, the bottom of the Great Depression. Rails are 1.136 per cent above their low on that day which was a mere 13.23.

Rails closed this week at 163.58, up 3.86 points and a new high since Aug. 20, 1956. Utilities closed at 91.77, up 0.55 points and a new high since June 30, 1930. The composite average set a new record at 206.27, up 2.36 points on the week.

Foreign developments brought out no untoward incidents and the market completely ignored the new Soviet planet rotating around the sun.

The market rose on Monday and Tuesday by small amounts. The Tuesday rise was the seventh in a row and these seven sessions added $11 billion to the value of all listed shares.

a vengeance on Wednesday. It knocked industrials down 8.22 points and other groups correspondingly. The decline attracted investors who seemed to have barrels of money to buy common stocks.

By the close Friday all the Wednesday loss was recovered and more.

This week's market was a real contrast with the first one of 1958. In that week sales averaged only 2,230,680 shares daily. Prices declined with the industrial average finishing off 5.88 points and rails off 3.37.

This week's sales totaled 20,837,601 shares and averaged 4,167,520 shares daily. If the 1959 daily average is kept up the sales for the year will cross the billion-share mark, a level hit only in 1929.

Holmes Suggests Reorganization Under Hatfield

Aside from taxes, the governor recommended that Mark Hatfield be given the power to reorganize state government along more economical lines. This reorganization would be subject to veto by the Legislature.

He was also keen for a constitutional convention to re-write Oregon's lengthy constitution—a measure also favored by Gov-Elect Hatfield.

He reiterated his feeling that the board of control should be abolished and replaced by a department of institutions that would run Oregon institutions. Its head would be a appointed by the governor.

More funds were needed for health education and welfare he said.

The governor noted that his suggested budget would take up the state's 30 million dollar surplus, other tax funds collected this biennium instead of next and, allowing for normal growth factors, might place the state in the position of needing more than 70 million dollars in new revenue to run the state from 1961 to 63.

But he defended his Spartan budget "in order to keep faith with the voter's expression at the polls."

Holmes also asked for "whatever is necessary" from the Legislature to make Oregon's Centennial celebration a success.

"With between 6 and 10 million visitors coming to Oregon during this historic year, it is of paramount importance that we provide whatever is necessary to make the Centennial worthy of our history, heritage and our potential for the future," he said.

Gas Price War on In Portland Area

Portland - (UPI) - The gasoline price war continued yesterday in the Portland area with conflicting reports on the overall pattern of the battle.

A spokesman for the Oregon Gasoline Dealers association said the war is on "full blast" with the regular gas selling for 23.9 cents a gallon. The association represents independent dealers.

A spokesman for a major oil company said the market was "fluctuating" with gas selling at 28.9 at a "majority of stations."

The dealers association said that major companies were expected to abandon their attempts to boost the price to 28.9 cents by decreasing subsidies to dealers. The OGDA is against any increase in which additional money would go only to the oil companies.

Centennial Group Signs for Shows

Portland - (UPI) - The Oregon Centennial commission announced Friday it had signed an entertainment contract with the Music Corporation of America to provide entertainment highlighting the Centennial Exposition and International Trade Fair here beginning next June.

The contract, which gives MCA exclusive rights to furnish major attractions for 13 weeks of shows in the Centennial building, allows the firm a 10 per cent fee on gross revenues from talent supplied by it.

Local entertainment brokers vigorously opposed the contract and maintained they should be entitled to book the Centennial shows.

Centennial Commissioner C. Howard Lane of Portland said local agents would have the right to book members of a pit orchestra as well as entertainment outside the main arena at the Centennial building. He said this would include a water show on the Columbia River slough.

Libson, Portugal - (UPI) - Mme. Madeleine Horthy, 77, widow of Admiral Nicholas Horthy of Hungary, died Friday in the British hospital. Her husband, regent of Hungary from 1920 to 1944, died here in exile in 1957 at the age of 89.
