

Concert Announced In Portland

Portland — Leon Fleisher, 30-year-old, California-born concert pianist, will be guest soloist with the Portland Symphony orchestra January 26. Theodore Bloomfield will conduct.

Fleisher, one of the first artists to receive an official invitation to represent the U. S. in a recital at the Brussels World's fair, made his orchestral debut in 1943 with the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteux. A year later Monteux presented him as soloist with the New York Philharmonic. His success was instantaneous on both coasts, and he is established as a welcome and regular visitor to virtually every music center in the western world.

Early in December he returned to this country from a European tour which included a performance in Paris on November 9 with the Orchestre du Conservatoire the "Variations on a Theme of Paganini" by Rachmaninoff. This is one of the works he will play with the Portland Symphony, the other being Beethoven's Second Piano concerto.

The orchestra will open the program with Prokofiev's "Classical Symphony" and close with two pieces from Albeniz' "Iberia"—the "Fete Dieu a Seville" and "Triana."

Tickets for all symphony concerts are on sale at J. K. Gill box office beginning Thursday prior to each concert or may be placed in advance by writing the symphony office in the Park Building.

Broiled Chicken, Lemon Herb Sauce

Here's a new way to serve that favorite pair, Chicken and Rice. As the chicken broils, it's basted with a special lemon herb sauce. The wonderful sauce and the chicken are served over rice made fancy with pimiento-stuffed green olives.

INGREDIENTS:
1, ready-to-cook young chicken, 2½ to 3½ lbs., cut up
¼ cup melted margarine or butter
1 small clove garlic, minced
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
¼ teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
¼ to 1/3 cup sliced stuffed green olives

METHOD: Cut the chicken into serving pieces. Rinse in cold water. Drain.
Pre-heat broiler. Melt margarine or butter in a small saucepan. Add the garlic, 1½ teaspoons salt, thyme, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, poultry seasoning, paprika and lemon juice.

Place the chicken (skin side down) in the broiler pan from which it will be easy to pour the lemon sauce after the chicken broils. Spoon some of the sauce over the chicken. Broil. When brown on one side, turn so skin side is up. Baste with sauce. Allow 40 to 50 minutes for the chicken to cook. About 25 minutes before the chicken is done, put the rice, water, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon black pepper in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on at least 10 minutes. Fold in the olives.

To serve, place chicken over the rice. Pour on lemon sauce or serve in a separate dish. This recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

One-Bedroom Homes Said Popular

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International
Chicago—(UPI)—The demand for new homes is so widespread here that a builder offered one-bedroom homes for sale at $20,000.

They were snapped up as quickly as they were completed, he said.

Irvin A. Bliez, who has developed residential areas along Chicago's fashionable North Shore for more than 30 years, believes his one-bedroom homes are the only housing of their type in the country.

The market is limited but constant, he said, and every community in the country could use such homes.

Bliez's row of flat-roofed one-bedroom homes are located in suburban Evanston, near public transportation and close to shopping areas. Each dwelling was built on a lot 25 feet wide and 118 feet deep. The homes are 19 feet wide and 34 feet long, with a patio in the rear and with a front yard.

The builder believes the homes are ideally suited for their owners—mostly widows and widowers, bachelors, career women, and elderly couples.

The single bedroom, 12-by-13 feet, has a closet across the width of the room and opens onto a small bathroom. A hallway along the side of the house leads to an L-shaped living room with a thermopane sliding window wall opening onto a miniature back yard.

Louvered doors open on a table-high counter separating the living room from the rectangular kitchen.

Bliez said the houses are not expensive. Most often they are bought by persons who have sold larger hard-to-maintain homes but who do not want to live in apartments. For persons who can afford a down payment of about $5,000, the monthly payments would amount to approximately $70 to $75.

"Widows have about 80 per cent of the wealth of the country, and they still want to live well after they sell their big homes," he said.

