Cuban Mechanic Describes Scene At Execution of Batista Followers

Editor's Note: Luis de Cabo Garcia, 23, a mechanic for Auto-buses Modelo A Santiago, a bus company in the Cuban provincial capital of Santiago in eastern Cuba, was one of the few civilians who witnessed the mass execution Monday of 71 "war criminals" by Fidel Castro men. His account, obtained by UPI Correspondent Charles Schuman, follows.

By LUIS DE CABO GARCIA Written for UPI

Santiago De Cuba—UPI—The firing squad rang out all morning and I heard an officer say, "Let's get this over with quick; I have a pain in my soul."

I felt the same way. I knew these men were murderers and deserved to be shot, but I couldn't help shuddering and identifying myself with them as every volley sounded.

It began for me early Monday morning when I was in the garage working on a motor. Army headquarters telephoned to send a bus to La Carcel de Boniato prison. There was no bus driver around so I went myself.

At La Carcel, 12 of the convicted ones, their hands tied in front of them with rope, were waiting. Six July 26th rebel guards were with them.

Climb Into Bus

They climbed into the bus, and I was told to go to the city jail where I picked up 11 more prisoners. Then one guard told me to drive to El Campo de Tiro, a firing range near San Juan Hill.

I knew what was up. It was common talk in town during the past few days that there would be executions.

Dawn was beginning to break as we arrived at the range. A volley of shots broke out as we stopped, and my passengers, who had been chatting en route, suddenly became silent.

They were ordered to de-bark and they got off, awkwardly, their bound hands somewhat of a hindrance. They broke up into little groups of three, four and five.

There were two buses and an army truck parked to one side when I got there. Mine was the last load. Later, I learned that shootings had begun at 4 a.m. When I got there it was about 5:30 and one of the July 26th officers told me 22 had already been shot.

Some Prisoners Crying

I looked at the clusters of prisoners. Some were crying, some chatting; some nervously shifting their feet; some silent.

An army officer beckoned, and two prisoners advanced to a large trench at the end of the range. They stood in front of the trench as the firing squad got ready. An officer gave the word and six shots rang out.

The two bodies fell back into the grave, and a lieutenant peered in, pistol in hand, ready to give the coup de grace, if necessary.

I didn't feel well.

Two more prisoners moved up to their grave. Again, six shots rang out and their bodies toppled back. Then two more and two more.

About 10 to 15 minutes separated each execution. A priest accompanied each pair

Stewart Granger Tells Jewel Theft

Los Angeles—UPI—The theft of $6,898 in jewelry has been reported from the penthouse apartment of actor Stewart Granger and his wife Jean Simmons.

An insurance adjuster filed the report with police Wednesday, stating that Granger and his actress-wife first noticed the jewelry missing Dec. 22 when they returned to their apartment her after a four-month absence.

of prisoners on the last march.

Dies Like Hero I saw one man, Lt. Despaig-ne, chief of army prowl cars in Santiago and a well-known murderer, go to his death like a hero. He was convicted of having killed 31 persons and I'm sure he killed many more. Everyone in Santiago hated and feared him.

He was a regular army man. He asked permission to direct his own execution and it was granted. He was the only man who went alone; all the others were in pairs.

He marched to the grave, faced the firing squad, called

Ike Urged To Air Trip Possibility

Washington—UPI—Sen. Estes Kefauver suggests that President Eisenhower talk to Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan about a visit to Russia by Vice President Richard M. Nixon or former President Harry Truman.

The Tennessee Democrat made his suggestion in a letter to the President. Kefauver said he understood Nixon and Mikoyan had some discussion about a return visit and urged the President to pursue the subject when he meets the Soviet official on Saturday. He added that "I think that such a visit by former President Truman would be very helpful."

HURRIED EXIT

Mathison, Miss.—UPI—Officers found an elaborate set of burglary equipment, including two acetylene tanks and a cutting torch, in a local bank Wednesday. Investigators said a burglar apparently suffered a severe cut when he broke a glass panel to open the door and had to leave hurriedly to seek first aid.

"Attention! Ready! Aim! Fire!" and fell dead into the grave.

When it was all over I had to drive some soldiers to town, then I put the bus away and went home. I had been up all night.

Mother wanted to feed me but I couldn't eat. I went to bed but couldn't sleep. I kept hearing shots.

Jewish Association Protests Plans

London—UPI—The Anglo-Jewish Association sent a note to Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik protesting reported plans to resettle Jews in Soviet Birobidjan.

The note said "Jews constitute only one-fifth of the population of this so-called autonomous Jewish region in which almost all expressions of Jewish cultural life, such as schools, theaters and publishing houses, have been suppressed."