Bliez estimated that a $30,000 home in this area could be duplicated for $18,000 at San Antonio, Tex., and said that even around New York and Cleveland, O.—once considered expensive—homes are not so high.

But the workmanship is superior, he said, even in the lowest priced homes, and owners have been forced to sell at a loss.

Tips on Corduroy Care
New Brunswick, N.J.—Corduroy comes made up in all types of clothes, but many housewives do not know how to care for the fabric.

Mrs. Florence G. Minifie, extension clothing specialist at Rutgers university, gives these suggestions.

Wash corduroy by hand with any mild soap or soapless detergent and warm water. Squeeze the water lightly through the fabric, rinse until the water comes clear, and avoid soaking, wringing, twisting or crushing the fabric. Never put the corduroy through a wringer because it will set wrinkles.

Fair Sex Takes Trimming In Matter of Pay Checks

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press International
Washington—(UPI)—In spite of the growing number of states with equal-pay laws for women, the fair sex still takes a trimming in pay checks, compared with males holding similar jobs.

A Labor Department report showed that women clerical workers, who make up 30 per cent of all women workers, came closest to matching males in salaries. But the ladies' median earnings were only about three-fourths that of pay received by men in the same occupational category.

Women sales workers, seven per cent of all women workers, were at the bottom of the ladder in the job-pay comparison, earning only about two-fifths as much as men in similar jobs.

The study, based in part on intensive surveys conducted in 1956, also showed that while education is an important determinant of income for both men and women, men amount of education as ex-codes came off better in post-school salaries.

For example, the median income for women with four or more years of college and full-time jobs was $3,809, compared with $6,980 for men of comparable schooling and working full-time.

The Labor Department booklet notes that many women are concentrated in traditionally low-paying occupations and relatively low wage industries. When men and women have similar jobs, women are usually in the lower-pay brackets.

"Since many women leave the labor force for marriage and family reasons, and return when their responsibilities decrease, they often lack job seniority and work experience needed to qualify them for advancement," the booklet said.

Figures on women in the federal government seem to bear this out.

"Of 533,802 women working for the government—25 per cent of all federal employees—85 per cent ranked in grades 5 and below, and less than three per cent in grades 12 and above.

The average length of service was 11.3 years for men and 7.6 for women. Employees with less than five years of service included 41 per cent of the women and 16 per cent of the men.

Michigan and Montana adopted equal pay laws in 1919, but were alone in the field for nearly 25 years until World War II. California and Nebraska took the step in 1957 and brought the roster to its present number—17 states.

But the Labor Department reports that women "consistently" have lower average earnings than men in each of the major retail trade groups.

The greatest difference is in department stores, where women average $1.15 an hour and men $1.74; and in drug stores, where women average 95 cents and men, $1.54.

Some consolation, however, is offered by the report of a New York Stock Exchange survey. The survey noted that almost 52 per cent of the individual shareholders of publicly-owned corporations were women—underpaid or not.

Corning Offers New Oven Ware

New York—(UPI)—Cook-and-serve ceramic dishes with the strength of a missile nose cone will be shot into freezer-stove-table orbit with no pauses for thawing.

Corning Glass Works introduced the new pyroceram-ware in a demonstration here. The remarkable super-strength products are made from material developed originally for guided missile radomes. The heat-resistant white ceramic is guaranteed unconditionally against damage from temperature changes, no matter how abrupt.

Dishes may be taken from a freezer and put immediately into a hot oven or an open flame without risk of breakage, the manufacturer said. Or they may be taken from heat and plunged directly into ice water.

The dishes are described as non-porous so that they will clean as easily as china. The blue cornflower pattern is part of the material, and will not scratch or burn off.

The new line of cookware was launched with a 10-inch square skillet and 3 saucepans, in 1 quart, 1½ quart and 1½ quart sizes. All have glass covers, detachable handles and metal cradles for table service.

Make vegetables more interesting by topping them with a seasoned butter sauce, grated cheese, sauteed mushrooms or nuts.
